THE INTERNATIONAL FRATERNITY OF DELTA SIGMA PI

Founded at New York University, School of Commerce, Accounts and Finance, on November 7, 1907, by Alexander F. Makay, Alfred Moysello, Harold V. Jacobs and H. Albert Tienken.

A fraternity organized to foster the study of business in universities; to encourage scholarship and the association of students for their mutual advancement by research and practice; to promote closer affiliation between the commercial world and students of commerce, and to further a high standard of commercial ethics and culture, and the civic and commercial welfare of the community.

The Editor's Foreword

NEVER BEFORE in the history of the fraternity has there been such general interest displayed in our Grand Chapter Congress as there is in the one to be held in Philadelphia the first week of September. Nothing short of a war or the country going to the bow-wows will stop an all-time record of attendance. Almost every chapter, regardless of its geographical location, will send at least one automobile filled with members convention bound; several chapters already have two and three carloads signed up. Scores of alumni and undergraduates residing along the Atlantic coast will be on hand and the committee hopes that the registration will approach the 500 mark. It will easily surpass the Chicago record of 309 made in 1933.

ACTIVITY GALORE awaits the visiting member. And by all means bring the ladies for a fine program is being prepared for their enjoyment. Several interesting sightseeing trips of great historic interest are being planned. There will be a tour of Philadelphia and a cruise around the harbor. Experienced wives of our Philadelphia members will escort the ladies on shopping tours. There will be a trip to Atlantic City, the perfect place to relax after a strenuous week in Philadelphia. A committee will provide dates for the Dinner Dance for any out-of-town member desiring same.

SO THERE APPEARS to be no reason why you shouldn't attend the Thirteenth Grand Chapter Congress of Delta Sigma Pi next September and join the hundreds of Deltasigs who will be there in several days of inspirational and most enjoyable activity. Friday, September 8 will be Delta Sigma Pi Day at the New York World's Fair. A special program will be prepared and there will be a large gathering of Deltasigs that evening in the Fair grounds.

HOTEL RESERVATIONS for Philadelphia should be made as early in advance as possible and through the Central Office of the fraternity. Definite room assignments will be made in advance and the committee cannot guarantee to have all classes of accommodations available for those arriving without advance reservations. This is important. The Central Office will release special literature during the summer months about the Grand Chapter Congress so if you are planning on attending let the Central Office know now and you will be mailed all such literature as may be published.

THE CENTRAL OFFICE will be closed the first week of September as the entire staff will be in Philadelphia in attendance at the Thirteenth Grand Chapter Congress of Delta Sigma Pi.

IN GENERAL the fraternity has enjoyed a most successful year. Only three chapters have a major problem confronting them. I have visited about 30 chapters this year and enthusiasm and interest has never been at a higher level. This is indeed gratifying, and with the inspiration which will be engendered by our coming convention to the hundreds of delegates and members present, the coming year looks most promising.—H. G. WRIGHT

HAVE YOU NOTICED THE UNUSUAL activity of the majority of our chapters this winter and spring? This is of course summarized in the figures of the Chapter Efficiency Contest. But one does not have to wait until these figures appear to realize that the undergraduate members of Delta Sigma Pi are indeed active, that they are using the fraternity as an important means of living a fuller college life, and at the same time are storing up experiences, and developing friendships and contacts that will mean much to them each year for the balance of their lives. One of my keenest delights would be to be able to personally attend, or have a member of the Grand Council attend, every event our chapters are holding this year. This of course is impossible because of geography.

However, it is possible to "get the feel" of our chapter events and to a degree live them through with the members. Every chapter news-letter that comes over my desk carries a calendar of future events that is a fresh reminder of the vitality, life and ambitions of our groups on nearly three score campuses. Some calendars show as many as nine or ten events a month during the college year. Meetings, where our young men are getting their experiences with groups and developing valuable traits of leadership. Rush smokers and other informal parties. Initiations and initiation banquets where extreme formalities must be carried out. House dances, and the eagerly looked-forward-to swank formal dances; professional meetings and inspection trips; basketball, baseball, swimming and other competitions. And have you particularly noticed the trips being taken this year?

What event could be more enjoyable and beneficial than the recent week-end trip when many visiting Deltasigs descended upon our Alpha Zeta chapter at the University of Tennessee? The picnics at Kappa Lodge are becoming legion in Delta Sigma Pi, and so is the annual event of Philadelphia Deltasigs at Camden, New Jersey, which will occur this year as this goes to press, and to which members from many eastern centers arrive. And who didn't envy our University of Texas members that picnic held some miles out of Austin? I did, and especially so because it was snowing hard when I got a report of it.

Professional speakers this year seem to be of a very high order. Faculties and alumni have cooperated to a gratifying extent, and many men of prominence have spoken at our meetings.

I want to especially congratulate, and extend my best wishes to the members who graduate this year. You are better prepared because of your fraternity activities in both tangible and intangible matters. As long as you live you will have your fraternity with you and many will be the times you will be glad to feel the warmth of a brother's handshake. Affiliate with an alumni club promptly and continue developing that business leadership and ability so necessary these days.

And to all Deltasigs everywhere. Everything is ready for you at Philadelphia in September. The Thirteenth Grand Chapter Congress is going to include many new features for your enjoyment. What a grand time we will all have! The greatest gathering of Deltasigs on record will be there. My personal invitation to be one of this grand, glorious gang is extended to you, and you and especially to you.

Philadelphia—Next September

ALMOST FOUR MONTHS intervene before the official opening of the Thirteenth Grand Chapter Congress of Delta Sigma Pi. After months of effort all plans have been formulated and many already executed. Everything is set and the General Committee is "rarin' to go." All we need is your presence in Philadelphia the first week in September and this would please us immensely for we assure you a sincere Delta Sigma Pi welcome and we know that you will have a wonderful time that week.

At the outset of this summation of our activities I feel it only fitting and proper to pay tribute to and thank the many members of the General Committee. In my many years of activity in Delta Sigma Pi and in other organizations it has never before been my privilege to head so fine a group of workers as this committee has proved themselves to be. Every man knows his job and there has been no shirking. To select individuals for praise would be impossible and unfair. Yet I know every one of the General Committee workers join with me in a salute to Palmer Lippincott who as Vice-Chairman in charge of administration has been outstanding and his fertile brain conceived many of the finer points which we hope will serve to make this Congress an outstanding one.

All conventions must have a beginning and an end, and the bigger and better the beginning the more interesting can the intervening days be made and the happier the climax. The conception of the Opening Banquet that is in the minds of your committee is that of dignified good fellowship. The Stag Dinner and Party and the Dinner Dance are essentially parties and no particular publicity is needed for these events. They are purely fraternity affairs for fraternity consumption only!

The Opening Banquet is likewise only for fraternity members. But in a broader sense this event is Delta Sigma Pi on parade. Through it we hope to put the world of commerce on notice that Delta Sigma Pi is in session at a Grand Chapter Congress. And we hope to leave no doubt in the mind of the world of commerce as to the standing of Delta Sigma Pi. To some extent this will be but repetition. The great work of Gene Milener, Gig Wright, Ed Schujahn, Herm Walther, Frank McGoldrick, J. Buford Edgar, Rudie Schmidt and many others over the years place Delta Sigma Pi foremost in the world of commerce. Yet by driving the old story home once more we hope to accomplish a truly helpful effort toward greater appreciation of the fundamental principles of Delta Sigma Pi.

A formal initiation will be held late Tuesday afternoon, September 5 at which will be initiated the first honorary member-at-large of Delta Sigma Pi. We cannot divulge his identity at this time but please be assured that he is one of the outstanding business men of the country. A special ritual team composed of alumni members will put on a dramatization of our beautiful ritual in a manner that will give all of you members a real thrill. We want you to be there. Following this initiation there will be an informal reception

Thirteenth Grand Chapter Congress of Delta Sigma Pi

A Statement of the Platform upon Which Your General
Committee Has Been Building

FRED W. FLOYD, Beta Nu
General Chairman

1. It is our task to put over the finest and most successful Grand Chapter Congress in the history of the fraternity. This is an ambitious aim but, nevertheless, it is what we aspire to do.
2. It is our purpose to accomplish the greatest benefit possible for the fraternity as a whole, and for the individual chapters and alumni clubs that comprise it. We also want to publicize Delta Sigma Pi as much as possible on the many college campuses, although in a dignified yet forceful manner.
3. The host chapters, Omega, Beta Nu, and Beta Xi, should benefit for years to come as the result of an outstanding Congress held in Philadelphia in 1939. Their local problems should be lessened and their position, both publicly and on their respective campuses, be strengthened by a good job done through this Congress. (Our only selfish plank—yet, logically, the host chapters always benefit from such activity as a Grand Chapter Congress.)
4. The individual members, especially those who are now undergraduates, must see, learn and fully appreciate what a large professional commerce fraternity such as Delta Sigma Pi really means and what it can and will do for them individually. The Opening Banquet for example will truly be an outstanding example of "Delta Sigma Pi in Action." Every Deltasig in the country should be present at this occasion.

We hope you will read the article about the coming Thirteenth Grand Chapter Congress in this issue of the DELTASIG. You will then more fully appreciate that the committee is building for you and for Delta Sigma Pi. All we ask of you is to attend. We would like to have your registration now, and your presence in Philadelphia at the Hotel Warwick on September 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8, 1939.

FREDERICK W. FLOYD, General Chairman

and then the Grand Chapter Congress Opening Banquet will begin.

Among our speakers for this banquet will be none other than Philip A. Benson, a member of our Alpha Chapter and now President of the American Bankers Association. Brother Benson commands wide publicity whenever he speaks and his speech of last September when he was elected President of the American Bankers Association at their annual convention held in Houston, Texas, was widely quoted in the press throughout the country because of its fundamentally sound economic principles.

Our honorary member-at-large will also speak at this banquet as will other fraternity dignitaries. Grand President Eugene D. Milener will present his address of welcome and will introduce the Grand Officers present. We expect to have several past Grand Officers on hand. Grand Secretary-Treasurer H. G. Wright will present the delegates and delegations from all over the country and we expect an all-time record breaking official registration. Steps are being taken to have many members present who have been members of Delta Sigma Pi for 20 years or more. Large delegations will travel to Philadelphia from New York, Newark, Baltimore and Washington to attend this banquet. It is quite possible it will be broadcast.

H. PALMER LIPPINCOTT
Vice-Chairman

The routine program of the business sessions will commence Wednesday morning and will continue through Thursday afternoon. Little need be said about the Stag Dinner and Party on Wednesday evening and the Dinner Dance on Thursday evening. The Philadelphia members are earnestly striving to make these traditional social events outstanding in every respect. A fine program of entertainment is being booked for the Stag Party and we will have an excellent orchestra for the Dinner Dance. The committee will provide dates for out-of-town members. The traditional Diamond Badge Drawing will take place at the Dinner Dance.

All of these events have been priced reasonably and are well within the means of all. The registration fee will be $2. It has been the custom of Delta Sigma Pi to prepare a budget of the many convention activities aside from lodging and meals and to divide the cost equally among all those participating in the form of a registration fee which provides an adequate working fund to defray the overhead of the meeting and the cost of the entertainment activities. The committee has prepared a most conservative budget based upon an estimated number of registrations. We do not want to have a deficit and your registration in advance will greatly assist the committee in adequately planning for your comfort and entertainment in Philadelphia next September. Over 100 members from all over the country have already paid this $2 registration fee and received their registration cards. We would like to have some idea as to the number of out-of-town members who will be present and we fraternally urge you to forward your remittance for $2 and secure your registration card now from the Central Office of the fraternity in Chicago or from the General Committee in Philadelphia. A number of plans for your enjoyment must be held in abeyance until we know the approximate number who will be present from out-of-town.

- DELTA SIGMA PI DAY at the New York World's Fair
- 6:30 P.M. Reception and Dinner at some restaurant on the World's Fair ground to be announced later

The payment of this small registration fee and your registration in Philadelphia will entitle you to a souvenir badge, the convention daily newspaper, a ticket on the all-diamond badge drawing and spe-

Dinner Dance on Thursday evening. The ladies have a lot of fun at our convention, so you had better plan on bringing your wife, sister, or mother with you.

It seems unnecessary to urge anyone to attend a Grand Chapter Congress. If you have never attended the anticipation of a new experience is sufficient to bring you. And if you have ever been to a Grand Chapter Congress the desire to meet old friends and to meet new ones and to participate again in the progress of the fraternity is reason enough for your return. At this convention Delta Sigma Pi will offer you four days of inspirational living, an opportunity to make new friends and to renew old ones, and a wonderful time. Can you afford to miss it?

Beta Chapter Celebrates Silver Anniversary

ON FEBRUARY 7, 1914, thirteen students in the Northwestern University School of Commerce in Chicago were initiated as the charter members of Beta Chapter of Delta Sigma Pi. This group had been organized in 1911 as a local commerce fraternity at Northwestern. On February 11, 1939, twenty-five years later almost to the exact day 157 members of Beta Chapter gathered around the banquet table to celebrate the Silver Anniversary of the second chapter of Delta Sigma Pi.

42 CEDAR STREET
Chicago

The record of Beta Chapter at the School of Commerce of Northwestern University has indeed been a brilliant one. Space will not permit more than casual mention of some of the interesting facts. During the 25 years of operation Beta Chapter has initiated 513 members. Six of the original charter members were present at the Silver Anniversary Banquet. The chapter and its undergraduate and alumni members have enthusiastically supported every project of the School of Commerce and of Northwestern University during this period. Members of Beta Chapter have taken a prominent part in every important School of Commerce activity. Betamen headed important committees to raise funds to erect Wieboldt Hall, the present home of the School of Commerce. Betamen have served as president of the Northwestern University Alumni Association and of the all-important Northwestern Club of Chicago. Betamen have served as Foundation representatives. Betamen have served on the Board of Trustees of Northwestern University. A Betaman has been president of Northwestern University for 19 years during which time close to $50,000,000 has been secured for various endowment funds of the university. Many of the faculty members and department heads are Betamen. A Betaman is director of the summer session at Evanston. Another Betaman is dean of University College. Another Betaman is assistant dean of the School of Commerce.

Members of Beta Chapter have held the presidency of the Commerce Club 15 years out of the past 25. Betamen have been editor of Northwestern Commerce six times and business manager 10 times in 20 years. Of the 20 Delta Sigma Pi Scholarship Keys awarded at Northwestern University nine have been won by Betamen. Even in athletics Betamen have been prominent having won the Commerce Club All-Sports Trophy four times, more than any other fraternity. Delta Mu Delta, honorary scholarship society, has elected 16 Betamen to membership. Betamen have held class offices too numerous to mention. Betamen have been editors of the Syllabus nine times and business manager 10 times in 25 years.

The first quarters occupied by Beta Chapter were rooms in an apartment at 1108 North Dearborn Street, Chicago, where they resided from September 25, 1916, to May 5, 1917. They then moved to a house at 58 East Elm Street remaining there until April 14, 1919 when they moved to a much larger house at 72 Cedar Street. They were at this location for over six years, until October 2, 1925, on which date they moved to their present location at 42 Cedar Street, Chicago, having purchased this property and furnished it at a cost of over $52,000.00.

Of particular interest to the members of Beta Chapter is the fact that the chapter published its first chapter publication, the Beta News, on August 27, 1917, and this publication has appeared weekly during the college year without interruption during all the intervening years. A total of 890 issues have appeared during that time.

The members of Beta Chapter have always been loyal and enthusiastic supporters of all of the national activities of Delta Sigma Pi. Large numbers of their members have attended national conventions and six of their members have served on the Grand Council of Delta Sigma Pi at one time or another. A Betaman has the longest continuous term of service on the Grand Council, Gig Wright having served as Grand President from February 1920 to September 1924 and as Grand Secretary-Treasurer from September 1924 to date. A total of 69 alumni of Beta Chapter are Life Members of Delta Sigma Pi.

So it was with a great deal of pride that Beta Chapter celebrated its Silver Anniversary—25 glorious years. Alumni returned from many distant cities to be present at the Silver Anniversary Banquet which was held at the Knickerbocker Hotel, Chicago, on Saturday evening, February 11, 1939. A special 116 page history of Beta Chapter and its records was published and officially distributed that evening. Scores of telegrams and letters were received from all over the country and two radio messages came from Beta alumni who were enjoying vacation cruises at that time. Alumni of the chapter unable to return to Chicago for this Silver Anniversary Banquet got together in several of the larger cities of the country where they are now located.

So the entire fraternity joins in saluting Beta Chapter and its many members. May their record during the coming 25 years be even more brilliant than the first quarter century.

Office of the President

May 4, 1939

I have just been informed that Delta Sigma Pi Fraternity is to have its Grand Chapter Congress in Philadelphia next September 5, 6 & 7.

Please be advised that we would be very happy to cooperate in any way that would aid in making the Congress a success; and we would appreciate a visit to our institution if possible. I am sure our own Omega Chapter will be willing to help so do not hesitate to call upon us if we can be of assistance at any time or in any way.

With the best of good wishes, I am,

Very sincerely yours,

Zeta Chapter, Northwestern University

HENRY SHULL
Zeta Chapter

HENRY SHULL, Zeta Chapter, Class of 1940, has turned his hobby of winning contests into a habit and as a result has won his entire college education. It all started a few years ago when his mother decided that someone had to win contests, and so she gave Henry a crayon-coloring contest that was offered in a local magazine. Henry wasn't too happy about the whole affair, as he was more interested in beating up the neighbors' kids, but he pulled out his colors and went to work. Mrs. Shull sent the drawing away and waited for results but nothing happened. This bothered Henry considerably though he didn't say a word. He entered more and more contests, working cross-word puzzles, coloring pictures, and writing jingles. For three years nothing happened and then in 1932, a pony came to the Shull home in exchange for a colored drawing for a Dallas newspaper contest.

In March, 1933, Henry received a bicycle as a result of a prize letter to the Open Road for Boys contest. By this time Henry had become a full fledged "contester" with complete files for box tops and studies of various companies' advertising. He used a definite system in entering contests, too, for he had learned contest technique from several Dallas people who had been taking courses on the subject. After finding a contest he would do nothing but keep it in mind for several days. Then, making a study of the advertising old and new the company had been using, he would do the job. This done, he would put the work away for several days to brew in the brine of the objective. When it had become completely so, he would look it over, revise it if necessary and then he would send it away after complying with the rules.

Henry didn't bank on mere words to win contests. In the Daisy Air Rifle contest of 1934, he set up targets in the back yard, making scientific studies of the rifle's reaction time, penetrability and accuracy. In September of that year Henry won the first prize of $100. With that incentive, he couldn't stop. Contest after contest was mailed from the Shull home and soon two trips to Mexico (value $500) led the way to hundreds of others. In 1935, Henry really went to town and by naming a star, coloring pictures and counting ice cubes, won $110 in cash, two refrigerators (one which he sold) a fountain pen set, and a shaving kit. Although he didn't star in quality in 1936, he upped his quantity considerably. From six prizes in 1935, he jumped to 15 in 1936, with a total value of nearly $500. These prizes included more refrigerators, laundry and cleaning services, the Boy's Life TWA Airplane trophy and the outboard motor used by Admiral Byrd while at the South Pole.

By 1937, though, Henry really hit his stride. With photos, limericks, puzzles, scrap books, letters and statements he won $1,833.55 in 14 prizes. With the resale money from his Packard prize he decided to come to Northwestern from Southern Methodist University where he was a sophomore.

When Henry Shull won his Packard (see picture herewith) and came to Northwestern on its sale, he became famous. He received publicity throughout the United States and with it many letters from contestants. He started answering them when they first came in, but soon he was snowed under. Then too, answers to letters that Henry received would have been difficult even for Dale Carnegie. Letters by the dozen seeking advice on contesting poured in. Letters assuming other tones than advice-seeking also were received. One woman told Henry that publicity was fatal as certain radio advertising agencies and sponsors kept a list of big winners and blacklisted them. Then of course, Henry was bothered with book agents who wanted to sell him books like 1001 Ways to Make Money. However, 20 year old Henry Shull, now an advertising junior in the school of Commerce has been quite fortunate in getting through school by the term paper technique for winning contests.

Lately, besides acting in the official capacity as publicity chairman for the Deltasigs, Henry has been devoting most of his spare time in entering the Elk's "Most Valuable Student" contest, with which he hopes to win a $600 scholarship to continue his advertising course at Northwestern. The writer, who happens to be Henry's room-mate, suffers a great deal from his two o'clock in the morning "contest hour." Such is the career started by Henry's mother, when she realized that somebody had to win contests.

With the ALUMNI

THE WORLD OVER

New York

THE NEW YORK ALUMNI CLUB had the pleasure of hearing John P. Madigan, an alumnus of Alpha Chapter, speak on "Bonds and Suretyship" at the regular monthly meeting held on April 11. We had a fine attendance and it was the consensus of opinion of those present that John certainly knows his stuff in addition to being a very interesting speaker. Our annual round-up dinner is scheduled for Tuesday, June 6 at the Downtown Athletic Club. John M. Hancock of Alpha Mu Chapter, who was a partner in the banking firm of Lehman Brothers, is to be the principal speaker and we are looking forward with keen anticipation to hearing him.

FREDERICK J. MCCARTHY
President, New York Alumni
Club

News items: Ken (Mike) Strong, All-American back and star of the professional league for many years, has been appointed backfield coach at Long Island University. . . . Al Rohrborg has just purchased a 77 acre farm. . . . Bill Dyke has consented to take a day off from collecting taxes for Uncle Sam to head up the committee sponsoring our annual golf tournament. . . . Frank Reddington is organizing a deep sea fishing expedition to start from Sheepshead Bay on Sunday, June 4.

The Alpha Chapter house will be open all summer and should prove to be a popular spot for visiting Deltasigs attending the New York World's Fair.

Philadelphia Ready for Grand Chapter Congress

AT THE APRIL 11 meeting of the Philadelphia Alumni Club President Bill Rohrer and the various committees completed the final arrangements for the Stag Banquet and Smoker to be held at the Walt Whitman Hotel, Camden, New Jersey, on Saturday afternoon and evening April 22, 1939. The first registrations received for the banquet and smoker were from Eugene D. Milener, Grand President and Mike Judge, raconteur of the Philadelphia Alumni Club. At this meeting a schedule of summer activities was planned—a deep sea fishing trip, a picnic with a ball game between active and alumni members, a week-end trip to the Pocono Mountains, and on Saturdays and Sundays golf matches.

One of the principal topics of conversation at all alumni affairs is the Grand Chapter Congress. From this publicity it is expected to have a very large representation of Deltasigs from the Middle Atlantic Province.

The Philadelphia Alumni Club gave Fred Floyd, Province Director, a rising vote of thanks for the prodigious labor and amount of time expended by him in planning ahead the work for the various Grand Chapter Congress Committees. Fred, in conjunction with Elroy Simons, Chairman of Outside Activities Committee, are arranging for bus trips to places of historic, industrial, and civic interest in and near Philadelphia for the visiting ladies attending the Grand Chapter Congress. A committee of ladies from the local chapters are to act as hostesses. Fred has delegated H. Palmer Lippincott, vice-chairman, to get in touch with all Deltasigs from other chapters now living in this vicinity with the object of having them participate in Philadelphia Alumni Club activities—get them to register and become rooters for the 1939 Grand Chapter Congress.

Deltasig members passing through Philadelphia in early September, even though not registered for the Grand Chapter Congress, are urged to communicate with William G. Rohrer, Jr., President, or John A. Dugan, Secretary of the Philadelphia Alumni Club with the view of participating in Delta Sigma Pi Day at the New York World's Fair, September 8, 1939. It is the earnest desire of the committee to have a very large attendance of members at the Fair on this day. The officials of the Fair plan to meet our delegation with a band, escort them to a pavilion where the honorable Grover Whalen will make the welcoming address.

We are looking forward to hearing our main Grand Chapter Congress speaker Philip H. Benson, Alpha Chapter, who is president of the American Bankers Association. Through the efforts of Fred Floyd and John Hanby, Chairman of the Publicity Committee, we hope to have Brother Benson's speech broadcast over one of our radio networks.—

SEVERAL BROTHERS are planning on attending the Philadelphia Grand Chapter Congress. . . . Joe Mayton, our club president, in addition to his work at the Social Security Board is teaching at Southeastern University. . . . Grosvenor Jones, director of the finance division, was among the chiefs of divisions of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce recently addressing the National Electrical Manufacturers Association. . . . Earl Nash is on the executive committee of the Community Chest of Washington. . . . Tom Groom is chairman of the program committee of the District Bankers Association meeting to be held at Hot Springs, Virginia in June. . . . Dr. Leo S. Rowe recently addressed a University of Pennsylvania assembly at Philadelphia. . . . John J. Corson, Director of the Bureau of Old Age Insurance of the Social Security Board, has an interesting article entitled "Insurance Against Old Age Dependency" in the March 1939 issue of the Annals of the American Academy of Political and Social Science. . . . A golf tournament is planned for the summer; golf fans in Washington, D.C., should communicate with Bill Heuser RE-1234, Ext. 298 or Basil Molseed DU-6419.—THOMAS F. LAVENDER

Twin Cities

THE TWIN CITIES ALUMNI CLUB on March 7 feted the actives and the charter members at a Fifteenth Anniversary Dinner in honor of the founding of Alpha Epsilon Chapter at the University of Minnesota. The dinner was held in Minneapolis at the Covered Wagon Café. Gig Wright, Grand Secretary-Treasurer, was the principal speaker. Len Engeman acted as master of ceremonies. The largest crowd ever to attend an alumni dinner, over 90 strong, assembled at the Covered Wagon to pay tribute to the founders of the Alpha Epsilon Chapter 15 years ago. Of the original charter members, there were three present, namely, Brothers Meldahl, Wolff, and Patton. Gig Wright discussed national Delta Sigma Pi as well as our own chapter. His suggestion concerning the acquiring of a new house has since received considerable consideration from both actives and alums alike. During the course of the evening Brother Iverson secretary of the alumni club, presented the active chapter with a new charter which was purchased from funds raised by a raffle, which also was part of the dinner's entertainment. The old charter had been lost in a fire at the house about two years ago.

The other three were charter members of the chapter and were present at the Fifteenth Anniversary Banquet.

The most interesting event or highlight of the entire evening, I think, was something that was unplanned and unpremeditated. Gig Wright started it out and one of our outstate alums brought it to a climax, which ended with everyone there giving Rudie Janzen a rising vote of gratitude for his excellent work on behalf of Delta Sigma Pi. Rudie is president of the Housing Corporation at the present time and is probably the most active alum even after about 14 years of service. During those 14 years he was president of our alumni club for the first five consecutive years; he has been president of the alumni clubs at Milwaukee, Wisconsin and Des Moines, Iowa, and he has been active in the Housing Corporation most of this time.—KENNETH FOSTER

Houston

THOUGH YOU HAVE HEARD little from us the past three years, our small group has met faithfully once each month for our downtown luncheon. We now boast of many new recruits, primarily of course, from our two chapters here in Texas, Beta Iota and Beta Kappa. To our knowledge there are 31 Deltasigs in Houston, and many more to come in June and September.

Thursday evening, March 16 a banquet was held at Kelly's The Original, and officers were elected for the remainder of this and the coming year. The new officers are: President, Henry Guthrie; Vice-President, Lester Elliott; and Secretary-Treasurer, B. A. Bankston. The night of the election seemed none too soon to start renewed activities, and Brother Guthrie appointed a social activities committee consisting of Curtis Hankamer, J. C. Suttles and Wilson Turner, who immediately planned a dance for April 12. On this night we met as a group at the Blossom Heath Club and 15 couples made whoopee until the wee hours.

A bayshore picnic is next on the social calendar. Picnics combined with baseball, handball, swimming and general fun are the most popular summer recreations down here and we no doubt will have several this summer.

Bert Thurber who was a charter member of the club has left us and is now in Washington. He is now a bank examiner with the Federal Farm Credit Administration. We miss him but wish him well in his new position. Ludwell Jones acquired his C.P.A. Certificate at the last exam held in November of last year.

When you are in Houston, call some of us. Attend our luncheon on the first Thursday of each month at 12:00 P.M. at the Ship Ahoy Restaurant.—RANDOLPH T. MILLS

Jacksonville

NOT TO BE OUTDONE by Atlanta, Birmingham and other southern cities, Jacksonville now boasts of a new but very progressive alumni club. The following men were elected officers of the club at a meeting on April 14: President, Tom Lee Barrow; Vice-President, Milton D. Roth; Secretary, Harry Gardner; Treasurer, James T. Wilson; and Chancellor, Harold W. Colee. A weekly luncheon has been started and each Wednesday at 12:15 those who can, meet in the Coffee Shop of the Seminole Hotel. All visiting men are invited to attend these meetings. The newly elected officers have been quite busy publishing a directory of Jacksonville Deltasigs, and inaugurating the Alumni Placing Service. Arrangements have been made for the local club to assist members of Beta Eta Chapter graduating in June to locate jobs through Glenn Calmes, chairman of the Alumni Placing Service Committee.

Our first meeting was held February 21 with ten men present. Since that time we find there are about 30 Deltasigs in Jacksonville. Tom Barrow was appointed acting chairman until officers were elected, and Glenn Calmes acting secretary. Our second meeting was held March 10 when Dr. M. D. Anderson, faculty member of Beta Eta Chapter, addressed a joint meeting of the Jacksonville Alumni Club and the Beta Eta Chapter on the subject, "After the New Deal, What?" At the third meeting on April 14 after the election of officers we had a beer party and played a little "charity poker." Twelve men attended this meeting and we can truly say that an enjoyable time was had by everybody. J. E. Davis, of the University of Florida Chapter attended, and invited the alumni club to join with Beta Eta Chapter for a banquet meeting April 28. Plans are under way for a fine dinner and we expect to have a good attendance by Beta Eta Chapter, who will arrive Friday evening, April 28, and enjoy an industrial tour of the city of Jacksonville on April 29. Members of the committee arranging the industrial tour are James T. Wilson, chairman, Ralph Grassfield, and Peyton Yon. Harold Colee will speak at the banquet April 28 on "How to Get a Job." Tom Barrow will be toastmaster.

The Jacksonville Alumni Club sends best wishes and fraternal greetings to all other alumni clubs and chapters of Delta Sigma Pi. We may be the youngest organization in our great fraternity, but we are also going to be known as one of the most active clubs.—JEROME M. SMITH.

Birmingham

A TERM OF OFFICE having elapsed, an election was conducted at the monthly dinner meeting of the Birmingham Alumni Club on March 21 and the following brothers were elected to fill office for the new term: President, Carsten Sahlmann; Vice-President, William Persons; and our re-elected Secretary-Treasurer, J. C. Waller. The retiring officers, President Francis Osteen and Vice-President Lawrence Davis were commended for efficient leadership and the progress made by the club during the past year. Under the new administration a progressive program has been promised that will follow the forward movement promoted by the retiring administration. Another successful year is anticipated.

A number of members from Beta Lambda Chapter joined the alumni club at their weekly luncheon, March 31. These brothers were on an inspection trip of the industries and business concerns of Birmingham. It provided an opportunity for brothers of the active chapter and the alumni club to get acquainted and to discuss fraternity affairs.

On Monday evening, April 3, in the private dining room of the Molton Hotel, the annual joint banquet of the alumni club and the Alpha Sigma Chapter took place. Twenty-one Alpha Sigma members journeyed from the university to attend the banquet. Accompanying the group were three members of the School of Commerce faculty: Dr. H. H. Chapman, Province Officer of Delta Sigma Pi, Dr. Burton Morley, and Professor H. Mitchell. Lawrence Davis, toastmaster, presided and introduced all officers and speakers. Carsten Sahlmann, president of the alumni club, welcomed the visitors. L. O. Browne, Alpha Sigma head master, expressed the pleasure of the chapter in visiting the alumni club and taking part in the banquet. Motion pictures were shown, supplied by H. H. Stringfellow, who represented the Sales Promotion Department of the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company. Although this is only the second banquet in which the alumni club and Alpha Sigma Chapter have jointly celebrated, it is considered an annual event and will be held each year during the annual inspection trip of the School of Commerce conducted in Birmingham. At the banquet an invitation was extended to the alumni club to join Alpha Sigma on their annual boat trip April 22. A number are making plans to be aboard the boat when "heave ho" or "cast off" is called by the skipper.

The private dining room of the Molton Hotel will be the location for future meetings which are held every third Tuesday of each month, at 6:15 P.M. Any visiting brothers in Birmingham on these dates are cordially invited to attend. Bill Persons, chairman of the professional committee, has announced that guest speaker for the next meeting held April 18 will be Mr. C. J. Yates, Division Sales Manager for the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company.—
THOMAS G. KARC

Newark

WITH THIS ISSUE OF THE DELTASIG, the Newark Alumni Club completes the first year of regular reporting of its activities. Our first anniversary comes during the summer months—just prior to the Grand Chapter Congress—so that while our first year has been most successful, there is every indication that the second, starting so auspiciously, will produce even greater success.

The Newark Alumni Club proudly points to its 1938-1939 record—an active membership of some 75 brothers, regular monthly meetings with speakers, bowling tournaments, social get-togethers, establishment of an Alumni Placement Bureau, and the publication of a directory containing the names of 217 Deltasigs residing in northern New Jersey. Not only that, but we are organizing to attend the Grand Chapter Congress. We will have a delegate there, without a doubt, and he will not be without lots of support.

For the March 7 monthly meeting, we returned, after a two months' trial at a local restaurant, to our former rendezvous, the Newark Athletic Club for dinner. Mr. James McKechnie, President of the Art Photo Engraving Co. of Newark and a Vice-President of the Civics Clubs Council in this city, addressed us on "Civics Clubs and Their Importance in the Life of Newark." The April 4 meeting was again held at the Newark Athletic Club, and Brother Walton Juengst, Province Director, came over from New York "to see that everything was going all right." Brother Al Rohrborg, another active New York Alumni Clubber, appeared also—just to check up on Walt, we think.

Our final meetings of the year—May 2 and June 6 will be devoted entirely to social and entertainment activities. The club is to be the guest of one of the local breweries some time during May, and in June we will hold our first annual golf tournament. Aside from that, we are preparing for Philadelphia on the 5th, 6th, and 7th of September. Watch the Newark Alumni Club and Beta Omicron—your baby representatives.—ROBERT G. BUSSE

National Committee on Alumni Activities

AS THE FRATERNAL year comes to a close one of the most successful periods in history is disclosed. The alumni club program has developed into a many-sided affair, with activities of every nature being held by organizations in cities throughout the country. The more varied the activities of any club the more live and active is its membership.

The National Committee on Alumni Activities is bending its efforts towards a varied, interesting program of activities to be carried out by every alumni club. It is interested in pushing the "sale" of Life Memberships, for every Life

J. HUGH TAYLOR, Chi Chapter
Chairman, Committee on Alumni Activities

Member is an interested member. It is interested in extending the scope of alumni activities to every community, to doubling the number of alumni clubs in the country. It is interested in encouraging every alumni club and chapter to sponsor an Alumni Placing Service, which will render yeoman service to Deltasigs out of work, as well as to those who may wish to better their present positions.

These are the principal aims of the Committee. They have been accomplished to a very small extent since the last Grand Chapter Congress. The report for the past three years is now being prepared, as well as plans for the future—for the "World of Tomorrow" in Deltasig.

You can greatly assist the committee in four ways:

1. Elect live, active, interested alumni as officers of your club for the coming year 1939-40.
2. Plan an even more active, varied and interesting program for the coming year.
3. Write to the committee outlining the accomplishments of your club during the past year, and informing us of any plans for next year.
4. Plan to attend the Grand Chapter Congress in Philadelphia, as a delegate of your alumni club, or as an interested alumnus, and plan to take part in the meetings on alumni club activity, which will have an important part in the program.

The committee would appreciate receiving all suggestions and reports by June 15 if possible. Address them to J. Hugh Taylor, Chairman, 3634 Old York Rd., Baltimore, Maryland.

Deltasig to Operate Large Restaurant at New York World's Fair

ONE OF THE LARGEST restaurant concessions in the New York World's Fair will be a restaurant owned and operated by a member of Delta Sigma Pi, Dario L. Toffenetti,

Beta Chapter

Beta Chapter, Northwestern University, Brother Toffenetti is the owner of the successful chain of seven Triangle Restaurants in Chicago. During the Century of Progress Exposition he operated a restaurant there and will do the same at the New York World's Fair. His restaurant will be known as Toffenetti's Restaurant, will seat 750 people and will be one of the largest restaurants on the grounds. He has spent $140,000 to erect and equip his restaurant and will employ over 200 persons, over half of whom will be experienced employees from his large Chicago organization who have moved to New York for the duration of the Fair. Brother Toffenetti will spend most of his time in New York but will commute back and forth to Chicago to look after his huge interests there. Visiting Deltasigs are fraternally invited to stop in at his restaurant while visiting the Fair and will receive a cordial fraternal welcome. Brother Toffenetti has been actively interested in Delta Sigma Pi from the very day of his initiation. He served as president of the Chicago Alumni Club for two years in 1936 and 1937 and is a member of the Board of Governors of the Chicago Alumni Club now. He is a Life Member of Delta Sigma Pi.

Meet the Four Clark Brothers

A RECENT ISSUE OF ALUMNI NEWS sent out by the Central Office told of the four Cooke brothers, all members of Delta Sigma Pi, having attended the University of Utah, Salt Lake City, and being initiated into our Sigma chapter there. The inquiry following this news item asked if any other chapters had any such unusual cases of dual brotherhood.

Well! We Kappa men down here in Atlanta think we have a little of everything and so we present our entry in the race for the chapter with the most blood brothers of one family. While we do not have more than four, we challenge any other chapter, Sigma included, to put four up beside them for accomplishment and achievement within and without the fraternity. We speak, of course, of the Clark boys, Paul, John, Albert, and Edwin, natives of Atlanta and all initiates of Kappa chapter of the Georgia Evening College.

They come from a family of eight. John, Albert, and Edwin still reside with their father and sister, while Paul is married and Thomas, another brother, who, by the way, is Albert's twin, resides in Columbus, Georgia where he is employed. All four have worked their entire way thus far through college and the older brothers helped put the younger through high school. Their father in ill health for several years is now 59 years of age and is justly proud of his sons. Paul, the eldest, is the only one thus far married, having been married a little over a year ago. To give an idea of each one we will take them separately in the order of their age:

THE FOUR CLARK BROTHERS OF KAPPA CHAPTER

Paul (Kappa 215) now 29, was initiated into Kappa December 3, 1933, while engaged in a two-year post-graduate course, having received his B.C.S. degree the previous June. While in school he was a member of the Venetian Society, and the Owl's Club. He was Chancellor of Kappa Chapter in 1935 and has since his departure from school been active in the Atlanta Alumni Club, serving as vice-president last year, and in Deltasig Lodge, having been on the Board of Directors for 1935 and 1936. He is employed by Lane Drug Stores, Inc., where he is manager of the Inventory Department.

John (Kappa 261) 27 years of age, was initiated May 17, 1936, and is now a Junior at the Evening College. He serves at the present time as treasurer of Kappa Chapter, and last year and a portion of the previous, was Historian. He is a member of the Speakers Club, Interfraternity Council, and Intramural Key, honorary leadership fraternity. John is an ardent camera fan as well as a stamp collector of the first water, having an excellent collection. He is employed as Assistant Branch Manager of Parke, Davis & Company, pharmaceutical and drug concern.

Albert (Kappa 229) 23 years of age, entered the chapter May 13, 1934, when 18, and is now a member of the Atlanta Alumni Club, having received his B.C.S. degree last June. While at the Evening College he was a member of the Venetian Society, acting as treasurer in 1936 and secretary in 1937, Speakers' Club of which he was president in 1937, Owl's Club, Interfraternity Council, Student Council, and Intramural Key, serving as vice-president in 1937. He was a class officer in his Pre-Junior and Junior years and was president of the Student Body in his Senior year. He saw service on both the college publications and was awarded a Life Membership in Delta Sigma Pi in 1936 and the Speakers'

Club Cup in 1937 for work in those organizations. He has served as Editor of Kappa Life, Junior and Senior Warden, and DELTASIG Correspondent in Kappa Chapter and is now chapter adviser. In his senior year he was elected to Delta Mu Delta, National honorary scholastic fraternity. At the present time he is on the Board of Directors of Deltasig Lodge, serving as Chairman of the Membership and Finance Committee and is attending the Woodrow Wilson College of Law from which he hopes to obtain his LL.B. in 1940. Albert is employed as Assistant Credit Manager in the Southern Divisional office of Bigelow-Sanford Carpet Company.

Edwin (Kappa 280) 21, the youngest of the quartet, was initiated into the chapter May 16, 1937, and is now a Pre-Junior at the Evening College. He is at the present time Junior Warden of the chapter and is a member of the Student Council and the Venetian Society, of which he is secretary. He served as vice-president of his Freshman Class, treasurer of his Sophomore Class and this year is vice-president again. He has served on the staffs of the two school publications for two years. Ed also makes the camera his hobby. He is employed in the Marine Department of the Hartford Fire Insurance Company.

It is not only to these boys that Kappa points with pride but also to other brother combinations of recent years. There are the three members of the Brandes clan, Frank, Ray, and Jimmie, the first two of whom have been graduated while Jimmie plans to finish next year. Frank is as you know a member of the Grand Council. There are also three Gregory's. A. D., John, and Francis, the first two of whom have finished their schooling and are working in New York while Francis will be graduated in 1940. The duos are almost too numerous to mention; the Gravitts, Rufus and Luke; the Pruetts, Carl and Ralph; the Dobbins, Charles and Pat; the Beckhams, Jack and George, with a third on the way; and the Masons, Tom and Marion. All in all one could very easily come to the conclusion that Kappa Chapter really believes in this idea of dual fraternalism. We Kappa men hope that some of the other chapters will come forward with the unusual facts about their memberships.—FRANK L. CARTER

Deltasig Wins Newark's First-Citizen Award for Second Successive Year

FOR THE SECOND YEAR since a First-Citizen Award was established by the Newark Advertising Club, a Deltasig has been the recipient of the honor. Brother Franklin Conklin, Jr., was the selection for 1937 as Newark's Outstanding Citizen, while Brother Arthur F. Egner carried off the prize for 1938.

In January, 1938, the Newark Advertising Club announced it would select annually "an outstanding citizen whose accomplishments or efforts have brought fame or credit to our city." This is an award similar to that given by Chi Chapter in Baltimore, and is recognized by business and professional leaders in Newark as the highest honor of its nature that is publicly conferred. The tangible award is a bronze plaque appropriately engraved; the intangible is the recognition of a man's unselfish devotion and service to his community.

To Brother Conklin, whose untiring efforts in behalf of social, educational, commercial, and civic enterprise have made him a well-known figure everywhere in the city, the honor of being the first to be chosen for distinction was rich reward. He is an honorary member of Beta Omicron Chapter and a Life Member of Delta Sigma Pi. He is one of the most active members of the Newark Alumni Club, attending meetings with regularity.

His activity in the educational field has been multifarious. In 1925, he was elected President of the Newark Institute of Arts and Sciences and served in that capacity until July 13, 1934, when the Institute became a part of the University of Newark, the culmination of years of effort by Brother Conklin and other visionary civic and cultural leaders for a single seat of higher learning in Newark. He was named President of the University Board of Trustees two months later, a position he holds today. He is a trustee of Newark Academy and of the Welfare Federation of Newark, a former President of the Newark Y.M.C.A., and Vice-President of the Board of Trustees of the Newark Museum.

In the commercial field, Brother Conklin is secretary of Flood and Conklin, varnish manufacturers, and an officer in affiliated concerns. He is a director of several corporations. When the Newark Citizen's Relief Committee was formed in September, 1932, he was appointed chairman and served a year.

Brother Egner, whose profession is that of lawyer—partner in the law firm of McCarter and English—has succeeded Brother Conklin to the "throne of honor." He is an honorary member of Beta Omicron Chapter. In speaking at the recent initiation banquet held by Beta Omicron, Brother Egner remarked that it almost seemed a necessary requirement for one to be a Deltasig in order to gain the coveted honor of First-Citizen of Newark.

Brother Egner is first Vice-President of Kresge Department Store of Newark, the Kresge Department Stores, Inc., and the Steinback-Kresge Co. of Ashbury Park in addition to his other business connection. He is chairman of the Board of the New Jersey Realty Company and of the New Jersey Realty Title Insurance Company, and a former president of the Essex County Bar Association.

In social and educational fields, Brother Egner is also very active. He is president of the Hospital and Home for Crippled Children, Vice-President of the University of Newark, a former President of the Newark Y.M.C.A., and last but not least, President of Newark Museum.

In the last named capacity, Brother Egner has received high praise. Said the Newark Sunday Call, recently, "As president of the museum, he is devoted to its work. Many an artist speaks his name with affection as well as admiration. He is never too busy to encourage the spark of genius. The rise of small art galleries here in the last few years is in no small measure due to the feeling of cultural security which Newark's No. 1 citizen has given Newark."

In citing Brother Egner for this year's award, it was said, "In Arthur Egner we have an individual whose major thoughts and considerations have been for his fellow citizens. In 1938, he brought about a 100 per cent increase in the facilities of the Newark Museum. Long after he is gone, his acts and deeds will live as a monument to his name and for the better education of the school children and adults of Newark."

"As president of the Hospital and Home for Crippled Children, as the champion of New Jersey art, Mr. Egner has brought about results that command the respect and admiration of his fellow citizens."

Thus have men of Delta Sigma Pi distinguished themselves in the community of Newark. Thus has the city of Newark reaped the benefits of their leadership.—ROBERT G. BUSSE

Among the CHAPTERS

South Carolina Establishes Placement Service

BETA GAMMA CHAPTER at the University of South Carolina now has a placement service of its own established to help secure jobs for this year's graduating seniors in the School of Commerce. With the aid of George E. Olson and Furman Cannon, dean and professor respectively in the School of Commerce at the University, the chapter has formed a class of seniors which has contacted various companies in reference to having the companies send representatives to the school to interview the seniors for jobs. This class also plans to study their personal problems and deficiencies in an attempt to correct them and thus better their chances for jobs. This is believed to be the first time any chapter has started such a service for the benefit of graduating seniors.

The chapter has not been thinking entirely of graduation however. Our spring formal which was held on May 5 in the University Gymnasium turned out to be the biggest and most gala event staged by Beta Gamma this year. The "swanky" Harvey's Cafeteria was reserved from 8 o'clock until 9:30 for the formal banquet preceding the dance. All the actives and many of the alumni were there with their dates. During intermission and after the dance the "Deltasigs" met at Harvey's for plenty of fun and eats. Music for the dance was furnished by Buster Spann and his Gamecock Orchestra.

Our professional activities have not been neglected either. We have made tours through the Gibbs Machine Company and the Southern Cotton Oil Mill here in Columbia. We have also had talks by Brother Frank Meeks, Professor in the School of Commerce, and Mr. Ames Haltiwanger, one of Columbia's most outstanding business men. Other tours and meetings are planned for the immediate future.

Initiation seems to be the biggest thing on our calendar at the present time. We have seven new men to take the place of those who are leaving this year through graduation. This is one of the best groups ever to be initiated into Beta Gamma Chapter and we are looking for great things from them.

Beta Gamma wishes to take this opportunity to wish all the other chapters a most pleasant and prosperous vacation and we will be with you again next fall ready to go again.—H. S. BRUNSON

Colorado Holds Business Day

THE MOST IMPORTANT event for Alpha Rho Chapter this spring is the annual Business Day sponsored by the School of Business. This year we are to have several exhibits from the various industries of Colorado. This is the one day that is looked forward to by all of the members of the School of Business and especially by the members of Delta Sigma Pi. The success of the day depends on the efficiency with which our chapter operates that day. We have charge of every phase which includes exhibits, sports, newspaper, luncheon, and the dance at night. One of the most entertaining features of the day is the Deltasig dinner given before the dance. This is the last opportunity for the seniors and the faculty to get together in an informal fashion. One of the seniors acts as toastmaster for the evening presiding over the dinner and calling on the faculty for extemporaneous talks, jokes, or advice to the outgoing men. After the dinner everyone goes to the dance in a group.

During the day there are many interesting events that take place on the campus. Sporting events in which the faculty challenge the students is one that is well attended by everyone. Then there are the industrial exhibits from around the state. In the morning the School of Business will hold its annual elections for the following year.

The School of Business held its annual market week trip this year by going to San Francisco. Brother Petersen was in charge. While out there they were very well entertained by a number of concerns of various natures. Delta Sigma Pi was well represented with several brothers from Alpha Rho and Alpha Nu going on the trip. Several of the men going on the trip had interviews while in San Francisco and one or two of them have jobs waiting for them when they graduate from school this June.

Rushing for the spring session is getting under way with a large number of potential men being rushed. We hope that in the next three or four weeks we will pledge the better men from the classes that are now entering the School of Business.

Alpha Rho holds its elections in a few weeks. With the new officers and the new pledges to take over the reins next year, Delta Sigma Pi will again carry on the tradition of exercising the most important position in the business school. That is they will again take over active leadership of the school during the next year.—BILL DERRYBERRY

Delta Prominent on Marquette Campus

THREE EVENTS OF GREAT IMPORTANCE are stirring the members of Delta Chapter into unusual activity this spring. The first, and by far the most interesting, is the spring rushing season. To date six men have been pledged, with hopes of adding several more. This will bring the total of new members initiated this year up to twenty. Not only have we taken in outstanding undergraduates, but two of the outstanding men on the faculty have pledged, Dr. R. Barr, professor of economics, and Professor Hoffman, associate professor of finance.

Another activity employing much of the time of the actives is the compilation of a chapter handbook containing the names and addresses of all the active and alumni members of Delta Chapter. This book will also present interesting facts concerning the members; e.g., marital status, employment, fraternal offices held, etc.

The other activity of great concern at the present time is the election of a representative to the Union Board. The Union Board is the governing body of student affairs at the university, and is composed of representatives from each of the colleges, one elected each year for a two year term. Since the board's inception at Marquette University

Delta Chapter has always had a member on the board. This year, however, there is a serious threat to our achievement as the independents on the campus are organizing to break "fraternity rule." Ray Apolskis of football fame is our candidate and the campaign is in full swing.

Delta Chapter won two more trophies in inter-fraternity athletic contests. The bowling team won the tournament by nosing out the Sigma Phi Delta team in the final round; and Ray Apolskis won the handball tournament by defeating the former champion twenty-one to three.—OLAF KNUDSEN

Georgia Entertains Commerce Students at a Steak Supper

PI CHAPTER of Delta Sigma Pi has started the final quarter of the present year with the attitude of "do or die." We are now in 16th place in the Chapter Efficiency Contest, but we have many points unclaimed for the year which we will soon report. With these points still unclaimed and with our program for this quarter full we hope to win the Chapter Efficiency Contest again this year.

Recently Pi Chapter entertained between 40 and 50 commerce students with a steak supper. From those present Pi Chapter hopes to pledge many outstanding students.

In scholastic standing our chapter has a ten point higher average for the year than the all-men average of the University of Georgia School of Commerce. We are proud of our standing and intend to keep Pi Chapter ahead in scholarship, leadership, and extra-curricular activities in the School of Commerce.—JAMES W. DOZIER

Penn State Sponsors a Career Conference

ALPHA GAMMA CHAPTER of Delta Sigma Pi elected new officers for the 1939-40 season at a recent meeting. The new Head Master is Clarence H. Evans replacing Brother Zimmerman, who finished a year of efficient and industrious leadership as the head of the chapter. Andy D. Warcholak was elected scribe, John P. Stevens, treasurer and Robert Schuler, senior warden.

On the evening of April 18 the chapter sponsored a talk by William S. Gosgrove, former president of West Virginia Coal & Coke. On April 20 we held a smoker, open to all commerce and finance students, in order to start "feeling" the boys out for pledging which is planned for around the first week in May. Initiation will then follow just before the end of the school year. Alpha Gamma holds luncheons every Thursday at noon in the Old Main Sandwich Shop. A speaker is obtained for each luncheon, usually a man in business in the community. Invitations are extended to all you brothers who might blow through State one of these days.

Through the efforts of Alpha Gamma, a speaker has been obtained to represent the School of Commerce and Finance in a "Career Conference," planned and to be executed by the honorary and professional fraternities of the different schools on April 25 and 26. Mr. Harry Ness, C.P.A. and president of the Pennsylvania Association of C.P.A.s has been obtained for this purpose.

A number of other jobs are being done to make Alpha Gamma a popular and desired fraternity on the campus and an outstanding chapter of the national group.—BOYD HARRINGTON

Newark Out to Win Efficiency Contest

FELLOWS, WE'RE OUT FOR 100,000 points, and we'll never be satisfied with one iota of a point less." So Paul (Red Head) Gregory tells us each time he starts lecturing about Chapter Efficiency. And with the chapter having already passed 75,000, we feel pretty confident that our much desired goal will be reached.

On March 9, Mr. H. E. Grigg, Personnel Manager of the Hoffman Beverage Company of Newark spoke to us about his work. We learned much about the importance of this work, and the many departments into which personnel management reaches. On March 11, we went on an industrial tour to the Newark Airport. This proved to be one of the most interesting tours that we have ever had. The dispatching tower was first. Here we saw planes being permitted to take off, or land, depending upon whether it was safe to do so at that particular moment. We also saw the Department of Commerce room, where records of all radio messages to or from planes are taken down, and where maps are kept, showing the location of all planes in the air. After being given some statistics on the Airport by the Chief of Airport police (who conducted us on our tour), we were allowed to examine a United Airlines Mainliner inside and out. The professional program for the rest of the year is in the capable hands of Roy Snyder, and we are looking forward to an interesting one.

Brothers Burns, Breidt, Graf, Gregory, and McGlynn were finally selected as our best table tennis players. (There's still some dispute about that.) As predicted in our last letter, they have defeated all the other fraternities on the campus, with one exception. The only reason for the one exception is that we haven't played them yet, but that will be attended to in short order. Plans are being made for a bowling party, and a softball tournament, and I guess that's all for athletics for now.

Social activities are still going strong. On March 4, we had a house party which was, as usual, a swell one. On March 18, a large party from Beta Omicron traveled over to New York to one of Alpha's parties. Now we are looking forward to having Alpha visit us, so that we can make them as welcome as they did us. On April 29, we are having our spring formal again at the Hotel Douglas. This affair has all the earmarks of being one of the best that we have ever had.

Campus activities take a good deal of our time. At a formal dinner of Pi Mu Epsilon, the university's honorary business fraternity, Roy Snyder acted as toastmaster and Albert E. N. Grey, Vice-president of the Prudential Insurance Company was principal speaker. Our membership in this fraternity now stands at two, with Brothers Snyder and Boychuck. Delta Sigma Pi is well represented on the student Board of Control, with Brothers Boychuk, McConnell, and Miners. Brother McConnell has been Business Manager of the school publication, the Observer, for this entire school year, and has been doing a good job. Brother Jaeger has just been elected editor of the Freshman Handbook, the Scroll. Brother Boychuk has been elected president of the Mummies, the school's "Thespians." (Phew, where the heck did I get that word?) Now Beta Omicron is just waiting for more positions to be offered, so that we can hold them down too.

Well, as I said last time, see you in Philadelphia at the Grand Chapter Congress.—ROBERT C. JAEGER

Zeta Wins High Scholastic Honors

THERE HAS BEEN quite a round of activity at the Zeta chapter house in Evanston during the last couple of months and there's good reason, too! Unusual interest in the chapter's welfare has been taken by all of the members as is well shown by the jump from fourteenth to eighth place in the latest Chapter Efficiency Contest standings.

The chapter's spring series of dinner-smokers was launched with Professor William R. Spriegal's informal talk on having interviews and applying for jobs after graduation. Professor Spriegal is well qualified because of his past personnel relations with the Seiberling Rubber Company, General Motors, and other large corporations. Assistant Dean James R. Hawkinson of the Commerce School was the guest speaker at the second smoker and his subject dealt chiefly with the benefits of membership to Delta Sigma Pi. The idea of the smoker has been so well accepted by the Brothers that several more have been planned for the near future.

On the night of March 31, the chapter held an informal dance at the Edgewater Beach Hotel, and about 20 couples made up the party which is "sold" on the idea of having informal dances every few weeks. We are now planning the spring formal to be held sometime during May. This final dance will bring to a close a season of well-planned and very pleasurable social functions—a season that might be called the best in the past few years.

Dick Cox and Wayne Tuissant were recently chosen to membership of the Northwestern Chapter of Beta Gamma Sigma, and Zeta is proud of these fellows' achievement. Zeta is proud, also, of its own achievement as a chapter. When the university announced fraternity scholastic standings for the first semester, Delta Sigma Pi was the second highest fraternity on the campus.

We are going to have a lot of swell fellows graduate this June, and every one of them will be missed around the house for a couple of years to come. We fellows that are left want to extend a hand of appreciation to these older members who have helped us along during the year. We'll never forget their aid and friendship, and we just want to take this last chance to publicly say, "Thanks a lot, and good luck to all of you!"—FRANK P. HANDY

Beta Xi Highly Honored

IT WAS INDEED a great honor for Beta Xi when Grand President Eugene D. Milener dropped in for a while on Wednesday evening, March 16. Brother Milener expressed his appreciation of the progress we have made during the last five years and presented us with a lovely photograph of himself. He said he hoped that we could fulfill his prophecy of May 19, 1934, at which time he stated that Beta Xi would lead the Chapter Efficiency Contest within five years. We are among the leaders now and will do everything possible to make his wishes come true.

We were again honored by Brother A. Harry Moore, Governor of the State of New Jersey and honorary member of Beta Omicron Chapter of the University of Newark, who visited the chapter house on Thursday afternoon, March 22. Brother Moore complimented Beta Xi on its fine membership and its achievements at Rider College. After seeing our house, he gave a talk on "Life" and related some interesting experiences of his own career.

We were also honored by Rider College administration and student body with the following elections and appointments: Theodore Miller was elected president of the freshman class; William Newbury was elected president of the sophomore class; Thomas Thorn was elected president of the Skull and Sabres honorary society; Richard Lion was elected president of the Student Council; Clifford Crane was appointed co-editor of The Shadow, Rider College yearbook; Franklin Sutton was appointed editor of the weekly Rider News; Ross Radley was appointed general chairman of the Rider Prom Committee.

In the intramural sports field we are planning varied activities. We lost the Intramural Basketball League Championship by one point in a heart-breaking playoff game. Clifford Crane and Russell Major were outstanding players during the season. We are preparing for a snappy ping-pong season under the direction of Norris L. Bull, Jr., and are looking forward to a promising team in the softball league. We also will have a baseball team on the field this year, with several players in the line-up who have previously received special recognition before attending college. We also expect to be well represented in varsity tennis by Brother Bull and in varsity golf by Carl Bradbury and George Davis.

Socially we are making plans for our part in the Inter-Fraternity Inter-Sorority Ball to be held on Friday, May 12. We expect a good alumni attendance at this affair. We are looking forward to celebrating our chapter birthday, Friday May 19. We will be five years old on that day. Beta Xi is also scanning entertainment for the many brothers who will visit us during the Grand Chapter Congress next September. We propose to be represented 100 per cent at this occasion and will do everything we can to make it the thrill of a lifetime for everyone present.—RICHARD A. LION

Oklahoma Initiates Ten

UNDER THE GUIDANCE of our new Head Master, Wayne Wilson, Beta Epsilon is making the School of Commerce at the University of Oklahoma take notice. Already ten pledges are in the fold with initiation set for May 6. Through Brother Bower's capable assistance in selecting our speakers we have had the foremost professional men as our guests at the smokers: Mr. Meyer of the Home State Life Insurance Company; Mr. Koehler of the Playmor Amusement Company; and Mr. W. Scott, an industrial consultant, to mention a few.

One of the features of the smokers has been the policy of a revolving toastmaster; in other words, every brother in the fraternity has to conduct one smoker. This was done to give every member an opportunity to preside. A one-day business tour of Oklahoma City is scheduled for the latter part of April with a final stop at one of the local breweries. Brother Smith, now taking graduate work at Northwestern University, dropped in to say "hello" during the Easter holidays.

Our new officers are: Head Master, Wayne Wilson; Senior Warden, Earl Greenlee; Junior Warden, Eddie Jabara; Treasurer, Justin Vogt; Scribt, Leo Pierson and DELTASIG Correspondent, Joel Ketonen.

Yes! It looks like Beta Epsilon is headed for a great and prosperous year. See you at Philadelphia.—JOEL KETONEN

Minnesota Plans Large Delegation to Convention

ALPHA EPSILON OF MINNESOTA is winding up one of its most successful years. The present spring "daze" have produced no customary languor, but on the contrary have acted as a tonic in stimulating the chapter to ever-growing enthusiasm and activity. Ideas are the material from which action is born, and it can truly be said that there is no dearth of new ideas at Minnesota.

Among innovations are the establishment of a finance committee and the making of plans for a chapter Mothers' Club, which will be definitely launched on Mothers' Day this spring. The finance committee is the executive committee of the chapter, composed of the officers and one or two members elected at large. It meets once a week and thoroughly discusses all financial and other important affairs of the chapter, and presents its findings and reports at the following chapter meeting.

On February 27 new officers were elected for the ensuing year and the able direction of the chapter was transferred to the hands of a new staff that bids fair to carry on in a most commendable fashion. The new leaders are: Head Master, Bernard Black; Treasurer, Elden Eichhorn; Scribe, Lawrence Pittelkow; Senior Warden, Gordon Peterson; Junior Warden, Stanley Allison; Historian, Carroll Sigurdson; Senior Guide, John Guth; Junior Guide, Sigurd Dyrland; Chancellor, Roland Russell; and Social Chairman, Orlando Tosdal. The new Head Master is a transfer student from Alpha Mu Chapter at the University of North Dakota.

On the social calendar for the spring quarter we find the Deltasig spring formal slated for May 27 and the annual Business School Banquet, in addition to the usual smokers, pledge parties and athletic events. With Brother Tosdal in charge the formal should leave nothing to be desired. Included in the spring activities will be industrial tours and a number of professional meetings.

Alpha Epsilon Chapter has been growing steadily throughout the past year. Interest in rushing is at a new high, and at the present writing our pledge class numbers 19 of the finest young men at Minnesota. They will creditably fill the places of the several actives who are being graduated this spring and will carry on the Minnesota winning tradition. Initiates during the year included six in the fall quarter, three in the winter quarter, and eight who will become active on April 15. We expect to have still another initiation later this spring. Along with several more prospective pledges, this should give us a good group to begin activities next fall.

In a year or two we plan to have a new house. This is a project which has elicited a great deal of interest and has commanded much time and effort, particularly on the part of two of our most active and valuable alumni, Rudie Janzen and Louis Dorweiler. We owe much to the unfailing loyalty of these two Deltasigs.

At least eight men from our chapter will attend the Philadelphia Congress in September. We'll see you there!—SIGURD T. DYRLAND

Baylor Sponsors Varied Program

THE BETA IOTA annual formal banquet was a huge success. A very interesting program was presented and the chapter was honored by having Brother Kenneth B. White, a member of the Grand Council, and his wife present. A swing session followed the banquet program. We held another professional meeting during this past month and Mr. Frank Miller, manager of the Waco Dr. Pepper Bottling Plant, was our speaker. Baylor will hold the annual All-University Day on May 2 and Miss Bonnie Ruth Slauson, freshman in the university from Corsicana, Texas, has been chosen to represent Delta Sigma Pi as a candidate for May Queen. The chapter is sponsoring a picnic for students in the School of Business to be held May 5. Committees have been appointed to complete the plans, and the picnic should be a real success. Grand Secretary-Treasurer Wright will visit our chapter May 1.

The chapter has entered a softball team in the Intramural League and the boys are expected to make a fine showing under the capable management of Brother L. C. Bradley.—MORRIS HARRELL

ALPHA EPSILON CHAPTER—UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA

North Carolina Gives Banquet for Faculty

AS A PRELUDE to the annual Student-Faculty Day at the University of North Carolina on April 25, Alpha Lambda Chapter gave a banquet honoring the faculty of the School of Commerce, Monday evening, April 24. One of the most interesting features of the evening was a mock interview between a personnel manager, portrayed by Warren Haddaway, and a prospective employee, portrayed by Wade Johnson.

During the past week, four of the most prominent and conspicuous offices on the campus were filled by Deltasig men. Benny Hnter, our new master of ceremonies, was elected president of the rising senior class; Steve Forrest, one of our pledges, was elected secretary of the junior class. Bill Ogburn was appointed business manager of our daily newspaper, The Daily Tar Heel, by the Publications Union Board. The German Club, sponsors of the biggest set of dances on the campus, elected Studie Ficklen as president for next year. Thus Deltasigs are well represented in all campus affairs.

In the field of athletics we have entered intramural softball competition. John Francis, manager, and Tom Heath, Ben Heath, Clarence Coburn, Archie Fountain, John Dorsey, Harvey Tyndall, Paul Blue, Frank Sterns, and Wade Johnson, with the able assistance of alumni members Donovan and Martin have formed a team that is not far from the top in the fraternity league. In the dual track meet with Princeton on April 8, Tom Crockett, head master of our chapter, set a new Fetzer Field record for the two mile with a time of 9.41.8.

Fourteen were pledged to Alpha Lambda Chapter on April 20. We feel that these men constitute the pick of the students of our School of Commerce, and we feel sure that Delta Sigma Pi can do them lots of good and that they, in turn, can and will do much for the fraternity in the future.

Plans are well under way for the publication of a commerce newspaper sponsored by Alpha Lambda Chapter. The first edition, carrying news of both the fraternity and the School of Commerce, will come out on Thursday, April 27.—JOHN DORSEY

Commerce Exposition Sponsored by Tennessee Chapter

ALPHA ZETA CHAPTER has successfully promoted many activities on the University of Tennessee campus which have served to stimulate and further the interests of our school. Among these accomplishments was the Commerce Ball held March 24 at the Memorial Gym. Needless to say, this was one of the outstanding social events of the current year. Tom Ashby, Earl Ford and their various committees left nothing undone in making the Ball a complete success, and to add further to our prestige, Searle Gillespie and his very competent group of co-workers presented a Commerce Exposition which far surpassed any held in the past. This Commerce Exposition, sponsored by Delta Sigma Pi, utilized twelve booths in exhibiting interesting industrial and commercial displays. The feature, however, was a model office complete in every detail which demonstrated the regular functions of a modern office. The Exposition was one of the key attractions of the annual High School Day and attracted more than 3000 visitors. Another outstanding accomplishment was the organization of a "Job Training Club" which had as its purpose the training of senior students in meeting those difficulties encountered in the procedure of getting a job. Several speakers have delivered instructive talks before the group which will aid the student in overcoming these many obstacles encountered. The chapter has also entered into the newspaper field. There has been inaugurated a "Commerce Chatter" column which appears weekly in our school paper. This column reports only those activities of the business administration students and particularly emphasizes Delta Sigma Pi's activities in stimulating student interest. These are only some of our campus accomplishments.

Undergraduates Randel C. Smith, William N. Llewellyn, Walter E. Harwood, John W. Page, James R. Jakes and faculty member, Edward E. Garrison were initiated into the chapter on Sunday, March 26, at the Hotel Farragut. The ritual was presented in splendid fashion by the very able Kappa ritual team from Atlanta, Georgia. Some 18 of these Georgia boys paid us a visit and they are really a bunch of live wires. They made us more fully realize the real worth of a fine fraternity spirit. Following the initiation a banquet was given at which Jimmy Rike, our new Head Master, presided as toastmaster and faculty adviser, Harvey G. Meyer, and Howard B. Johnson, Province Officer, addressed the gathering. Russell Moxley and Julius Cogswell, both Alpha Zeta alumni, were also present.

At our recent election James Rike, a junior from Somerville, was selected as our new Head Master. Jimmy is varsity center for the Vol football machine, an honor student, and one of our most popular campus figures. Watch Alpha Zeta go to town with Jimmy.

Our faculty adviser, Professor Harvey Meyer, head of the University of Tennessee accounting department, will teach accounting at Marquette University this summer. Naturally he will pay his respects to the Delta Chapter up there.

The Alpha Zeta members are looking forward to the southern conclave to be held down at Atlanta the latter part of April. We are all anxiously awaiting a chance to visit the Kappa Lodge which we have heard so much about.

Plans have been formulated for attendance at the Grand Chapter Congress to be held at Philadelphia in September. At the present rate of enthusiasm the Alpha Zeta gang will be well represented and we'll be waiting there to greet you.—ROBERT W. SCHLEICH

Gammamen Active in Campus Affairs

DURING THE PAST YEAR Gamma Chapter at Boston University has acquired prominence in the scholastic, sport, and extra-curricular activities of the college. Scholastically Gamma is represented on the Dean's Cabinet by Arthur Cunningham who is also a member of Skull, honorary junior scholastic society. He shares this latter honor with Paul Sullivan, captain-elect of the 1939 varsity football team. In the student government of the college, Gamma is represented by three brothers in the House of Representatives. They are Joseph Madigan, our Head Master and President of the Newman Club, John Connolly and Arthur Cunningham. In the field of sport Roger Powers is manager of the golf team and Henry Kieronski is manager of the football team when not pitching for the varsity baseball team. Gamma has seven members in Scabbard and Blade, national honorary military organization. They are Cadet Capt. John Mara, Cadet Second Lts. Paul Sullivan, Arthur Cunningham, John J. Connolly, Joseph Sullivan, Henry Kieronski, and Hector Migneault.

During the past academic year the chapter conducted numerous social and professional affairs. Among these were an informal dance at the Parker House, and a formal dinner dance at the Victoria.

The professional affairs included such speakers as Pat Hanly, Coach of the varsity football team, and Brother Bill Husband, Bank Commissioner of Massachusetts, and members of the Boston Narcotic Squad. At present the hopes of Gamma are very high for the expectancy of winning the Interfraternity Bowling Championship. The Deltasigs are now eagerly looking forward to our spring activities, the dates of which will be announced soon.

Beta Lambda Discusses Loan Fund

AT THE SUGGESTION of Dean J. W. Scott our senior members have been discussing the possibility of a student loan fund here at Auburn. The proposal, as suggested, involves every senior in business administration, who will be asked to forfeit his school contingent deposit to the fund. It is believed that the seniors will respond favorably, for this fund will be left as a senior contribution to the school, and because it is a means of financial aid to worthy students.

Many of our seniors and juniors made an inspection trip to Birmingham. The trip, planned by our department, called for visits to such places as credit bureaus, mines, and the Birmingham Branch of the Federal Reserve Bank. We sponsored only a few weeks ago the motion picture film entitled "Steel, Man's Servant," further adding to our opportunity to see the practical side of business. Some of the brothers, while in Birmingham, visited Head Master L. E. Foster, who is there recovering from an appendectomy. Of course, he will be back in school soon to lead us in our planned activities this spring.

Our men, as usual, have been distinguishing themselves in extra-curricular activities on the campus. Five men have been elected to the national military fraternity, Scabbard and Blade. Two were victorious in important campus elections—Henley as chairman of the social committee, and Watters as the No. 1 senior executive cabinet member. Brothers Watters, Henley, and Happer were tapped by ODK, national leadership fraternity.

Our last important social event was the Honor Societies' Ball, in which we had our place among the other organizations. Our next communication will come next school session, when we should make some advancement even over this year.—HORACE W. WEISSINGER

Kappa Initiates Fifteen

KAPPA CHAPTER BEGAN putting the finishing touches on an unusually successful year with the initiation of 15 new men on March 4 and 5. Upon looking back through our records we find that this is the largest class of initiates ever to be admitted at one time into the chapter. We feel that the number of the new brothers is not in the slightest degree out of proportion to their individual qualities, and we proudly present the following additions to our ranks: Jimmy Strickland, Thurston Flowers, Jim Freeman, Robert Griffith, Wilbur Frederick, Bob McGill, Weems Boyd, Lansing Murphy, Bob Ferrell, Jimmy McNabb, Charlie Leslie, Charlie Bowling, Jerry Upchurch, Aldo Garoni, and Dan Crawford. This brings our total to 22 for the year.

This is a year for superlatives in Kappa Chapter. We expect, as is our custom, to finish the Chapter Efficiency Contest with a perfect score. Plans are nearing completion for us to have our first chapter house and more men are taking more interest in the Lodge and our social activities than ever before.

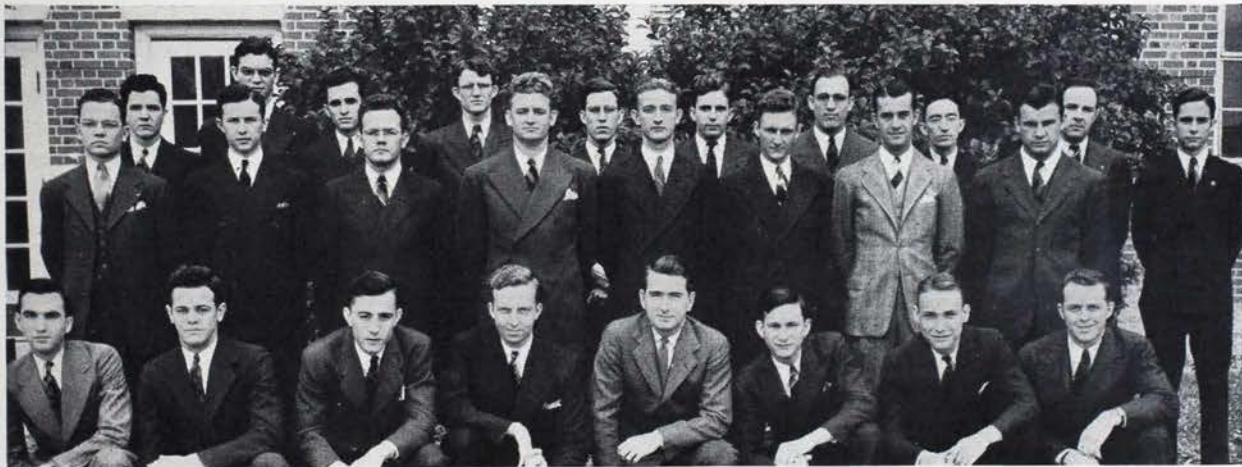

In regard to the proposed chapter house, Roscoe Walker is head of a committee to make plans to secure a house by July 1, and at this writing he announces that he has selected the house and that final arrangements are being made. Thus we will have a place to entertain visiting brothers in a conveniently located part of the city. From 10 to 15 local members plan to move in at the earliest opportunity.

In one phase of our activity we feel that we have slipped badly. In former years our athletes have managed to hold their own or better with the rival chapter of Alpha Kappa Psi, but this year we have lost the touch football game, the basketball series, and the bowling match without the benefit of any consoling victories. However, we have a really good softball team and we are looking forward to this competition to save ourselves from being whitewashed.

The Deltasig Lodge is approaching the end of its fiscal year and certain changes in our constitution and by-laws are being worked out for presentation at the annual meeting in June. Meanwhile everyone is enjoying the advent of spring by working on one of several projects that the Lodge has in process at this time.

The arrival of spring was officially celebrated at the Lodge by a Spring Dance on March 17 and a houseparty on March 18 and 19. Although the weather was not as warm as it could have been, it was clear and pleasant and the affair was very successful. On April 8 the Lodge was host to a unique Mardi Gras dance which was featured by many unusual and colorful costumes.

Feeling that the Lodge needed a newspaper to better carry on its aims and functions, Harold Hemrick, Leonard Kuyper, and Roscoe Walker decided to put one out and edit and underwrite it themselves until it could be proved that the paper could be made to pay for itself and that it served a useful purpose in the activities of the Lodge. Even before the publication date, April 16, the financial success was assured by many subscriptions which resulted from passing around one sample copy.—HAROLD S. HEMRICK

BETA LAMBDA CHAPTER—ALABAMA POLY

Nu Holds Spring Formal on May 13

IT WILL BE a gala affair; there will be love-making, dining, and dancing. The Nu boys are leaving nothing undone to make a success of the dance. In years past it has been traditional for the spring formal to be an outstanding affair. Saturday, May 13, will set a standard that will be the object of attainment in the years to come. The Broad-Lincoln Hotel ballroom has been secured by Social Chairman Fleenor, and Earl Hood will furnish the "swing." On the next day, Sunday, May 14, Mother's Day will be observed. Mothers of all actives, alumni and pledges will be invited to the banquet which will begin at 1 o'clock at the chapter house. Miss Claire Harmeyer, assistant to the Dean of the College of Commerce, will be the principal speaker for the occasion.

Professional meetings have been outstanding so far this year, and apparently will improve as the year progresses. Lowell K. Hanson, Ohio State '24, Foreign Representative for Goodrich Tire & Rubber Company, has kindly consented to give us a day of his six weeks' stay in the United States in order to bring us a few of his experiences in Europe. A faculty dinner, to better acquaint undergraduates with alumni faculty members, is planned for the near future.

April 20 will mark the beginning of "Hell-Week" for four naive pledges, at which time they will succumb to the swing of the paddle. They promise us that they will be "feelin' fittin'" for the formal initiation Sunday morning, and banquet immediately following. We wonder.—CHARLES L. MOUSHEY

Actives Get the Board at Nebraska

ALPHA DELTA FOLLOWS the old custom of insisting on cigars when any of its members become engaged or married. It has recently been noticed that our former Head Master, Brother Ekwall, our present Head Master, Brother Jeffrey, and our Social Chairman, Brother Sedlacek, were no longer wearing their pins. Since no cigars were forthcoming it became necessary to give certain of our leaders a reminder of their neophyte days.

Recently we enjoyed an April Fool dinner-dance with the Alpha Kappa Psi and the Phi Chi Thetas. Bewildering indeed was the three course dinner served in reverse order, highly peppered rolls, loaded cigarettes, and "Peppy" mint gum.

Our annual industrial tour on April 5 revealed many interesting things about Lincoln business. At the Nebraska Salesbook Company we saw many kinds of business forms being printed for firms covering the entire midwest. Guides at the Lincoln Telephone Company showed us how the 38,000 wires entering the building connect Lincolniters with each other and the rest of the world. We sampled the "pause that refreshes" after inspecting the machinery at the Lincoln Coca-Cola Bottling Plant. While at Gold's, one of Lincoln's largest department stores, we entered into a lively discussion with the personnel and merchandise control managers. A worthwhile day said we who took the trip.

Merle Hale, Deltasig alum, gave us some interesting sidelights on the telephone business following the showing of sound motion picture depicting the progress and evolution of the telephone industry, at one of our recent professional meetings. "After College, What?" was the theme sounded by Prof. T. T. Bullock, at our April 15 meeting. As head of the placements committee for the College of Business Administration, Professor Bullock had some worthwhile advice on this business of getting a job.

Easter vacation was travel-time for several Alpha Deltas. Brother Cory toured Nebraska with the Varsity Band. Brother Bstandig went to Chicago with the Nebraska debate team. Neophyte Schmode, catcher for the N.U. baseball team, is presently enroute home from California.

Little short of extraordinary are the scholastic records of Brothers Ekwall, Bstandig, and Hawkes who have recently been elected to Beta Gamma Sigma. Bstandig and Hawkes have at the same time won membership in Phi Beta Kappa.

Of no little significance was the Transportation Conference held April 14 and sponsored by the College of Business Administration. Here prominent figures in the transportation industry met with businessmen and students to discuss the nation's transportation problems. Present were the heads of several important railroads as well as representatives of the other forms of transportation.

Things are humming at Nebraska. With a spring party, an initiation, and a picnic coming up, we feel that in June we can look back on another successful year.—JOHN A. RIPLEY

San Francisco Trip

ONE HUNDRED AND THREE School of Business students from the Universities of Colorado, Denver, and Wyoming, journeyed to San Francisco during their spring vacation, March 17 to 25, on a trip sponsored by Alpha Rho Chapter of Delta Sigma Pi. The Deltasigs did a great deal of publicity work for the trip, sold tickets, encouraged other students to go, and unofficially sponsored the trip. Representative student and faculty members of Alpha Rho and Alpha Nu Chapters accompanied the group and assisted Dean Elmore Petersen of the University of Colorado School of Business, who is an ardent Deltasig and who was in charge of the trip and all arrangements connected with it.

This 3,000 mile jaunt was undertaken primarily to foster a better understanding among business students of business problems and procedures in a large metropolitan area; representative firms and organizations were visited to help the students visualize more clearly business methods in practice today.

On Monday the group visited the Wells Fargo Bank and Union Trust Company, where, after an interesting and informative talk on the history, development, and objectives of the bank, the students were taken on a conducted tour of the organization, including a visit to the underground vaults. At noon the bank provided a delicious luncheon at the Palace Hotel. In the afternoon the group visited the Emporium, the largest department store west of Chicago, and were taken on a tour of this interesting merchandising organization.

On Tuesday morning the tourists went to the offices, then inspected the docks of the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company on the famous Embarcadero. Following the inspection of freight and docks the entire group boarded a launch for a trip around San Francisco Bay and under both the Oakland Bay Bridges and the Golden Gate Bridge. The Matson Navigation Company provided a tasty luncheon in their cafeteria, then allowed the group to inspect one of the largest passenger ships plying the Pacific, the S.S. Monterey, just in from Sydney, Australia.

Wednesday morning the group rode across the Bay Bridge in chartered busses to visit the Paraffine Companies, Inc., makers of linoleum, roofing papers, and allied products. After a luncheon at the plant cafeteria the visitors journeyed to Richmond to tour the huge Standard Oil refinery located there. A conducted tour of the plant showed many interesting processes and techniques.

Thursday the President Steamship Lines, successors to the Dollar Lines, played host to the group and exhibited their huge S.S. President Taft from engine room to bridge. The President Taft is on the Japan and China run and is a beautiful and luxurious ship. After luncheon in the dining salon of the boat Senator William Gibbs McAdoo, chairman of the board of directors, spoke to the assembly about the American Merchant Marine, following which Mr. Sheehan, president of the line, explained the financing of the company. Thursday afternoon a sight-seeing tour by bus took the group to such points of interest in and around San Francisco as the Presidio, the Golden Gate Bridge, Cliff House and Seal Rocks, Twin Peaks, various parks, residential and industrial sections of the city.

Although the trip was primarily educational in nature, most of the students found time to spend at least a day at the World's Fair on Treasure Island, to visit world-famous night-spots, Fisherman's Wharf, Chinatown, famous restaurants and stores, and to see a great many interesting and unfamiliar sights.

Beginning Friday morning the return trip over the Union Pacific railroad took the group through Sacramento, the beautiful Sierra Nevada mountains, through Reno and across Nevada, across the Great Salt Lake Cutoff, and home through Wyoming and Colorado.

The trip was pronounced a huge success, and the members of Delta Sigma Pi are proud of the part they played in "putting across" such an undertaking.

Texas Deltasig Elected Student President

BETA KAPPA'S SYDNEY REAGAN, graduate of the School of Business Administration of the University of Texas who is now in the Texas School of Law, was installed as president of the university student body on April 14 after having been elected to that office by a clear majority out of the 6500 votes cast for a field of four candidates. Not in recent years has another student president been elected here without a runoff—a tribute to the high regard in which Brother Reagan is held on the campus.

Very much in evidence at the annual banquet of the School of Business Administration were Beta Kappa members. Because of the chapter's large representation on the an authority in this field from the pedagogical aspect, but he has also been very closely associated with the leading bankers in Texas, knows thoroughly their problems, and is often called upon for authoritative advice regarding those problems.

Prof. J. H. Frederick, also a Beta Kappa faculty member, spoke at an informal smoker February 27, on mass distribution. After an extremely interesting talk Dr. Frederick answered questions put to him by his listeners.

Other speakers to appear at professional meetings were Mr. V. W. Bouldin, assistant state attorney general, who spoke on anti-trust laws of Texas and their effect on business; Mr. George Van Fleet, actuary for the Texas Insurance Commission, whose subject dealt with employment opportunities in the field of insurance; and Mr. F. J. Amsler, credit manager of Scarborough's, Austin's largest department store, who spoke on qualifications necessary for success in credit work.

On March 31 began the annual three-day Texas Round-Up celebration, the time when old grads return to visit the scenes of their college days. In the largest Round-Up parade ever seen here Delta Sigma Pi was represented by a car carrying Geraldine Chandler, Sweetheart of the Texas School of Business Administration, Betty Reynolds and Velma Johnson, Beta Kappa's Bluebonnet Belles for the Round-Up Revue. And, incidentally, there seem to be some of our Deltasig chapters under the misapprehension that their campus beauties are tops. Perhaps they are—for other parts of the nation, but if you care to gaze on unsurpassable feminine pulchritude just come down to Texas some time.

On March 4 some 40 Beta Kappas and rushees invaded the hills west of Austin for the chapter's semi-annual rush picnic. Football, baseball, hill-climbing, and a picnic lunch with plenty of nourishing liquid from the keg were thoroughly enjoyed by everyone. After W. D. Craig explained the purposes and obligations of membership in Delta Sigma Pi to all the rushees, each member took charge of one or two rushees and answered any questions about the fraternity which the guests cared to ask. Thirteen pledges are now undergoing a period of rigorous "conditioning" to prepare them for the formal initiation of April 24.

Coming events on Beta Kappa's spring program include an all-day picnic at a summer camp some 30 miles from Austin, the chapter's spring dinner-dance in the Stephen F. Austin Hotel, election of officers for next fall and election of a delegate to the Grand Chapter Congress in Philadelphia next September, and installation of officers at a farewell banquet on May 17.

For the splendid leadership of Head Masters Carroll Brown and Elwin Swint during the past year and the unselfish co-operation given them by officers and members Beta Kappa Chapter expresses its sincere appreciation. The best of luck to all Deltasigs who are leaving school this year to venture out into the business world—let's show everyone the stuff of which Deltasigs are made.—GEORGE ZEISS

THE ENTRY OF OUR TEXAS CHAPTER IN THE UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS ROUND-UP PARADE

BBA Council, Deltasigs had a big hand in planning the program for the banquet and putting it on.

For its professional programs this spring our Texas Chapter has tried to carry out a theme which is of paramount interest to all senior students of business administration—employment opportunities. To that end our speakers have been chosen for the counsel they could give us as to making our way in the business world after we leave school.

The most interesting and helpful of these programs was the one on March 27 when two of our faculty members, Professors J. C. Dolley and E. G. Smith, spoke on employment in the fields of banking and marketing. Professor Dolley is probably more qualified than any other man in Texas to speak on the subject of banking. Not only is he

Kansas Makes Annual Tour to Kansas City

IOTA CHAPTER'S ANNUAL industrial tour was taken early in spring to Kansas City where the group of 30 students and two faculty members made several stops. Early visits were taken to Sheffield Steel plant, Ford assembly plant and lunch was taken at Sears and Roebuck's plant. In the afternoon the group thoroughly inspected the engraving plant of Hall Brothers. The next day a Business School smoker was held at the Colonial Tea Room and six faculty members were our guests. Mr. Bidgood, Manager of Carefire Inc., was the honored speaker and presented a fine talk on Lloyds of London. There were approximately 45 persons present for this event.

Late in March, H. G. Wright, our national secretary, gave a most interesting talk to the chapter on the history of Delta Sigma Pi. Mr. Wright also explained some of the workings of the Alumni Placing Service and the finer points of obtaining a position after graduation.

On April 16, seven pledges were permitted to learn the secrets of the fraternity. The neophytes who were initiated are: Tom Higgins, Francis Franklin, Wilbur Mansfield, Ed Krueger, Bob Galloway, Wayne Whelan and Dan Hopkins. After the ceremony had been completed, the new brothers were the guests of the chapter at an initiation banquet. Neil Bartley, a member of the chapter in 1925, told the early history of Iota Chapter. Brother Bartley is assistant sales manager of the Puritan Compressed Gas Company and told us the best way to obtain a job.

With these activities completed and more coming up in the future, Iota Chapter continues to roll right along.—TOM HIGGINS

Louisiana Members Enjoy Supper Party

UPHOLDING THE NAME of Delta Sigma Pi has always been the aim of Beta Zeta Chapter. In answer to a challenge, we recently defeated Pi Tau Pi, a local commerce fraternity, in a game of softball by a score of 21-18. They paid off by buying us two gallons of ice cream. Then Pi Tau Pi protested the game and challenged us again. We repeated the performance and beat them by a score of 11-8. They again paid off with two gallons of ice cream. Any time Pi Tau Pi wants to play softball, they will always find us a willing and eager opponent.

A supper party was recently given at the summer camp of Russell Doiron, prominent Beta Zeta alumnus and Province Officer, for all actives, pledges, and guests. The faculty members were also invited. Football, hockey and cards provided the entertainment for everyone.

On April 20 we pledged nine men. The election of officers for the coming year will be held on May 4 and Grand Secretary-Treasurer Gig Wright will be our guest at a banquet that evening. Our delegate to the Grand Chapter Congress will also be appointed at this time.—JAMES P. HEBERT

Miami Expands Membership

SIX NEW MEN were formally pledged by Alpha Upsilon Chapter on March 28. The rushing started on March 7. A smoker was followed two days later by a field trip, with the rushees invited, to the Federal Reserve Branch Bank at Cincinnati and to the district offices and show rooms of the International Business Machines Company. At the bank we quietly looked at several millions in paper currency, not having the least desire to try to take along a few bills for souvenirs. The guards looked forbidding behind their seige guns. Most of us were amazed at the ease with which the tremendously heavy vault door could be swung. Dr. Peterson of our own faculty and a Deltasig assisted our field trip chairman, Ray Bourne, in getting permission to see the workings of such an important link in our government's money and credit facilities.

From the bank the rushees and members were taken to the I.B.M. offices. This company has the motto, THINK, but we cannot understand why. The machines demonstrated for our fraternity did such amazing work, sorting, compiling, totaling, subtracting, typing, multiplying, and so forth, that we felt no incentive to think. If ever a technocratic civilization is built up, those ingenious men who built those products certainly will be the rulers.

At the concluding smoker, Mr. Robert Goacher, Miami's Y.M.C.A. Executive Secretary and a former Head Master of this chapter, spoke informally on the "Individual and His Personality." And at the following business meeting of the chapter, the promising rushees were elected to pledge-ship. At a luncheon on March 28 six men were pledged.

These men will be initiated and banqueted before this letter is published. New officers will have been elected and installed and the old ones relegated to commencement exercises by that time.

But before such events occur, Delta Sigma Pi at this school will have another professional round table discussion. This one is on the "Technique of Getting a Job." The committee in charge of this meeting is composed of: Bill Fairgrieve, chairman; Bob Lake, Ted Killian, Brynley Evans and Merritt Gambill. In conjunction with this meeting of our own group, Alpha Upsilon is giving to all members of the senior class of the School of Business Administration and to the faculty, the treatise on securing a job, written by our own Grand Secretary-Treasurer H. G. Wright.

To all the graduating seniors we wish you the best of luck in your recovery from that dreaded malady, spring fever.—A. A. LEININGER

Pennsylvania Closes Successful Year

GREETINGS BROTHER DELTASIGS! What has undoubtedly been one of the most momentous school years in Beta Nu's history is now drawing to a close. The feverish pace of the activities begun last fall, is being maintained to the very end of the semester. We had our trials and tribulations as the loss of two successive head masters necessitated a severe reorganization in the chapter's administrative plans. The active chapter met each emergency with the same spirit of initiative and co-operation that carried us safely past the previous one assuring Beta Nu of its most successful year in recent times.

An ambitious and interesting program of professional activities was launched last March. We started with an address by Brother R. Doubman, well known merchandising analyst, and a member of the marketing staff of the university. His timely talk on the European situation was summed up with the somewhat startling declaration that there will NOT be a general conflict soon.

At a meeting held on March 28, George Munger, Penn Grid mentor, entertained us with moving pictures showing the highlights of the previous season's games. The pictures in addition to their entertainment value, proved quite constructive in the art of watching a football game. Another speaker was Brother H. Eugene Heine, former law professor at the university and Assistant District Attorney, who enlightened the members and guests of the communistic threat that has become quite powerful in this nation. The methods by which communism operates were vividly portrayed. Friday evening, March 31, the professional meeting was followed up by an Open House Night. Bridge, pinoche, ping-pong and refreshments being the main diversion.

On the afternoon of April 1, a large number of actives and alumni were conducted, on an industrial tour, through the Philadelphia branch of Remington, Rand, Inc. The very latest in office equipment and machines were on display. Demonstrations on the various machines proved quite surprising. Thanks to Harry Heaps, who arranged the tour, the last word in modern accounting tabulating, etc., was admirably presented to those fortunate enough to be on hand.

At our professional meeting on April 13, due credit must be given Palmer Lippincott and Don McTighe for stepping into the breach caused when an unexpected turn of affairs deprived us of our guest speaker. The boys rendered a very commendable performance, Palmer, on the scope and purpose of the fraternity, and Don, on the intricacies of sailing. The following evening, April 14, was Open House Night.

Another industrial tour on April 15, took us to the Philadelphia Inquirer Building where the methods of publishing a metropolitan daily were revealed to the Beta Nus present.

On April 25, the guest speaker at our professional meeting was William R. Hockenberry, Director of the Wharton Evening School of Accounts and Finance. Brother Hockenberry's infrequent talks are always enjoyed by the members but his numerous duties at the university place his leisure time at a premium. On Friday, April 28, another Open House Night was held bringing out a good representation of actives and guests to partake in the evening's fun.

Another evening of fun took place on May 13 at the chapter house. The occasion? Our annual International Party. This being Ken Richman's first foray as festivities committee chairman, congratulations are in order. The brothers are now marking time until the annual spring formal to be held June 3 or 10 at a fashionable country club in suburban Philadelphia.

Amid the hustle of activity the past semester passed all too quickly. The time between now and next September will pass even more quickly once school stops and vacation begins. Right now, what are your prospects for being in Philadelphia for the Grand Chapter Congress? To assure yourself of being here, read all about the G.C.C. in this issue, then send your reservation in advance. We'll see YOU in September? Thanks.—RICHARD BOYAJIAN

Alabama Initiates Eighteen

MUCH HAS HAPPENED at Alpha Sigma Chapter since the last writing. The chapter has been outstanding in School of Commerce activities. Eighteen men were pledged this semester and will be initiated May 6. Beta Gamma Sigma, honorary commerce scholastic fraternity tapped three Deltasigs on Commerce Day which was held February 28: Ed Crosta, Morris Burkett, and Luther Thomas. Brother Crosta had an almost perfect scholastic average. He slipped somewhere and got a couple of B's and thus spoiled a perfect average. Brother Burkett, our scribe of last year, is a freshman in the Law School. He did a fine job as chairman of the pledging committee. Brother Thomas is our last year's Head Master, who earned the respect of everyone in Alpha Sigma Chapter for his untiring work in striving to put the chapter ahead and keep it there.

MEMBERS OF ALPHA SIGMA CHAPTER AT ALABAMA AND THEIR PARTNERS PRESENT AT THE COMMERCE BALL HELD THERE

Alpha Sigma has had several excellent professional meetings. At one of these meetings we had the Executive Vice-President of the First National Bank of Tuscaloosa. Mr. Palmer gave a very good talk on present day banking and after the meeting several of the brothers got into an informal "bull session" with Mr. Palmer and found it difficult to tear themselves away from it. At another meeting we had LeRoy Nations of the faculty as speaker of the evening. Brother Nations spoke on advertising and the New Deal. We were hosts that evening to 20 prospective pledges and four alumni members from the Birmingham Alumni Club. Everyone enjoyed the meeting very much. Several of our brothers are expert raconteurs if one were to judge from the stories that were swapped around after the pre-meeting stiffness wore off.

Alpha Sigma Chapter had an inspection trip of the Central Foundry Plant in Holt, Alabama. Brother Bob Tyo arranged for this interesting trip. The trip was of great benefit to those of us who were fortunate enough to be able to go.

For our exhibit of Burroughs statistical and accounting machines on Commerce Day we were named co-holder of the award with another commerce society. At the Commerce Dance February 28 the Delta Sigma Pi leadout was the high spot of the whole dance. Brother Willys Pearson arranged for very distinctive favors for our dates.

Several of the Alpha Sigma members have come into the spotlight at the University of Alabama. Charlie Davis was recently elected president of the Student Body. He was Head Master in 1936-37. Jimmy Holland, our Scribe was recently initiated into Scabbard and Blade, honorary military organization.

We will have our annual boat ride on April 22 on the Warrior River. Last year the boat ride was a great success in spite of the rain as Joe Dickson will eloquently testify. Nevertheless we are praying fervently that it does not rain this year.

On May 6 we will hold our initiation for 18 pledges and follow the ceremony with a banquet for the brothers and their dates at Hotel McLester in Tuscaloosa. Head Master Browne assures us that a banquet worthy of honoring new brothers to Delta Sigma Pi will be served.—BURCESS HUDSON

Michigan Welcomes Spring

WITH SPRING VACATION now a matter of past history and exams and graduation in the offing, Xi Chapter pays homage to the season on May 6 with the annual spring formal. Last year this traditional event was unquestionably the most noteworthy social event of our year. As in the past the dance will be held at the Washtenaw Country Club, and a very pleasant social evening is anticipated by members and alumni of Xi.

Since the beginning of the new semester an efficient and untiring rushing program under the capable direction of Senior Warden Chuck Jordan has resulted in the pledging of seven promising men.

A recent social event of note to Michigan men of commerce was the yearly Capitalists' Ball given by the School of Business Administration. Preceding the dance a party was held at the Xi chapter house. Chaperones for the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Landon and Professor Waterman of the School of Business faculty. Excellent music for the ball was furnished by Frank Dailey and his orchestra.

Before long many Deltasigs will be saying fond farewells to their chapters and alma maters. To those parting seniors Xi wishes to extend its best wishes and hopes for fulfillment in life and success in the world of commerce and business.—BYRON HARRIS, JR.

Johns Hopkins Climaxes Current Season with Active Program

CHI CHAPTER HELD its final initiation of the current year on Saturday, April 22, at the Longfellow Club in Baltimore, and it was indeed gratifying to note the enthusiasm that has been aroused over the initiation since the membership committee is rapidly attaining its goal in the number of men pledged. Following the initiation of seven candidates the afternoon was climaxed with a banquet during which time interesting and instructive talks were given by some of the older members of Chi Chapter.

On Saturday, May 20, Chi Chapter will hold its annual dinner dance at the Five Farms Country Club and if precedent is the basis for a prediction it is expected that everyone will enjoy an excellent evening. This occasion affords a wonderful opportunity for the newly elected members of the active chapter to become acquainted with the older members and the Baltimore Alumni club members.

The Delta Sigma Pi Scroll was presented to J. Martin McDonough, President of the Junior Association of Commerce of Baltimore, as the civic leader of the City of Baltimore for the most constructive work in behalf of the city for the year 1938. The presentation was made at a dinner held Friday evening, March 24, at the Faculty Club on Johns Hopkins University Campus. This award has been made annually for the past four years and the selection of the person to whom the award is to be given is made from a group of young business executives of Baltimore who have been recommended by the governing bodies of the leading civic organizations and clubs in Baltimore whom they believe have made important contributions to the civic welfare of the city. The committee representing the Baltimore Alumni Club for the selection of the 1938 winner was headed by Charles Steinbock, as chairman, and included J. Hugh Taylor and George Missel, Jr., for the alumni club; Joseph Oberle and William Scott for the active chapter; and L. W. Baker, Halsey Ramsen and Edward Stegman, Sr., for the faculty.

To close the professional program for the current season the professional committee arranged to have Mr. Douglas Griesemer of McCormick & Company of Baltimore address Chi Chapter and its friends on Thursday, April 6. Mr. Griesemer, who is a very capable speaker, talked on "Junior Executive Management" and considering the intense interest which he created his talk should be of much assistance to all ambitious students and business men who are endeavoring to keep stride with the developments of the business world.

Chi Chapter wishes to extend its felicitations for a pleasant summer vacation to all the members of the other chapters and the men of Chi are looking forward to renewing old friendships and making new ones at the Grand Chapter Congress in September.—DALLAS A. HARDESTY

Mississippi Sponsors Business Day

ALPHA PHI CHAPTER is glad to announce the initiation of nine new brothers: Creath Speer, Henry Stratton, Frank McCord, Nat Hooker, Sid Gillespie, Steve Spencer, Julian Noel, Ed Stevens, and Vernon Gilly. The initiation ceremony was very effective and served as a source of inspiration to the old brothers as well as the new. In addition to the regular chapter, we had in attendance several faculty members, professors in the business school, and Dr. J. W. Bell, Dean of the School of Commerce and Business Administration. All of the new brothers have manifested their interest in Delta Sigma Pi affairs, and we are expecting great things of them later on.

At present we are bending most of our efforts toward completion of plans and arrangements for "Business Day." This idea has been brought forward and built up by Delta Sigma Pi, and is the first thing of its kind in the history of the business school here at "Ole Miss." Business Day will be a holiday for students in the Business School during which time they will have the opportunity of hearing several distinguished speakers who will talk on subjects pertinent to the study of commerce. Among these speakers will be Mr. Al Stone, head of the Mississippi State Tax Commission, and Grand Secretary-Treasurer Wright. The day's activity will be culminated with a banquet and dance that night. We are expecting this program to be a great success and to become an annual affair on the campus.

We have selected T. C. Buford as Alpha Phi's delegate to the 1939 Grand Chapter Congress in Philadelphia in September. Brother Buford is a leading student in the School of Business and well qualified to represent our chapter.

Delta Sigma Pi members have recently been co-operating with the Insurance Department of the School of Commerce in making preparations for a convention of insurance men to be held here in the near future.

Here's wishing you all good luck and success for another year.—LEROY HIDINGER

Alpha Chapter Elects Officers

ALPHA CHAPTER WON the most coveted position on the downtown New York University campus when George Parnaby won the election to the presidency of the Violet Skull, interfraternity council of New York University at Washington Square. Deltasigs were the most numerous at the traditional inaugural ceremony which took place at the banquet room of the Jumble Shop just within the folds of night life of Greenwich Village. In the haze of blue cigarette smoke and amid a forest of beer glasses the assembled fraternity men witnessed George take the oath of office administered by the outgoing President of the Violet Skull, Frederick Glade, and then wrestle with Phi Phi. For the benefit of those who have never heard of Phi Phi, it is a quart pitcher of amber yellow beer that has to be drained in the shortest possible time by the contestant standing on a chair with a tub below and in front of him. The tapping is followed by three strokes with a stout paddle over the assumed angle. George drank his in a minute thereby beating Cliff Anderson by half a minute and Ellis Bessels by a whole minute. 'Twas a gala night indeed for 15 brothers and pledges.

At the last chapter elections Cliff Anderson was elected Head Master; Bill Durgin, Senior Warden; Harold Boehm, Junior Warden; John Masterson, Treasurer; Robert Didrich, Scribe; Bill Boss, Chancellor. Much arduous work is ahead of the incoming officers. They are capable of swinging the job, especially Cliff Anderson. He has served on important committees, has had much experience in the fraternity and on the campus, and has closely observed the chapter activities. Considering such conditioning in business and social affairs of the chapter and having a progressive attitude, he should do much in the capacity of head master to promote the growth of the chapter. In this direction Bill Durgin has unquestionably shown his mettle. George Parnaby has also exhibited promising signs, but the real test will come in his position as the President of the Violet Skull. Bill Boss is certainly ideally suited for his task. The opportunity for other brothers to offer keen competition in activities to the officers should not be lessened in view of aggressive officers. In fact, they ought to be alert to whatever is going on and be free with a helping hand, criticism or praise, whichever the occasion demands.

During the last semester the brothers have taken marked interest in the social affairs on the campus. Goodly numbers of them attended dances of Theta Upsilon and Alpha Omega Pi Sororities. Our St. Patrick's Day dance packed our large ballroom and dining room on the ground floor. Bill Durgin did it. For that matter Bill is a lot of things. He is the dynamo behind the Alpha News, he brings in pledges, he is the politician at the School of Commerce. I would not be surprised if we have Bill some day legislate for us in Congress.

The boys are not only stepping out but are also planning for the coming annual spring formal dance which will be held at the Hampshire House at 59th Street overlooking Central Park, Manhattan, right in the shadow of the massive Rockefeller Center skyscrapers and the nightly illuminated tower of the Empire State Building. The girls will receive Delta Sigma Pi souvenirs. In a large city like New York, it takes real generalship to conduct a function of this magnitude successfully. The members of the dance committee are Jack Anderson, Bob Nevin, John Masterson, and John Bilyk.

Occasionally Province Officer Walt Juengst has found time to sit in on our business meetings and offer us some sound suggestions out of his rich larder of personal experience and observation gathered in his busy career. The brothers sincerely appreciate his helpful counsel.

As Alpha Chapter has been gathering momentum for the past year, it is bound, therefore, to turn up with record success during the coming school year.

In the meantime Alpha Chapter extends a hearty welcome to all visiting brothers stopping at New York. Let's all be

Creighton Selects Rose of Deltasig

BETA THETA ENTERTAINED on Gig Wright's annual visit to the chapter. After a banquet at the Fontenelle Hotel a rather informal discussion was led by Gig, highlight of which was the interest shown in the national convention. Several of the fellows are seriously thinking of attending. Plans are for one of the brothers to get his car and the others will accompany him into Philadelphia and then on to New York for Delta Sigma Pi Day at the World's Fair.

This chapter is sponsoring noon-day luncheons in a downtown hotel at which prominent men in Omaha have been invited to speak. Most noted of these is Father Flannigan, founder and director of Boys Town. Our first speaker, Mr. Ho, a Chinese educator, spoke on "Merchandising in China." Mr. Ho is on leave of absence from the Chinese government where he is employed as personnel director.

Since the last issue of the DELTASIG we have had an election of officers. George Mason is our new head master. George has been singularly honored before, having been president of his freshman, sophomore and junior classes. Jack Shively became our new senior warden and representative on the Panhellenic Council. Warren Hughes was re-elected scribe and Paul Bausch is our treasurer.

We are proud of our basketball entry in the intramural league, and justly so, for the team finished second in the fraternity section and received and accepted a bid to play in the all-university tournament. Our boys played stellar ball but could not match the speed of their more experienced opponents and were eliminated in the first round. To go along with this fine record were new purple and gold suits purchased by the chapter in mid-season. Delta Sigma Pi's team at Creighton was easily the standout quintet on the campus. They were truly the envy of other fraternities here on the Hill.

At the present time plans are under way for a chapter entry in the intramural kittenball league. Lawrence Keller, a former active member and basketball coach, will continue as mentor of the team.

One important stride forward effected by the new officers is to be the issuance of a Beta Theta Chapter paper. Staff members have been chosen and work is going ahead rapidly. A paper will be sent to each chapter and to the brothers' parents.

Miss Jeanette Miller was presented at our annual dinner dance as the "Rose of Deltasig." In an impressive ceremony, heralded by the sound of trumpets from the distance, Miss Miller was crowned with a wreath of roses and will reign for the coming year as our queen. The new "Rose" is a member of Kappa Zeta Kappa sorority and has been active in all the functions sponsored by this group. She is truly a welcome addition to our list of "Roses" and Beta Theta proudly presents her to the rest of Delta Sigma Pi!

Happy vacation and we'll see you all at the Convention!
—TED FEYDER

Chicago Chapters Hold Formal Dinner-Dance

THE INTER-CHAPTER FORMAL, held annually through the combined efforts of the four Chicago district chapters and the Chicago Alumni Club, gave us an opportunity once again to meet the new members of our neighboring chapters and to have a grand evening of fun with brothers whom we haven't seen since the formal last year. The dinner-dance was held at the Medinah Club on Saturday evening, April 22. Our master-of-festivities, Bob Lewis, made fine arrangements for a gala evening with the co-operation of the social chairman of the other chapters.

Our professional meetings have continued to attract large attendances throughout the past semester as they did last fall. Professional Chairman Roy Lyons recently presented Lyndon H. Lesch, Real Estate Manager for the University of Chicago, who talked on "Causes of Real Estate Valuations." Mr. Lesch gave us an insight into this often-misunderstood subject, and surprised many of us with the true causes of real estate price fluctuations. Brother Lyon has been fortunate in securing Mr. A. G. Morey, attorney for Prentice-Hall Inc., and former United States District Attorney, to speak at a future meeting on the Federal Food and Cosmetic Act. His talk will be along the line of the book

THE BASKETBALL TEAM OF OUR CREIGHTON UNIVERSITY CHAPTER

One Hundred Thousand Guinea Pigs, and will expose many fallacies and misrepresentations of cosmetic advertisements.

"A Night in a Chinese Laundry" was what Bob Lewis called our last house party, and although decorations and costumes lent an Oriental atmosphere, the entertainment was closer to "Ten Nights in a Barroom" or "Monte Carlo Nights." Each couple was given a fortune in "phoney money" when they came in, and complete gambling facilities from roulette to one-armed bandits were offered. At the end of the evening the guests could exchange their winnings at a large discount for Uncle Sam's real McCoy. Refreshments were served and continuous music was provided for frequent relaxation from strenuous speculative efforts.

Visions of Philadelphia have already begun to take form in the imaginations of many Betamen, and persuasions and discussions are heard in every corner as plans are being made to attend the Grand Chapter Congress. Some of the men have arranged to take their vacations later than usual, and have even formed groups to figure expenses and plan their itinerary. Many, of course, will take advantage of the opportunity to see the New York World's Fair either before or after the Congress. Perhaps some are too optimistic, but it is certainly not too early to start making plans, and if a fair percentage of the plans materialize, Beta Chapter can be assured of a good representation at the Grand Chapter Congress next September. See you there!—J. SHANNON GUSTAFSON

Theta Pledges and Hums With Activity

THETA CHAPTER OF THE University of Detroit has started off the new 1939 school term by pledging five of the best men on the campus. Theta's informal initiation is set for May 6. The formal initiation will be held Sunday, May 7, at the Fort Shelby Hotel, scene of many of the past Delta Sigma Pi initiation banquets.

Monday night, May 1, Theta Chapter is sponsoring the annual University of Detroit Basketball Banquet in conjunction with the University of Detroit Alumni Association. Joe Muer's Restaurant has been selected as the location for this annual Theta tradition. The banquet this year will be a greater occasion as the University of Detroit has All-American Bob Calihan on its roster.

Thursday night, April 20, Theta Chapter will have its Dad's Night Smoker and Party. A great program has been arranged to entertain the Dads. The pledges at this time will put on their play. The play is enacted so the pledges can give the members their imitation of the members themselves. In the past this play has been probably the high spot of the training period for the pledges.

We have been making plans for the past three or four weeks for the annual spring formal. Last Thursday night it was definitely decided to hold it at Forest Lake Country Club, on the night of Saturday, May 13. This gathering is looked forward to from the beginning of the school year. Every year the formal becomes a greater success. As in the past arrangements are being made for a band. The dance is closed and is just for the chapter members and their friends.

The Detroit Chapter of Delta Sigma Pi has entered a softball team in the Fraternity League at the university. This chapter is fortunate to have a good share of softball material. The team will compete in the league against the other fraternities that enter a team in the league.

Well, since this is the last writing for this school year, I, as well as our chapter, want to wish all you fellow Delta-sigs lots of luck with your exams and summer vacation.—BOB DAVIS

Missouri Activities

THE SPRING SEMESTER has seen much activity on the campus of "Ole Missou" with the chapter taking active part in Commerce Day, and the spring election of school and student government officers. The chapter had the pleasure of entertaining a large pledge class of 13 neophytes for mock initiation held on March 18. The neophytes were formally initiated on Sunday afternoon, March 19, giving the chapter a total of 39 active members. The chapter extends its heartiest congratulations to the newly initiated members and shares with them the friendship and loyalty of all of the active members.

The Sixteenth Anniversary of the installation of the Alpha Beta chapter on March 24, 1923, was celebrated by a dinner-banquet at the Daniel Boone Tavern Hotel, on March 19. Several of the alumni present gave short addresses and much fun was had by all present. Alpha Beta wishes to extend its thanks for the birthday greeting cards received, and for the well-wishes contained therein.

Annual Commerce Day was held on March 27. Melvin W. Sneed, AB 202, class of '34, opened the Commerce Day Activities held at the Tiger Hotel. Brother Sneed, director in the division of research and statistics in the State Social Security Commission, addressed the students from the School of Business and Public Administration on the trend of the number of old age pensions in the state of Missouri, and obtaining of statistics on the number of future recipients. Other speakers on the program included David J. Behling, from the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company, Roy L. Hutchison, tax consultant, and Alfred L. Johnson, Advertising Manager. The Commerce Day Celebration was climaxed by a banquet held that evening at the Tiger ballroom, followed by the Derby Dance. The announcement of newly elected members to Beta Gamma Sigma, national honorary business fraternity, was made at the banquet. Of the six persons named, three were Alpha Beta men, namely: Bruce L. Gordon, Wesley S. Johnson, and Allen J. Whitters.

At the time of writing, it is planned for the chapter to attend a St. Louis Alumni Banquet on Friday, April 28, at which Grand Secretary-Treasurer Wright will be present. Several alumni plan to make the trip to St. Louis with the chapter.

The April 7 Official Bulletin shows that Alpha Beta is leading the Chapter Efficiency Contest with 92,550 points. I have been assured by the officers that Alpha Beta does not intend to relinquish this position.

Dr. Karl Bopp, AB 90, class of '28, associate professor of economics and finance, was announced as a winner of a fellowship awarded by the John Simon Guggenheim Memorial Foundation of New York. Brother Bopp will make a comparative study of the policies of the Bank of England, the Bank of France, the Reichsbank, and the Federal Reserve System in the United States. The majority of the study will be in England in regard to the Bank of England. We wish you much success with your study, Brother Bopp.

To all chapters we wish that the closing year has seen much success with the advancement of the friendship, fellowship, and the principles of Delta Sigma Pi. May the ensuing year provide even greater success to our fraternity.—HUGH MANSFIELD

Delta Celebrates Its Nineteenth Birthday

AS TIME SLOWLY PASSES into oblivion for many great men and organizations, the pen of history is etching facts and figures of their heroism and accomplishments. Much has been written for some and little for others; yet, for the International Fraternity of Delta Sigma Pi much has been recorded to the present time and will in the future give even greater performances to be left for posterity. Since its founding in 1907, Delta Sigma Pi has evidenced a rapid expansion of chapters and members throughout the United States and Canada. Through its aims and objectives it has forged ahead enrolling numerous members each year. Chapters became larger, new ones were formed, thus again expressing its solidarity to uphold the purpose for which the fraternity was founded.

Delta Chapter, as a link in this chain of unity, has witnessed many happenings since its founding in 1920, and we feel rather proud of the progress we have attained in giving support to the purposes and objectives of the International Fraternity of Delta Sigma Pi. As our chapter birthday is again near, we brothers of Delta Chapter reminisce with the alumni the days when our charter members fondled the beginnings here at Marquette University. We brothers can now feel that in the minds of our charter members their efforts were well worth while by the hearty co-operation which exists between actives and the alumni.

How have we fulfilled the aims and purposes for which the fraternity was founded? As our chapter history could give a more complete replica of our 19 years of existence, we will give a few highlights touching on the purposes of the founding of Delta Sigma Pi.

"To foster the study of business in universities"—Many of our brothers have been elected to offices of great responsibility. By their hard efforts at council gatherings many student views were expressed which would have remained unknown to authorities. These views included courses, industrial trips, and other important business tangents.

"To encourage scholarship and the association of students for their mutual advancement by research and practice"—Encouragement in scholarship has been evidenced by several brothers winning places in honorary fraternities and keys for noble achievements. A chapter library is available in our study room for those who wish to reach further into the facts of business. Another thing worth mentioning is a systematized co-operation between the older students and newer ones who have not yet found themselves in the difficulties of university life. These have all helped in fostering better understanding between members.

"To promote closer affiliation between the commercial world and students of commerce, and to further a higher standard of commercial ethics and culture and the civic and commercial welfare of the community"—This purpose is one more of public concern. It deals with fitting the commerce student in with men of experience in the profession of business, and serves as the connecting point between student and the business world. Our most successful achievement in promoting closer affiliation between the commercial world and students of commerce has been the part time jobs available at a leading department store. We have found places for about seven brothers, part and full time work in the above mentioned store. Other brothers have been placed into full or part time jobs and our percentage of employed rates near the 75 per cent mark. Through our smokers and joint active-alumni gatherings we have brought chosen speakers, who are experts in their line of business, to give their views and experience. By this speaking method and our personalized meetings afterward, our fulfilling of the last purpose has been successful.

Delta Chapter feels it has accomplished a great task in keeping intact with the charter purposes. As our seventeen senior brothers receive their diplomas in June I feel confident that in the future years they will be able to visit our smokers and gatherings to give us their interesting views and experiences. They will no doubt look to the purposes of the International Fraternity of Delta Sigma Pi as one of the elements in their final character building.

So as time and tide wait for no man, I would like to wish, in behalf of Delta Chapter of Delta Sigma Pi, that every chapter of our huge organization has the best of luck in the success of the purposes for which our fraternity was founded.
—PAUL E. LOFTUS

Indiana Holds Smoker

LOOKING TOWARD A spring initiation early in May, Alpha Pi held a smoker April 13 for prospective members.

As our principal speaker, Mr. Boxman, a local businessman, gave a clear-cut description of the restaurant industry, its position nationally in the retail field, its problems and its possibilities. The new School of Business Administration Building is going to be in a class all by itself, according to the description given us by Professor Edward Edwards, chapter faculty adviser, in a short talk during the meeting. Some of the features of the new building, which is in the form of a 'Y', are a large auditorium with indirect lighting, a complete library, large office space for professors, two lounges, and office accommodations for the various organizations in the School of Business.

Head Master Robert Schalliol is back with us again after spending the last two and one half months working in Mishawaka, Indiana. Another senior has returned after spending the first half of his last semester with Arthur Andersen & Company of Chicago, Robert Waters. Under the present plan offered by the School of Business, it is possible for seniors to finish their first semester during Christmas vacation, be placed with some firm for the first three months of the year, and return the first of April to finish the second semester and graduate in June. This practical business experience makes it easier for seniors to obtain jobs after graduation and makes the men more valuable to the firm with which they make connection.

The Friday luncheons are being continued with apparent success. Speakers at the last two meetings were President Emeritus William Lowe Bryan, and Mr. M. L. Frederick of the General Electric Corporation. These gatherings are held every two weeks and have served to bring the students and faculty closer together on problems and viewpoints and have introduced prominent faculty members, local businessmen, and guest speakers to the student body.

Just recently Rembrandt Hiller was selected for membership on the Indiana Union Board. This Board is composed of the most promising men in the university to direct the affairs of the Indiana Union which is composed of all men students at Indiana University. Marvin Miller of Bedford, Indiana, has been prominent on the university debate team this year.

Alpha Pi is going to be extremely busy and working hard during the next six weeks with Friday luncheons, softball games, spring initiation, and election of next year's officers. Until the next issue of the DELTASIG, so long.—CHARLES L. HEDGE

DePaul Plans June Dance

ALTHOUGH THE HERALDED success of Alpha Omega's St. Patrick's Ball seems to have vitiated the boys with a lethargic inactivity, don't let appearances fool you. Rain, rain, and more rain in this district may have held up the farmer's carrot crops, but it certainly hasn't slowed down our crop of fine sprouts for prospective membership. We're still rolling, and believe us, there is something on that ball. It is this ball that is destined to drive a victorious margin of pledges across home plate.

And did you see the recent edition of the Chapter Efficiency Contest ratings! Alpha Omega has jumped from 44th to 26th, which means that 18 more chapters are choking on our dust. It's still quite a "spell" from first place, though, isn't it? Next semester, however, should and probably will see us crowding the leaders. Go ahead and laugh, then we will say, "we told you so."

Plans are forthwith to be drawn for our annual June dance, the current one of which threatens to eclipse all former affairs.

Alpha Omega wishes to extend its best regards to our more remote brothers. We hope you have a pleasant summer and we also wish the rest of the chapters success in their endeavors during the rest of this season.—WILLIAM R. HUNTER
