Professional Commerce and Business Administration Fraternity

Delta Sigma Pi was founded at New York University, School of Commerce, Accounts and Finance, on November 7, 1907, by Alexander F. Makay, Alfred Moysello, Harold V. Jacobs and H. Albert Tienken. Delta Sigma Pi is a professional fraternity organized to foster the study of business in universities; to encourage scholarship, social activity and the association of students for their mutual advancement by research and practice; to promote closer affiliation between the commercial world and students of commerce; and to further a high standard of commercial ethics and culture, and the civic and commercial welfare of the community.

The Grand President's Column

WELCOME to our two new chapters: Gamma Psi at the University of Arizona and Gamma Omega at Arizona State College! These fine additions to Delta Sigma Pi bring our active chapter roll to 82; quite an increase from 11 nominally active in 1945!

HOWARD B. JOHNSON
Georgia-Kappa
Grand President

THIS amazing growth, through reactivations and installations, was due to many factors. Of course, many chapters were reactivated by the return to their colleges of members who had served in the Armed Forces. Transfer of members to other colleges was also a stimulus to this growth. But many were reactivated, and many new ones were installed, by the efforts of "Gig" Wright, Jim Thomson, Grand Council Members, Province Officers, and interested alumni.

"INTERESTED ALUMNI" have always been necessary to the progress, even to the very existence, of our entire American fraternity system. Their contributions to Delta Sigma Pi have been important in countless ways, not only to the fraternity's growth, but to the very perpetuation of chapters by a constant devotion which stimulated and inspired. Delta Sigma Pi will forever be indebted to many men who, often without assignment or credit, have been responsible for so much of what today makes up our fraternity.

ALUMNI participation, like democracy, is a two-way street. Chapters need to maintain contact with their graduates. Attractive, well-edited newsletters, such as many of our chapters publish, are excellent media for maintaining alumni interest. Invitations to social activities, Founders' Day and chapter birthday celebrations, and homecoming events will do much to remind alumni that Delta Sigma Pi is their fraternity for life.

BECAUSE of business and social conflicts, alumni may not be able to participate regularly in all the activities of their chapters or even their alumni clubs. But all should keep their chapters and The Central Office informed of address and job changes, pass on news about other Deltasigs, recommend for membership able men who would contribute energy and ability to the fraternity, aid in the expansion of our Alumni Placing Service, and maintain their good standing by payment of national dues or by the purchase of a Life Membership.

OUR national committees often need help in developing and carrying out their various programs to have Delta Sigma Pi better serve you, the university system, and the business world. We are fortunate in having such able men willing to serve as chairmen of these committees. Bob Lewis, of the Committee on Alumni Activities; Henry Lucas, Alumni Placing Service; Joe Duepner, Life Membership; Elwood Armstrong, Nominations; all will welcome your suggestions and help. I am fortunate in having two Past Grand Presidents, John L. McKewen and Allen T. Fowler, serve with me on the Executive Committee. We and the Grand Council, however, could not administer the affairs of Delta Sigma Pi without calling constantly on the experience and good judgment of many other members.

THE rewards for participation are many: the satisfaction of having made a contribution to the business training of our members, enlarged professional and social contacts, administrative experience, and the respect and friendship of men of commerce.

Our Cover

The University of Nebraska, located at Lincoln, the state capital, is featured on the cover of this issue of The DELTASIG. The university was chartered on February 15, 1869, and has three campuses. The largest contains 320 acres and is that of the Agriculture College in Lincoln. The main campus, or city campus, has 75 acres and houses the bulk of the colleges. The third campus is in Omaha where the Medical College and the School of Nursing are located. The university also has an agronomy farm with about 1,400 acres.

Enrollment at the University of Nebraska well exceeds 10,000 students in their 10 undergraduate colleges, which include agriculture, arts and sciences, business administration, dentistry, engineering, law, medicine, and pharmacy. They are a member of the "Big Seven Conference" in intercollegiate athletics, and their teams, the "Cornhuskers," have won wide acclaim.

The Alpha Delta Chapter of Delta Sigma Pi was established on the Nebraska campus in 1924 and has achieved an enviable record through the years. In 1950 the Midwestern Regional Meeting was sponsored by them and held in Lincoln, Nebraska.

This is the seventh in our series of universities to be featured in full color on the cover of The DELTASIG. This colorprint was furnished by the Union Pacific Railroad, to whom we are greatly indebted.

Two Fine Chapters Installed in State of Arizona

THE STATE OF ARIZONA took the Delta Sigma Pi spotlight on November 3 and 4 when our Gamma Psi and Gamma Omega Chapters were installed at the University of Arizona in Tucson and Arizona State College in Tempe, respectively. These are the first chapters that Delta Sigma Pi has installed in Arizona, and the seventh and eighth chapters to be installed in our Western Region. The other chapters are: Rho Chapter at the University of California in Berkeley; Sigma Chapter at the University of Utah in Salt Lake City; Phi Chapter at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles; Gamma Iota Chapter at the University of New Mexico in Albuquerque; Gamma Xi Chapter at the University of Santa Clara in Santa Clara; and Gamma Omicron Chapter at the University of San Francisco in San Francisco.

The fact that Delta Sigma Pi had only one active chapter in the Western Region in September, 1949, and that it now has eight chapters two years later, is of special significance. Gamma Iota Chapter at the University of New Mexico requested at the Seventeenth Grand Chapter Congress that its chapter be placed in the Western Region, instead of the Southwestern Region as originally planned. Gamma Iota Chapter's confidence that our chapters at California, Southern California and Utah would be reactivated, and that other fine chapters would be installed in the West, was justified.

The Western Region is now a vital and active part of Delta Sigma Pi, and plans are now being completed to hold the first Western Regional Meeting in San Francisco during this college year.

Installation of Gamma Psi Chapter at the University of Arizona

ON SATURDAY, November 3, 1951, the Gamma Psi Chapter of Delta Sigma Pi was installed in the College of Business and Public Administration at the University of Arizona in Tucson, Arizona. Past Grand President Walter C. Sehm of St. Paul was the installing officer. He was assisted by the Western Regional Grand Council Member, Frank C. Brandes, of San Francisco; the Southwestern Regional Grand Council Member, William R. Merrick, of Dallas; Assistant Grand Secretary-Treasurer J. D. Thomson, of Chicago; and a delegation from Gamma Iota Chapter at the University of New Mexico. William E. John, an alumnus of Alpha Delta Chapter at Nebraska, who guided the local fraternity during its petitioning period, also served on the installation team.

The new Student Union Building on the University of Arizona campus was the scene of the installation ceremonies and banquet. After the ritualistic initiation, which took most of the afternoon, the installation banquet was held in one of the beautiful dining rooms of the Student Union Building. Frank C. Brandes served as toastmaster and kept the program moving at a merry pace with his witty introductions. Dean A. L. Slonaker welcomed the fraternity to the campus on behalf of the president of the University of Arizona, Richard A. Harvill. The history of the College of Business and Public Administration was related by its dean, Elmer J. Brown. Dean Brown also commented on the new College of Business and Public Administration Building which is now in the process of construction and he invited everyone to return for its dedication.

Albert H. Holmberg, a member of Gamma Psi Chapter, told of the founding of the Commerce Club, our local petitioning group at the University of Arizona. The highlight of the program was then reached when past Grand President Sehm presented the charter to Paul G. Carroll, the head master of Gamma Psi Chapter. Brother Sehm also reminded the local group of the responsibilities they had assumed in accepting this charter, and predicted that Gamma Psi Chapter would soon be one of the finest in our fraternity. Paul Carroll accepted the charter with appropriate remarks.

Grand Council Member William R. Merrick of Dallas was introduced at this point and he extended fraternal greetings to Gamma Psi Chapter. Assistant Grand Secretary-Treasurer J. D. Thomson was then called upon to add his words of welcome to the new group and to read the many letters and telegrams, that had been sent by the national officers, chapters and alumni clubs, welcoming the new chapter. In conclusion the members of the delegation from Gamma Iota Chapter were introduced.

History of the University of Arizona

Today Tucson takes boastful pride in being the home of the University of Arizona, together with its 85-acre campus and more than 40 classical and distinguished buildings. But in its beginning, back in 1885, when the university was given to appease the townfolks' anger at being by-passed as the territorial capital, the idea of having such a school created nothing more than disinterested apathy. In 1891, the university was opened to students. Out of the first enrollment of 31 students, only six were of college rank. Much of the curriculum was preparatory since there were no high schools in the state at that time, and there were only six teachers during that first year.

The development of the university was slow for the first two decades largely because the early presidents tended to be partial to local interests. However, in 1913 an appropriation of $165,000 was passed for an agricultural building. Under the administration of R. B. Von Kleinsmid, who was selected as president in 1914, registration increased from 451 to 1732. The faculty was also enlarged, Seward Observatory secured, and the offices of Dean of Men and Dean of Women created. In 1917, the University of Arizona was placed on the accredited list of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools as a degree-granting institution. The Association of American Universities placed the university on its list of approved colleges in November, 1924. In 1930, the College of Law was placed on the list of approved law schools of the American Bar Association, and in 1931 it was admitted to membership of the Association of American Law Schools.

The University of Arizona today is located at Tucson, and it is an integral part of the system of public education established by and for the state. Its purpose is "to provide inhabitants of this state with the means of acquiring a thorough knowledge of the various branches of literature, science and arts," and, in so far as possible, a technical education adapted to the development of the resources peculiar to Arizona. In furtherance of this purpose, the College of Agriculture, the School of Home Economics, the Agricultural Experiment Station, and Agricultural Extension service, the College of Education, the College of Engineering, the College of Law, the College of Liberal Arts, the College of Pharmacy, the College of Mines, the College of Fine Arts, the School of Music, the College of Business and Public Administration, the Graduate College, the Arizona Bureau of Mines, the University Extension Division, the School of Military Science and Tactics, the State Museum, and the Seward Observatory have been organized. In creating the university, the Legislative Assembly wisely unified under one management these various colleges and institutions of higher learning and investigation.

The general organization of the university is in accordance with the Act of Congress of July 2, 1862, known as the Morrill Act, creating the "Land Grant Colleges." The details of its organization and government are regulated by the act of the Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Arizona, passed in 1885, and subsequent acts of the Legislature. The university is maintained by funds appropriated by the State of Arizona, the United States government, and certain fees and collections. A value of nearly $11,000,000 is placed on the physical holdings of the University of Arizona. Since the war the university has registered its highest enrollments in history; and the student roll for the first semester last year surpassed 6,000. Over 1,500 students are housed on the campus, and about 250 post-war GI student families are living in Polo Village nearby. The staff of the university is composed of approximately 600 persons.

The government of the institution is vested in the Board of Regents of the University and State Colleges of Arizona, a corporation consisting of the governor and the superintendent of public instruction of the state, ex officio, and eight members appointed by the governor. Appointment is made subject to the advice and consent of the senate. The term of office is eight years, beginning on the date of confirmation by the senate, and continuing until the appointment of a successor. In case of vacancy the governor fills the office by appointment. The board elects a presiding officer, who is president of the board. It also elects its own secretary and treasurer. The Board of Regents has power to control and manage the university and its properties, and to enact laws governing it.

College of Business and Public Administration

Continuously since 1913, a specialized four-year curriculum leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science in Commerce has been offered by the University of Arizona. In 1916, Dr. Elmer J. Brown came to the university as professor of social science; and for a long period the College of Business and Public Administration was known as the Department of Economics, Business Administration and Sociology with Dr. Brown as the head, under the College of Liberal Arts. In 1934, the rapid increase in enrollment and interest in business training led to the creation of the School of Business and Public Administration, with Dr. Brown as director, but still under the Liberal Arts College.

The work in business continued to grow; and in July, 1943, the Board of Regents created the College of Business and Public Administration with Dr. Brown as dean and with four separate departments: business administration, economics, secretarial studies, and sociology. Since its creation, this college has been the second largest division in the university, usually having 17% to 20% of the entire university enrollment. The only larger college is the College of Liberal Arts. Its staff has also grown vastly. In 1916, the dean was the only person. This year 29 staff members, and four graduate students handling laboratory sections, will be there to help him. The growth of the college can be shown in the number of graduates since its beginning. In 1915, there were only 2; in 1925, 8; 1935, 39; 1945, 26. Since the war, enrollment has increased nearly eight-fold. In 1946, there were 37 graduates; in 1951, 169.

In 1949, the Bureau of Business Research was created as a part of the college with Dr. L. W. Casady as head. This department is organized for the purpose of practical investigation and study of business and economic problems. Its objectives are the collection, analysis, arrangement, and the dissemination of economic facts in order to promote the development and utilization of the state's resources; to assist business and governmental units intelligently; to deal with present problems and to plan for the future; and to train and assist faculty and students in the field of business and economic research.

The College of Business and Public Administration belongs to the regional accrediting association and the American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business. This college is a professional one which combines a broad cultural background with an opportunity for concentration in 14 professional fields of study. In the business library, there are books worth $1250 and periodicals valued at $750. The machines and other equipment used for secretarial studies and statistics are valued at $24,000. Two degrees are given in the college: Bachelor of Science in Business Administration, with a choice of ten majors; and Bachelor of Science in Public Administration with a choice of three majors. At the present time, a $750,000 new business and public administration building is scheduled for construction at the University of Arizona. It will contain four stories, 60,000 square feet of floor space, 21 classrooms that will accommodate 1,350 students, six laboratories accommodating 250, and 35 offices plus the main suite of administration offices. It is hoped that this building will be completed by August, 1952.

The History of the Commerce Club

Early in 1950, Dean E. J. Brown of the College of Business and Public Administration called in for a conference one of his outstanding students, Albert H. Holmberg, and asked him to interest a desired number of students in the formation of a new professional business organization. Through Hil Holmberg's efforts, a meeting was held in the Santa Rita Hotel on December 14, 1950, at eight o'clock that evening for a group of selected juniors and seniors. J. D. Thomson, Assistant Grand Secretary-Treasurer of Delta Sigma Pi, traveled from Chicago to present the group with literature and color slides about Delta Sigma Pi. Approximately 30 of those present expressed an interest in Delta Sigma Pi.

The initial project of the Commerce Club, which name the group assumed temporarily, consisted of a lecture on "How to Write an Examination." The address was given by Hil Holmberg who is a special student in the College of Business and Public Administration and a former student at Northwestern and Harvard Universities. A large group of university students from the various colleges attended. Next, the club members toured the Valley National Bank of Tucson. The Valley National Bank is a statewide organization with banks in nine of Arizona's major cities. The third undertaking of the Commerce Club is by far the largest. Due to the fact that Tucson has no Better Business Bureau, and several towns people have been victims of unscrupulous advertising, the group formed a special committee to make a study of several of the nations' Better Business Bureaus and to gather the information necessary to convince the Tucson merchants of the value of having one.

On May 20, 1951, Walter C. Sehm, Grand President of Delta Sigma Pi visited the Commerce Club at the University of Arizona. Brother Sehm was entertained at a dinner meeting, at which the undergraduate members of the club, together with E. J. Brown, dean of the College of Business and Public Administration, were present. At that time, charter requirements and procedure were discussed. Several months later, the Petition to Delta Sigma Pi was received from the Commerce Club; and at the Grand Chapter Congress, which was held in Dallas on September 9 through 12, a chapter was granted by the Grand Council to the Commerce Club at the University of Arizona.

The first officers of Gamma Psi Chapter were: Head Master, Paul G. Carroll; Senior Warden, Duane E. Langeliers; Junior Warden, Fred F. Jiacoletti; Scribe, Max E. Wilson; Treasurer, Paul D. Bishop; and Chapter Advisor, Irving O. Linger.

Those undergraduate members initiated on November 3, 1951, were: Duane A. Aasland, Paul D. Bishop, Harry J. Blaisdell, Edward M. Bollinger, Hollis L. Bollinger, Paul G. Carroll, A. Alan Hanshaw, Albert H. Holmberg, Fred F. Jiacoletti, Richard H. Lambie, Duane E. Langeliers, Edward D. Lobdell, Jr., Robert B. Lowe, Phillip S. Lyddon, Lowell N. Ross, Harold K. Roth, H. Ronald Stevens, Leo B. Switzer, Jr., Robert J. White, Robert S. Wildish, and Max E. Wilson.

Faculty Member Irving O. Linger was also initiated at that time.

Installation of Gamma Omega Chapter at Arizona State College

ON SUNDAY, November 4, 1951, the attention of the entire fraternity moved from Tucson to Phoenix, Arizona, and the installation of our Gamma Omega Chapter in the Department of Business Administration at Arizona State College in neighboring Tempe. All of the festivities were held at the Hotel Westward Ho, Phoenix, Arizona, and began at 2:00 P.M. on Sunday afternoon with the registration of visiting Deltasigs.

The national officers, who were present at the installation of Gamma Psi Chapter, were also in Phoenix for these ceremonies. Past Grand President Sehm of St. Paul again served as the installing officer with assistance from Western Regional Grand Council Member Brandes, Southwestern Regional Grand Council Member Merrick and Assistant Grand Secretary-Treasurer J. D. Thomson. Burell C. Johnson of Los Angeles brought a delegation from Phi Chapter at the University of Southern California, which served as the ritual team.

Brother A. R. Burton, the chapter advisor of Gamma Omega Chapter and an alumnus of our Alpha Delta Chapter at the University of Nebraska, was the toastmaster for the installation banquet. The history of the Department of Business Administration at Arizona State College was ably told by E. J. Hilkert, the head of the department. The scribe of Gamma Omega Chapter, Rodman H. Peil, depicted the founding of Delta Pi Omega, our local petitioning group. As usual the climax to the program came when past Grand President Sehm presented the charge and charter to Gamma Omega Chapter. Marvin I. Sordahl, its head master, accepted the charter with a few brief remarks. W. J. Shofstall, the dean of students at Arizona State College, welcomed Delta Sigma Pi to the campus and predicted a fine future for Gamma Omega Chapter. Harold D. Richardson, dean of Arizona State College, also added his words of welcome. At this point the president of the college, Grady Gammage, was introduced, and he addressed the group in a most inspiring manner. In conclusion, fraternal greetings were extended by Grand Council Members Brandes and Merrick, Assistant Grand Secretary-Treasurer Thomson, and the delegates from Phi Chapter at the University of Southern California and Gamma Psi Chapter at the University of Arizona.

History of Arizona State College

An act of the Thirteenth Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Arizona, approved March 12, 1885, made provision for the establishment at Tempe of a Normal School. This school began on February 8, 1886, with 31 in attendance. The first class of five members graduated in June, 1887. At that time the entire institution was housed in the northwest room of a four-room one story building. During the years which followed, the attendance gradually increased, and with the growing public interest, the course of instruction was expanded year by year, new buildings replaced the historical structure, and from time to time additions were made to the faculty personnel. For many years it was found necessary to provide facilities for high school training preparatory to the two-year normal school course, but, by the year 1919, the growth of the high schools throughout the state had made it possible to eliminate the high school curriculum from the program of studies offered by the Normal School, and the entire attention of the faculty was devoted to the two-year normal school curriculum offered to high school graduates and leading to a diploma entitling the holder to teach in the elementary schools and the junior high schools of the state.

In 1922, the Tempe Normal School Alumni Association sponsored a movement to raise the grade of their Alma Mater to that of a standard Teachers College. After three years of public discussion, in January, 1925, a bill was presented to the Seventh State Legislature which was passed unanimously by that body and signed by Governor George W. P. Hunt on March 7, 1925. By the provisions of this bill, the Tempe Normal School became Tempe State Teachers College, with the power to establish a four-year college curriculum, and the authority to confer upon its graduates the degree of Bachelor of Education. An act of the Ninth Legislature changed the name of the college to read, Arizona State Teachers College at Tempe, and at the same time authorized the college to grant the degree of Bachelor of Arts in Education. In March, 1937, an act of the Thirteenth Legislature authorized the college to grant the advanced degree of Master of Arts in Education. This degree was conferred for the first time on May 31, 1938.

On March 9, 1945, a bill was passed by the State Legislature changing the name of the college to Arizona State College at Tempe, and placing the management of all three state educational institutions under the control of one board called the Board of Regents of the University and State Colleges of Arizona. Each institution retains its identity. The Board of Regents has broad powers. It has authorized new curricula and courses, and the awarding of the degrees of Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science; in addition to the two degrees formerly granted, the degrees of Bachelor of Arts in Education and Master of Arts in Education. The college has had a gradual evolution from the narrow limited curriculum of a Normal School to a college composed of 14 strong departments each offering a major and minor. From the granting of a Normal School diploma, the college has progressed to where it now grants four degrees. From a single building there has evolved a campus containing 40 fine buildings, and the original attendance of 31 has grown to a maximum of 4495 students for the college year, 1950-51.

Department of Business Administration

The Department of Business Administration, as it is known today, consisted only of a commerce section in the beginning and offered commerce and secretarial science. The main purpose of the section was to train commercial teachers. In 1933, this department of the college had only three professors. In 1935, the department's leadership was assumed by Mr. E. J. Hilkert. The introduction of merchandising and economics and the addition of several accounting courses greatly improved the department. The emphasis, however, was still upon secretarial science. Mr. Hilkert continued to expand the accounting section and, in 1946, marketing, advertising and many more economic courses were added. The emphasis was changed from commercial teaching to a professional department of business administration.

In 1948, the commerce department was succeeded by the Department of Business Administration. The old system of majors and minors, common to colleges, was abandoned in the Department of Business Administration. In its place a system of areas of concentration was adopted: accounting, economics and management, marketing and advertising, and secretarial science. A short time later, special fields of emphasis were established. The department has grown from three professors to fifteen. The increase in students has been even more rapid, from a number of 25, excluding the teacher trainees, to the present day figure of about 800. This growth is shown clearly by the expansion program now going on. A new agriculture-business administration building was completed in July, 1951. This is the largest building on campus and brings out the fact that the business department is now the second largest department of the college.

The Department of Business Administration is proud of the fact that they have had more successful candidates for the C.P.A. examination than any other institution in Arizona. This stands as a testimony to the quality of the instruction and the school. The college employs only C.P.A. instructors in accounting. Plans are now being made which will change the status of the Department of Business Administration from a department to a separate school. This change is expected to be effected within a year or two.

Each student seeking the degree of Bachelor of Science with an area of concentration in business administration must complete the 40 semester hours of work in generalized courses. In addition to the generalized courses each student must complete 31 to 33 semester hours of prerequisite work in business administration. After these requirements are met, the student must complete the required number of hours in the special field he chooses. The students have a total of 90 courses to choose from in the Department of Business Administration.

The History of Delta Pi Omega

Arizona State College at Tempe grew very rapidly following World War II. In the fall of 1950, the college reached its peak in enrollment. At that time, several men in the Department of Business Administration decided to look into the possibility of organizing some type of a professional business fraternity on the campus. It was felt that the rapid growth of the department had definitely created a need for such an organization. Harry Pappas, Richard Koperek and Richard Baker discussed the idea with Mr. E. J. Hilkert, head of the Department of Business Administration. Mr. Hilkert encouraged the group, and the selection of interested and qualified men was begun.

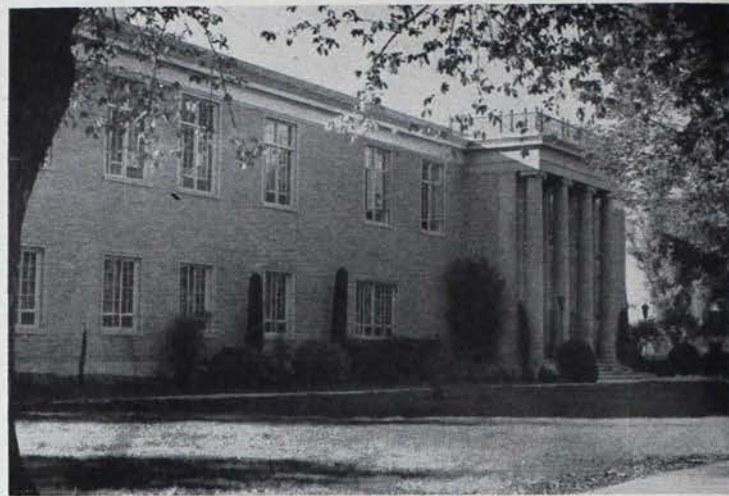

On November 13, Mr. J. D. Thomson, Assistant Grand Secretary-Treasurer, visited Arizona State College and met with members of the faculty and student body at the Casa Loma Hotel in Tempe. At this time he laid the groundwork for subsequent action on the part of Delta Pi Omega. A meeting was held on November 15, 1950, by the students. It was decided to write to The Central Office of the Delta Sigma Pi to obtain additional literature, and that is how the local chapter of Delta Pi Omega was launched. A drive to obtain more members was started, and the names of approximately 40 students who were likely to be interested and who were qualified were obtained.

In February, 1951, another meeting of the interested men was held, and literature from the national headquarters of Delta Sigma Pi was distributed. At that meeting, a committee was chosen to draw up the constitution and by-laws of the local chapter. Another committee was formed to solicit new members, and a third was commissioned to write up the history of the school and Department of Business Administration. Several other meetings were held in which the constitution and by-laws were adopted and new members introduced. On May 21, 1951, Delta Pi Omega was visited by Walter C. Sehm, Grand President of Delta Sigma Pi. He presented a very enlightening talk, and the students were very much impressed with the possibilities offered to a member of the fraternity. Apparently a great deal of information and inspiration was obtained from this visit, and it was decided to proceed as rapidly as possible with the Petition for admission to the fraternity.

With the aid of A. R. Burton, professor of accounting and a member of Delta Sigma Pi, the Petition was started. This was in July, 1951; however, the students were widely scattered for the summer vacation, making it difficult to obtain all the required information. The Petition was nevertheless completed on August 9, 1951. Because the temporary president, Richard Koperek, and the vice president, Richard Baker, graduated in May, new officers were elected in September, 1951. A very active program was inaugurated with the beginning of the fall semester and an increase in the number of members is certain because of the many desirable students available.

The first officers of Gamma Omega Chapter were: Head Master, Marvin I. Sordahl; Senior Warden, Harry A. Rutherford; Junior Warden, John E. Roberts; Scribe, Rodman H. Peil; Treasurer, Robert Q. Leatham; Historian, David L. Dunne; and Chapter Advisor, A. R. Burton.

Those undergraduate members initiated on November 4, 1951, were: Edsil Allred, Frank A. Davis, David L. Dunne, Edward F. Herold, Woodrow W. Hitt, Leo J. Kilian, Jr., Robert Q. Leatham, James Lewis, Harold C. Lippman, Ralph E. Palmer, Harry Pappas, Rodman H. Peil, Leo S. Pickelner, John E. Roberts, Harry A. Rutherford, Kenneth A. Schaefer, Stanley I. Sitton, Marvin I. Sordahl, Bernard H. Strasser and Benjamin F. Tuttle.

The faculty members initiated were: Arthur R. Beals, Walter Gross, Arthur W. Gutenberg, E. J. Hilkert, Bernard G. Lebeau, Dick Mount, and Pete Zidnak.

Harry G. Hickey Appointed to Delta Sigma Pi Grand Council

THE GRAND COUNCIL of Delta Sigma Pi recently appointed Harry G. Hickey, Denver, to fill the Member-at-Large vacancy which was created when Robert G. Busse, Rutgers, was elected to represent the Central Region as its Member of The Grand Council at the Eighteenth Grand Chapter Congress in Dallas.

Brother Hickey is a charter member of Alpha Nu Chapter at the University of Denver, having been initiated on October 10, 1925. Since his initiation he has been very active in fraternity affairs. In 1949 Brother Hickey took on the job of reactivating the Denver Alumni Club, which has developed into one of the strongest alumni clubs in Delta Sigma Pi. At the present time Harry is serving as its president. He is also the Province Officer of Alpha Nu Chapter at the University of Denver.

HARRY G. HICKEY, Denver

Those Deltasigs that were at the Eighteenth Grand Chapter Congress in Dallas will remember Brother Hickey for his efforts to have the next Grand Chapter Congress in Denver. Gamma Iota Chapter at the University of New Mexico will never forget him either as he headed the delegation from Denver that assisted in their installation in May, 1949.

At the present time, Brother Hickey is sales manager of Francis J. Fisher, Incorporated of Denver, one of the largest suppliers of building materials. He has also served as an auditor for the Contract Termination Division of the Federal Government. While in that capacity he resided at Wright Field in Dayton, Ohio.

Selling Yourself

By J. Rowan Taylor, Gamma Zeta Chapter
Associate Professor of Accounting, Memphis State College

IF YOUR FIRST JOB after graduation is obtained through the efforts of your local draft board, then selling yourself will present no problem at all. On the other hand, if you are one of those fortunate enough to be looking for that first job, then selling yourself may be a lot harder than you ever dreamed.

A college diploma is not an "Open Sesame" to a career in the business world. Good grades help but they will never land the position you want unless you sell yourself.

In a recent survey five out of six college graduates made such poor impressions on their first interview that they failed to get the job. Well qualified men and women jeopardized opportunities through faulty conduct during their first interview.

Schools of business all over the United States are beginning to recognize this problem. Most colleges and universities have for many years had placement bureaus which have assisted graduates in making contacts with prospective employers. It has only been in recent years that many of these schools have held "job clinics" which have been planned to help the graduate create the right impression when applying for a position. A few schools have prepared booklets with ideas on what to do and what not to do when applying for a job.

In discussing this problem the personnel manager of a large national firm pointed out many of the faults of applicants with whom he had conducted interviews. Personal appearance headed his list of offenses. He said that many applicants were mentally rejected in the first thirty seconds because of poor taste in dressing, lack of neatness, and lack of personal cleanliness. The "college sprawl," as he called it, may be correct for the fraternity house but not when trying to get a job. Leaning on the desk with elbows does not create a good impression either. General attitude is very important. Many applicants seemed more interested in finding out about vacations and other advantages rather than selling the employer on what the applicant had to offer.

A partner in a large firm of Certified Public Accountants rejected a high ranking college graduate on the second interview when the applicant showed up for the meeting in a bright orange sport shirt. The manager of a local hospital was afraid to hire an "A" student who failed to ask a single question and spoke only when spoken to. A usually shy girl graduate talked her way out of a good paying position by talking constantly throughout the interview. These are typical true examples of how well educated and capable people have blundered in seeking a job.

A leading salesman once said that three personal factors usually measure success in selling: "knowledge of what we are selling, how hard we work at it, and personality." These three things may apply equally well to selling yourself. Know exactly what job you are applying for. Know what you have to offer and know how you can be an asset to the business. Work at the job of selling yourself. You should put as much time and effort and thought into selecting and applying for a job as possible. Your personality should be natural. You must appear to be friendly, intelligent and well adjusted.

Remember that employers are looking for business men and not college kids. Wearing a hat always makes a person look more mature and may help tremendously when applying for a responsible position. If you want to be a business man then you want to look like one. Many public accounting firms require all of their employees to wear white shirts and conservative ties. This might be a good rule to imitate if you are applying for that type of work. Needless to say your shoes should be shined, your fingernails clean and your entire appearance should be neat.

Many schools prepare data sheets for each graduate to use in applying for jobs. Some schools even have pictures of the applicant printed on the data sheets. This is an excellent idea, which may involve work, but will certainly pay off. If you have a complete data sheet showing your personal description, family status, religious affiliations, hobbies, job experience, military experience, educational background, and a list of references, it creates a very good impression. A well written letter of application may be twice as effective if you will include your picture. These ideas demonstrate your initiative and forethought in seeking a position.

When preparing a data sheet you should keep in mind that the person that will be reading it wants to learn all about you, but at the same time he may not be willing to wade through pages of data to obtain this information. Before preparing your own data sheet it might be wise to review the recommended examples that appear in practically all texts on the subject. The Delta Sigma Pi Directory of Graduates also would be an excellent guide to follow in organizing your data sheet.

Every employer will want references so it is always wise to ask someone before using his name as a reference and be sure to have his correct address and telephone number ahead of time.

A good data sheet or letter of introduction and a good appearance always help to get you off to a good start in an interview. If you have a choice between a lounging chair and a straight chair, select the straight chair. Remember that you should appear alert and interested in the interview. Most employers expect you to ask questions but don't give the impression that you are mainly interested in the hours, the pay, and the vacations.

If you plan your approach properly you should know something about the type of business, the size of the company, the products and other general information. Also, you should try to find out as much as possible about the job ahead of time. If you know exactly what you are applying for then you can plan how best to sell yourself. Try to imagine the type of employee that a particular business is looking for and you will usually find that he is a normal well adjusted person. Most employers want him to be courteous, friendly, and intelligent. They want someone who appears to be reliable and sincere. If you convey these impressions when applying for a job, then you will go a long way toward selling yourself.

THE WORLD OVER

BALTIMORE

AS BALTIMORE DELTASIGS read this they will be preparing for our Annual Bowling Party to be held at the Stadium Alleys on Saturday, February 16. This is one time we hope everybody "strikes" out with room to "spare!"

The first alumni social affair of the year, held January 26, was a tremendous success. The entertainment committee did themselves proud by completely filling the Cadoa. Incidentally, brothers, in case you haven't heard, this will be annually sponsored by the alumni club and all proceeds will go toward building, renting or just plain finding a Chi Chapter house in Baltimore. We won't say when, but believe President Jim Moore had a great idea in getting this under way. It may be a trite expression, but we know that all things had a small beginning—even Delta Sigma Pi, and look at us now!

Charity knows no season! Although you're thinking of spring training right now, we would like to reflect back to Christmas and congratulate our active brothers of Chi Chapter for their splendid thought in giving gifts to the Rosewood Training School in Baltimore. We're all proud of you, Chi Chapter! May we humbly suggest that more chapters in Delta Sigma Pi take this under consideration. It's a worthy cause and enhances your own feeling of the brotherhood of man.

Don't forget our next two affairs—a cocktail party will be held at McCarthy-Hicks on March 18. The liquid is on the house and a lively poker game is promised (bring your own money). Also bear in mind our second Business Clinic of the year. Brother Moore promises another excellent panel-type discussion. It's Tuesday, April 22 at Levering Hall.

We're happy to report the activity and cooperation of all alumni has helped your Baltimore Alumni Club to keep up an excellent record this year. There's laughs, fun, fellowship and only necessary business at all our affairs, so if you've been missing out—get out of that easy chair and be at the next affair.—HUGH G. MONAGHAN

Deltasig Saluted at Testimonial Dinner

JOHN S. CONROY, III, Temple, Deputy Attorney General for the state of New Jersey, was recently honored at a testimonial dinner sponsored by dignitaries of his home town, Burlington, New Jersey. Presentations were made by the Burlington Chamber of Commerce and the Burlington Lions Club. The Honorable Lester A. Drenk, judge of the Burlington County Court, acted as toastmaster; and greetings were extended by the Honorable Richard P. Hughes, mayor of the city of Burlington.

Brother Conroy was born in Burlington on August 15, 1914. He is a graduate of the Burlington High School and was for several years president of the alumni association. He matriculated at Temple University and it was here, in 1933, that he became a member of Delta Sigma Pi. During the time he spent at Temple University he served as a member and head master of Delta Sigma Pi, and president of the Interfraternity Council, the Student Council, and the Debating Society.

He passed the New Jersey Bar Examination in October of 1940 and was admitted to practice before the New Jersey and United States Federal District Courts. He maintains offices in both Burlington and Florence, New Jersey, in the general practice of law. In October, 1951, he was sworn in as Deputy Attorney General for the state of New Jersey. In addition, his civic activities have been varied and extensive.

ST. LOUIS

THE ST. LOUIS ALUMNI CLUB held its first monthly meeting of 1952 at the Forest Park Hotel on Thursday, January 17. A report by Treasurer Ray Oppliger confirmed the already known fact that the cocktail party held December 1 at the Naval Air Station Officers Club, Lambert Field was a financial as well as a social success.

Herschel Sanner, chairman of the committee to revise the present membership directory, reported on the progress of the work accomplished. In addition all addressograph plates for the St. Louis area have been reviewed and corrected where necessary. We thank this committee for their fine efforts in this very important project.

A Yellow Dog Initiation is scheduled for the February meeting for the benefit of all alumni and actives who have as yet not had the opportunity to join this select circle. Many Yellow Dogs who attended the convention in Dallas last September have yelped with joy at the prospect of initiating some of our "esteemed" alumni.

Plans for future social activities were discussed also. An outdoor stag and barbecue, a family picnic, and other events were offered as suggestions for the social committee's consideration.

After the meeting had adjourned, Secretary John Feltman introduced Mr. William Huber, head of the tax department, at Touche, Niven, Baily & Smart, Certified Public Accountants, who spoke on the subject, "How Recent Tax Changes Affect the Individual." This timely subject was followed by a question and answer session. The active participation in this session by all the brothers indicated that the subject of taxation, while perhaps not too popular to the taxpayer on March 15, is nevertheless a very interesting and much discussed subject.

Refreshments and the renewal of friendships with attending brothers provided the finishing touches to the evening.—ELMER BLANKMANN

TULSA

A PRIVATE DINING ROOM on the Mezzanine floor of Pride's Cafeteria is the new setting for the monthly meetings of the Tulsa Alumni Club. This location is a favorite because of the wide selection of food, and the casual atmosphere of the cafeteria. Time for the meetings is now 6:30 instead of 7:00 p.m. on the second Wednesday of every month.

A popular feature of the dinner meetings is the drawing for theater passes. Seems the gambling spirit of the group is brought out by each member contributing ten cents to a "theater ticket pot," and a drawing being held at the next meeting for two passes. This has been found to be a good way to encourage attendance, for the member must attend the next meeting in order to qualify.

For a job well done in editing our monthly newsletter, Paul Ripley is due much credit. The men feel his efforts have been well rewarded by increased interest in the club. Paul is second vice president. Other officers are Forrest Price, president; Kenneth Popejoy, secretary; Jim Conner, treasurer; Jack Parker, first vice president; and Bruce Riehart, third vice president.

To enrich a depleted treasury in a painless manner was a recent project. This object was accomplished with a rummage sale, with Harold Likens acting as chairman of that committee.

A stag party was held recently for the graduating seniors of Beta Chi Chapter. It is our sincere hope that the undergraduate members at the University of Tulsa become increasingly aware of the importance of the alumni group. The door is open for any Delta-sig to join in our fellowship.—ROBERT R. LAMM

Wehe Heads Trade Group

THE PRESIDENT of the Overly Manufacturing Company, Herbert W. Wehe, Pittsburgh, has been elected to the presidency of the National Metal Clad Door Association, which has its headquarters in Buffalo, New York. For many years, Brother Wehe has been a director in this trade association, whose members are representative manufacturers of Kalamein, composite and tin clad fire doors. The agenda of the national group involves fire protection standards, trade practices, and periodical reports.

Of the firms comprising the association, two that are headed by Brother Wehe operate plants in Greensburg and Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and in Los Angeles, California, under the name Overly Manufacturing Company. For many years Brother Wehe served Delta Sigma Pi as a member of the Grand Council.

Another Deltasig Heads Business Research at Alabama

HENRY B. MOORE, Kentucky, recently became director of the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Alabama; replacing Dr. H. H. Chapman, Alabama, in the bureau portion of the latter's activities. Brother Chapman was the first director of the bureau and has held that position for 21 years. He planned the scope of the bureau's work, defined its aims, developed its techniques, gathered its staff, led it, and directly performed a large part of its work. As the result of Dr. Chapman's suggestion that he be relieved of a portion of his duties, a decision was made by the university to select a new director. Brother Moore, who was then director of the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Colorado, accepted this position.

Henry is a graduate of the University of Kentucky and of the Harvard Business School. He has taught at various universities over a period of years. His last exclusively teaching assignment was as associate professor at the University of Kentucky from 1937 to 1942. His contacts with business have always been close and his personal experience in business has been considerable. Brother Moore has also served in the field of government for some time. He is the author of a number of research bulletins and monographs, also.

CHICAGO

THE BETA CHAPTER HOUSE, 42 East Cedar Street, became known as "Igloo Inn" on the night of December 8 when the Chicago Alumni Club held its annual Christmas party there. The "Sleighbell Fling" was attended by about 33 couples. Arrangements were handled by Tony Raynor, chairman; Mel Jackson; and John Brown. They were ably assisted by their respective spouses. Or was it the other way around? The large Christmas tree, wreaths, giant Santa faces, and the miniature igloo centerpiece on the buffet table helped put us all in a festive mood. The fellows were bedecked with small bells on their coat lapels to carry out the sleighbell theme. Women were given miniature Christmas tree ornament pins. Games were played and old acquaintances were renewed. All of the couples seemed to take good advantage of the lively dance tunes that were played by a very talented accordionist. As was to be expected, one of the outstanding events of the party was the midnight buffet supper, which consisted of tasty beef barbecues and all of the trimmings.

Our next mixed party is tentatively scheduled for sometime in May, but between now and June we will hold five more stag dinners at our regular meeting place of Toffenetti's. The annual golf outing in June will round out the year's activities.—JOHN W. BROWN

Faculty Member Killed in France

MERTON P. KILGORE, San Francisco, a major in the United States Air Force, was killed recently when the plane he was piloting crashed as the result of bad weather over Southern France. Brother Kilgore was involuntarily recalled to active duty with the Air Force last July. During World War II he was the leading light bomber pilot in the South Pacific. The tragedy occurred at the time a plane was forced down in Hungary by the Communists. Merton was first pilot of one of those planes sent out in the search party at that time.

Also a guest at this function was Grand Council Member William R. Merrick (right) of the Southwestern Region. Presiding is Oscar Hunter, Jr. (center) the president of the Houston Alumni Club.

HOUSTON

TWENTY-EIGHT members of the Houston Alumni Club were present at the annual Founders' Day meeting held at the Town House on November 20. The club was honored to have Grand President Howard B. Johnson of Atlanta as the speaker and Grand Council Member Bill Merrick. Howard's inspiring talk made each member present think again of the principles on which Delta Sigma Pi was founded. Everyone enjoyed meeting Brother Johnson and Grand Council Member Merrick. The meeting was considered to be one of the most outstanding Founders' Day meetings held since the formation of the Houston Alumni Club.

Much progress is being made on the plans for the third Southwest Regional Conference to be held in Houston May 2, 3 and 4. Houston Alumni Club President Oscar Hunter, Jr., made the following appointments recently: Charles Hughes, general chairman; Ira Strickler, assistant chairman; Bob Anchutz, hotel arrangements and reservations; Chris Douglas, ship channel tour chairman; Errol Fry and Jake Marrow, finance committee; Doc Wussow, publicity and printing; Don Hoban, stag party; and Anita Shirer, women's activities.

Thanks to Doc Wussow, there was a turkey given away at the November meeting and ham given away at the December meeting. Each member attending the meetings was given a number, and the lucky number won the prize. Past president John McLaughlin won the turkey, and Frank Wettstein won the ham.

Tentative plans are being made for a formal dance to be held sometime around the last of February or the first of March.

Members are looking forward to meeting Jim Thomson, Assistant Grand Secretary-Treasurer, who will be the guest speaker at the next meeting on January 15. Frank Wettstein is in charge of the meeting and is hoping for a large attendance.—JAMES H. MARRS

DELTASIGS OF ACHIEVEMENT

JOHN E. PARKS, Virginia Judge, First Circuit Court of Hawaii

IT WAS WHILE attending the University of Virginia that John E. Parks was initiated into Alpha Xi Chapter of Delta Sigma Pi in 1929. Continuing his studies, he won his LL. B. degree upon graduating from law school at the University of Virginia in 1934. For the next two years, Brother Parks was employed in various positions in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, at the end of which time he married, going to Hawaii on his honeymoon. It was there that he associated with Judge P. L. Rice in the practice of law in Hawaii.

In 1939, he became Assistant United States Attorney for Hawaii, at Honolulu, and, in 1941, Assistant Public Prosecutor for the city and county of Honolulu. Brother Parks then engaged in private practice in 1946, but the following year was appointed Judge of the First Circuit Court of Honolulu by the President, and is presently serving as Circuit Judge under the above appointment. Having risen to the top of his profession in such a short time, John E. Parks is certainly entitled to a place among "Deltasigs of Achievement."

In addition, John participates actively in many professional and business organizations. He is the director of the Chamber of Commerce in Honolulu; a member of the executive board, Honolulu Council, Boy Scouts of America; the director of the Hawaii Cancer Society, Limited; a member of the Board of Governors, Commercial Club; a member of the Bar Association of Hawaii, the American Bar Association and the Virginia Bar; and he also served as chairman of the Public Utilities Commission, Territory of Hawaii. One of Brother Parks's favorite pastimes is yachting and he is a member of the Waikiki Yacht Club and the Propeller Club of the Port of Honolulu.

DANIEL C. GAINEY, Minnesota President, Josten Mfg. Co.

DANIEL C. GAINEY, Minnesota, has successfully directed the activities of the Josten Mfg. Co., in Owatonna, Minnesota, for thirty years, and during the past twenty years has served as its president and principal owner. Manufacturers of class rings, Josten has among its customers more than 8,000 of the 23,000 schools and colleges that annually buy class rings, and it is one of the most successful organizations of its kind. Annual sales approximate $7,000,000, net before taxes $750,000; and it provides a living for 550 craftsmen and women, 120 salesmen, plus a few top executives.

Brother Gailey has had much to do with completely altering the complexion of the business. Through shrewd salesmanship and management, seasonal peaks and valleys of sales and production have been smoothed out of what used to be a 90-day business, and merchandise quality has been sharply improved. Gailey's picture appeared on the cover of a recent issue of Business Week which also contained a feature article describing the Josten Mfg. Co.

Brother Gailey was initiated into Alpha Epsilon Chapter on May 2, 1951, as an Honorary Member. He is a graduate of Hamline University of St. Paul, and after graduation he was employed as a teacher and athletic coach before going to the Josten Mfg. Co. He is a past president of the Rotary Club of Owatonna and of the Hamline University Alumni Association, is a member of the Board of Regents of the University of Minnesota, a director of the Minnesota Employers' Association, and a member of the National Association of Manufacturers. As a hobby, he raises Arabian horses on his farm in Owatonna and on his ranch in Arizona.

COLUMBIA

MEMBERS of the Columbia Alumni Club of Delta Sigma Pi have continued to work hard toward the attainment of the goals set by the organization for this year. Particular emphasis has been placed on projects designed to raise funds for the construction of the proposed lodge on the recently purchased property now being developed by the club at nearby Lake Murray. The sale of certificates of membership to the Lodge Corporation continues as an effort is being made to solicit the interest and cooperation of all alumni in the area on this major project.

The club has had several interesting professional programs at our regular monthly dinner meetings, and we are also providing speakers at the professional meetings of the undergraduate chapter, Beta Gamma at the University of South Carolina. Our frequent social activities have been lots of fun and have helped to develop a high fraternal spirit. The "Rose of Deltasig" Dance, which was co-sponsored with the Beta Sigma Chapter in February, was a big success. The stag party in March which replaced our regular dinner meeting was thoroughly enjoyed also by a big turn out.—WILLIAM W. JOHNSON

NEW ORLEANS

FROM STOREKEEPER TO TREASURER, that is the story of Brother Henry Schnittker. He was recently honorably discharged from the U. S. Navy after 15 months in the Pacific. On his return, he was elected treasurer of the New Orleans Alumni Club, succeeding Tom Gooch who had to relinquish the post due to increased responsibilities in his present job.

Members of the New Orleans Alumni Club attended the first guided tour of the studios of Station WDSU-TV. Mr. Hubie Weiss, program director of the station, escorted the group through the television studios and explained the many details necessary for the successful production of a television show. In addition, members viewed actual production of two live programs.

The New Orleans Alumni Club, in conjunction with Gamma Mu Chapter, got into the spirit of the Mardi Gras with a Masquerade Party. A complete social and professional program has been planned, with election of officers scheduled in June.—EDWIN B. ANGEL

MIAMI

SINCE OUR FOUNDER and province officer, Dan Steinhoff, Jr., became dean of the evening division at the University of Miami, the alumni club has been assisting with registration of evening students. Whether it is the progressiveness of Dan Steinhoff, or the "efficiency" of the alumni club members who volunteer as registrars, the evening division has set a new enrollment record each semester. There are presently 6,000 enrolled.

The four-day enrollment period for the winter semester begins February 8, and will enable our alumni members to reacquire themselves with the registration system and thus add a good sum to our treasury.

Another money raising project scheduled on February 14, Valentine's Day to be exact, is the sponsoring of ticket sales to the University Ring Theatre production "They Knew What They Wanted." The Ring Theatre has received wide publicity in its selection of plays and the excellent play-acting presented thus far. The alumni have arranged to sell 100 tickets for the play and the method adopted in making this project 100% perfect is to assign four tickets to the members and two tickets to the faculty, making them responsible to pay for them, regardless whether they sell them or not. This adds another $50.00 to our coffer. A get-together is planned for the alumni and their dates at one of the member's homes after the play.

The Miami Alumni Club is still holding its weekly luncheons on Fridays, at the downtown Everglades Hotel dining room. These luncheons have proved to be successful as a meeting place for many alumni visiting our beautiful city. Regular monthly business meetings are held on the first Monday of each month.—JOE HILLIARD, JR.

SIGMA CHAPTER at the University of Utah started the winter quarter with another of the always interesting and enjoyable rush smokers at the home of Don Miller. This event and regular meetings of the quarter have already brought out eight prospective pledges. Gene Mercer performed very well on the house side of roulette. Boys, we should have gone to Las Vegas. However, it has been rumored that some of the guests did not do too badly.

We were all very glad to have Bob Ryberg on hand for this one. Bob has been in the Army for the past year and is an agent in the CID with the rank of corporal. Upon his return to his station he is to be given a Far East assignment. Good luck, Bob.

William Finney joined the ranks of alumni and also those of married brothers upon the termination of fall quarter. We bachelors have now had our number decreased by three since the end of the 1950-51 school year. Gentlemen—a toast to the three lucky girls.

Bill's father, Mr. Charles E. Finney was the speaker at our January professional meeting. Mr. Finney is the president of the Salt Lake Refinery, subsidiary of Standard Oil of California. The members and pledges were quite impressed by a tour of Standard's large Salt Lake installation on February 3. Final plans are also being made for the Western Regional Meeting at Frisco in February. Several actives and pledges will make the trip. See you there.—C. DAVID HUSER

DETROIT—Gamma Rho

GAMMA RHO CHAPTER added five new brothers to its rolls during the first semester. The initiation and banquet were held at the Sheraton Hotel. Dean William B. O'Regan was the toastmaster. Besides acting in the capacity of toastmaster, Brother O'Regan gave an inspiring talk on being affiliated with the best business Fraternity, Delta Sigma Pi.

Upon resumption of the second semester, our second pledging program starts on February 15 with a rush party. We hope to gain 15 new brothers during this program. This June Gamma Rho Chapter will have about 16 brothers graduate.

A blood bank was started by the new brothers taken in during the first semester. The blood bank will be available to all students of the College of Commerce and Finance, Evening Division, of the University of Detroit.

For the regional meeting to be held in Cleveland during May, Gamma Rho Chapter is working to get a sizeable delegation to attend. From all indications most of the brothers are arranging their affairs so that they will be able to attend the meeting. Other social events to follow are the annual golf tournament and the annual fraternity picnic.—GILBERT W. DE PONIO

BAYLOR

THE CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS were a welcome relief from school, but the brothers of Beta Iota Chapter were glad to be able to reassemble January 7 for the first business meeting of 1952. This was the first meeting for 12 newly initiated members. The winter pledge class was initiated December 17, 1951, and included: Bob Englet, Jay Bagwell, Bill Barron, Bill Rupert, Jerry Gibson, Craig Heath, Jack Hardin, Walter Holcomb, Jud Porter, Bo McCann, Bill Wofford, and Guy Davidson.

January 14, Brother Billy Hinton, instructor of economics, spoke at a professional meeting using the topic, "Character Traits for Success." The following week the installation of spring officers was held. The new chapter offices are: Ben Short, head master; Francis Flanagan, senior warden; John Burton, junior warden; Wayland Stephens, scribe; Jim Hendrix, treasurer; Dale Parker, historian and editor of the chapter publication; and Tommy Wright, chancellor.

J. D. Thomson, Assistant Grand Secretary-Treasurer, visited the chapter in January and a group of the brothers had dinner with him at The Chef. Rushing activities for the spring semester included a professional meeting, an informal smoker, and a dance in honor of the rushees and their dates. A fine group of pledges was chosen February 18. Their pledge period will end May 12 with formal initiation at one of the local hotels.

COLORADO

SINCE THE LAST ISSUE of The DELTASIG much has transpired at Alpha Rho Chapter. All that has happened has been of an exhilarating nature. Naturally Alpha Rho Chapter is more than pleased to be so high on the list in the Chapter Efficiency Contest. All feel confident that we will again reach the limit.

Cupid is having a field day with the group. The first to be pierced by the arrow this semester was Hawley Smith who was married during the Christmas vacation. The next to take the step is our Head Master Ralph Abelt. His time is up in January. Glenn Nelson, though, is way ahead of the rest. His wife presented him with a six pound, 19 inch, baby boy on November 15. The question being asked is, "Where are the cigars?"

Another reason for rejoicing is that past Head Master Ed Bosin is back in our midst. He returned from the wilds of Wyoming to take a job in a local bank—staffed complete with many pretty girls and all the other essentials. Welcome back.

Probably the highlight of the semester was the trip through Coor's brewery. Much to the surprise of everyone it was found that there was more than free beer included in the trip. Coor's is in the malt business, the medical instrument business, and is one of the largest producers of the malt beverage. The cleanliness and efficiency was striking.—DONALD F. LAWSON

NEBRASKA

ELECTION OF OFFICERS for the coming semester is just completed at Alpha Delta Chapter. Chosen for office were: John Grow, head master; Kenneth Neff, chancellor; Roland Haas, scribe; Walter Tompkins, senior warden; Bob Roeder, junior warden; Hugh Meyer, treasurer; and John Lynch, historian. Congratulations to both the new electees, and to the retiring officers for a very successful year!

Formal initiation was held on December 2, with 20 new brothers joining our ranks. We are happy to have them in our brotherhood and feel they will do much toward the betterment of the fraternity.

A large number of Deltasigs and guests participated in an industrial tour to Omaha in December, arranged and directed by the professional committee. It was a busy day with every minute informative and enjoyable. Three firms were visited by the group; Mutual Benefit Health and Accident Insurance Company, Swift & Company Meat Packing Plant, and Storz Brewery. The entire morning was spent with Mutual Benefit and its two companion insurance companies which operate within the same building. We were very much impressed with the inside operation of a large insurance company. No less educational was seeing a meat packing plant in production and learning something of the operations within a brewery.

Plans are being made toward making the dinner dance, to be given in honor of the "Rose of Deltasig," a success again this year. A committee is enthusiastically contacting various women's organizations about the campus in regard to candidates for the Rose. Who could blame them for being enthusiastic?

Alpha Delta is looking forward to the Regional Meeting to be held in Omaha in April.—ROLLIE HAAS and JOHN H. GROW

INDIANA

ALPHA PI CHAPTER'S fall rush smoker was held on November 1. Twelve rushees were shown colored slides illustrating Delta Sigma Pi's history, benefits and insignia. In an informal address, Thomas Bossort, faculty advisor, stressed the importance of Delta Sigma Pi, and its services and benefits, during the undergraduate days and the later business life of each member. Under the tutoring of Junior Warden Robert Weathers and Leland Ott, the pledges were initiated with solemn ceremony in the lounge of the Union Club on January 10. William B. Albertson, Philip D. Bowers, James R. Field, Richard A. Linton, James E. Meck, Louis H. Onstott, Carl B. Philips, Louis Michael Ream, William D. Rudolph, Allen V. Strong, Jr., Orlando Suarez and Paul W. Weir now wear the badge of Delta Sigma Pi.

The banquet honoring the new members was held in the Rathskeller of the Graham Hotel. In an after-dinner speech, Edward E. Edwards, professor of finance, observed that it was 24 years ago in the very same building that he was initiated into Alpha Pi Chapter. He recounted the growth and progress of the chapter contrasting the three year old chapter then with the efficient chapter of today. Head Master Dave Ogden hoped that we could be as fortunate as Professor Edwards and make similar observations 24 years from now.

A highlight of an earlier meeting was the campus anecdotes related by our guest speaker, Mr. Lawrence Wheeler, professor of journalism and director of communications at Indiana University. His story of how to achieve greater publicity has been helpful. In a successful fund raising campaign, 200 boxes of Christmas cards were sold in a record nine days. Many members registered disappointment when they had no more to sell. For the future, tentative plans have been made to bring several speakers from Indianapolis to address the chapter, and an industrial tour to Louisville during the early part of the second semester is being pushed.—CHARLES POLSTRA

BABSON

GAMMA UPSILON CHAPTER on the campus of Babson Institute has not remained idle since the last issue of THE DELTASIG. On October 23, R. T. Early, Jr., of Eastern Gas and Fuel Associates, presented an extremely thought-provoking talk regarding, "It's Time to Sell—the American Free Enterprise System." This information was digested partly on November 9 during a banquet commemorating "Founders' Day." This was the first joint function of Gamma Upsilon Chapter with the Boston Alumni Club and Gamma Chapter of Boston University. November 27, Mr. H. Clyde Baldwin of the finance committee Board of Trustees, Babson Institute of Business Administration, enlightened the brothers as to how Babson Institute is run financially. Mr. Baldwin's effectiveness cleared up many misconceptions regarding Babson Institute's financing.

Gamma Upsilon Chapter believes that social functions are just as much a necessity to the running of a harmonious chapter as professional meetings. On the night of November 30, the Tri-Fraternity Dance was on. A record number of couples danced throughout the evening in the tropical atmosphere of the Shelton Roof. Two other local business fraternities contributed in making the Hotel Shelton, "a star in the Boston skyline." Not forgetting the coupe de grace, every brother's date was presented with a red rose. The "Rose of Deltasig" was sung.

"Help Week" went into full swing November 21, 22, and 23. Twenty-one pledges worked at The Children's Convalescent Home, scrubbing walls, ceilings, floors, and policing the outside grounds. The administrators of the home, founded for the cure and prevention of polio and malnutrition, gave heartfelt thanks to the brothers and pledges. When we initiated 19 new brothers at the University Club on December 1, Gamma Upsilon Chapter knew these men were ready to assume their place in Delta Sigma Pi. Brother Walter Juegnst, New York, and Brother John Keenan, president of the Boston Alumni Club, who were in attendance, gave congratulations to Head Master Waldron for his work in maintaining Gamma Upsilon Chapter as first in the Eastern Regional Chapter Efficiency Contest.—ERWIN A. WEBER

HELP WEEK instead of "Hell Week" was inaugurated at Babson Institute of Business Administration in Boston by our Gamma Upsilon Chapter there. Twenty-one pledges worked at the Children's Convalescent Home, scrubbing floors, walls, ceilings, and cleaning up the grounds. Pictured are Allen Mercer, Jr., scrubbing floor, William Augat, washing wall, children, Karen Leganowicz and David Gagnon, and Nurse Ann Johnson.

MINNESOTA

THIS WRITING finds the house at 1029 Fourth Street S.E., considerably more liveable than our visitors on Psi Chapter at the University of Wisconsin found it in November, when they arrived to cheer for their football team in Minnesota's Memorial Stadium. Major repairs are completed and although a few of the actives are still dissatisfied with the fact that a glass door was not installed in the newly finished girl's powder room, it is generally agreed that the Alpha Epsilon Chapter house now is improved well over 100 per cent. During our two week Christmas vacation, finishing touches were made inside by a group of actives. Under the competent direction of newly elected Head Master Jack Rudolph, these fellows covered the walls and ceilings with a varied assortment of paints. Our thanks go out to these members, and also to Rudy Jansen and the other alumni who have so capably directed alterations.

Professional meetings of late included a tour through the local paper The Minneapolis Star and Tribune which was arranged by Professional Chairman Howard Furlong. How news is found and printed proved to be very interesting and educational to all members present.

"Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" and Deltasigs are no exception as was shown by the choice of Darlene Peterson as this year's "Rose of Deltasig!" A member of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority, and a home economics major, Miss Peterson was chosen by vote of the active chapter from a field of 18 possible candidates. The judging took place at the house, and later that evening after the ballots were counted the 1952 "Rose of Deltasig" was serenaded by all members at her sorority house with the fraternity song.

The winter formal, climaxed by the crowning of our "Rose," was held in our twin city, Saint Paul, at the Commodore Hotel. Dinner was followed by dancing; and after the band went home, the more hardy couples ended up at the house for coffee and a little sojourn.

We have found ourselves well occupied since the new year began. A New Year's Eve party at the home of Slim Souba was followed by a smoker the first Tuesday of classes; and initiation was held the remainder of the week. An extensive rushing program, instituted by Junior and Senior Wardens Al Rowley and Bob Findorff, is well under way, and a full calendar of professional and social events has given this chapter the feeling that 1952 will indeed be a well filled and we hope prosperous New Year.—JAMES H. SOVA

CINCINNATI

ALPHA THETA CHAPTER is having a good year with the better part of it to come. Since last writing, the main events have been the visit of Grand-Secretary Treasurer "Gig" Wright; the initiation in December; the Holidays; and the current pledge training program. Brother Wright's visit came late in November and a busy day it was, especially for Brother Wright and Brothers Jim Harpring and Gene Conrad, of the local chapter. The honored visitor was conducted on a tour of the College of Business Administration in the forenoon. After luncheon the trio drove to Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, and spent the afternoon as guests of Alpha Upsilon Chapter. Brother Wright's message to Alpha Theta Chapter was delivered at a stated meeting in the evening.

Initiation of nine pledges took place Sunday, December 9, at the Hotel Gibson. Feature of the after-dinner program was an address by Mr. David Reval, of England, who is a graduate student from Oxford. He presented a sparkingly humorous description of the societies and clubs which are, in Britain, comparable to American college fraternities. Professor Harry McLaughlin was toastmaster. Professor Norwood C. Geis, director of admissions at the University of Cincinnati spoke briefly. Both are Deltasigs.

At this writing the pledge program for our March initiation is developing nicely under the direction of Senior Warden Rocco Domino. Three rush parties are planned including a pledge-active-alumni dance early in March. We have every reason to predict a large initiation with a goal of 20 new members in sight.

The Chapter Efficiency Contest committee, with Brother John Alverson as chairman, has succeeded in raising our standing several positions above that held by the chapter one year ago. He is confident that we will be among the leaders in the Central Region.—WILLIAM H. GILGER

SANTA CLARA

AS THE SEMESTER ends we of the Gamma Xi Chapter can look back on a job well done. First of all we have initiated 11 new members into the chapter. While this is not a terrifically large number of initiates it is a highly able group as was evidenced by the way in which it attacked the pledge projects. Secondly we have had two dinner meetings, a trip through the Chevrolet Assembly Plant in Oakland and a barn dance. Third and lastly, this semester we have finally secured a regular meeting place on the campus.

During the coming semester we plan to increase our professional and social activities. Heading the list of proposed activities is our first Annual "Rose of Deltasig" Dance. Arrangements for the dance are being handled by Brother Gene Gianotti and a committee of brothers under him.

This Spring the fraternity will be represented on the Santa Clara varsity baseball team by Brother Don Seybold. Last year as a sophomore, Brother Seybold was a mainstay of the pitching staff and this year is being counted on to spearhead Santa Clara's drive for a California Intercollegiate Championship.—JOHN McCLELEN

U OF Miami

BETA OMEGA CHAPTER opened its pledge program with the initiation of some 30 neophytes. The pledge class was characterized by the active participation of 23 of those initiated. The six-week program saw them undertake many constructive projects, such as the opening of a blood bank account for the benefit of the fraternity and the pledging of seven pints of blood to a needy patient in one of our local hospitals. Each pledge was given a project around campus and all were carried out with much eagerness on the part of the pledges.

In this period, all the pledges proved themselves willing workers by being of great assistance in the many activities undertaken by the active chapter.

The pledge period was brought to a successful conclusion by the formal initiation of 23 new brothers on January 13. The initiation was held at the Miamian Restaurant and was followed by an excellent dinner and speeches headed by Brother James C. Herrin, manager of the Credit Bureau of Miami.

The most important social event of the semester was a Christmas dance held at the Ocean Ranch Hotel on December 15. Everyone had a swell time with the singing of Christmas carols.

Our intramural sports program made a very poor showing in winning only one football game, but we won the most important game of the year by defeating Alpha Kappa Psi by a score of 6 to 0. This is the first of 3 events which will decide who gets possession of a trophy, presented by our chapter for the best two out of 3 athletic events, in a plan to promote good relations between our organizations.

Our active meetings have accomplished much this semester, not only promoting such business activities as the sale of the school magazine, but also showing us the many things we wish to improve in the chapter next semester. This has only come to light because of active participation of an increasing number of brothers.

We will close this semester with the election of officers on January 15, and will open the new semester with the promotion of the name of Delta Sigma Pi foremost in our minds.—GERALD P. BURKHART

SOUTHERN METHODIST

THE MEMBERS of Beta Phi Chapter are indeed thankful for the manner in which our new Province Officer, Professor Frank Young, has gone about rebuilding our chapter in spite of declining enrollment, draft and graduation problems. He put the active members who were left in the chapter to work and we have kept plugging away all semester until, by the time this goes to press, we will have pledged a small but determined group of persons which we feel includes excellent material with which to rebuild our chapter.

On Sunday, January 13, the following pledges were initiated: Robert W. Bunkley, Lewis Wertheimer, John Clark, Farris Hogue, David L. Florence and Dr. Roy L. McPherson. Dr. McPherson is professor of finance in the School of Business Administration and we feel ourselves extremely fortunate to have him as a faculty member.

The following were among our more interesting professional activities this past semester. On Friday, September 28, we heard Mr. Milton Horton of the National Title and Guaranty Company. He discussed the functions of title and abstract companies. Similarly on October 5, the Deltasigs sponsored a talk by Mr. Howell Summers of the Surety and Fidelity Bonding Company of Dallas. On Friday, November 23, we heard Brother George Sanderson's employer, Bertha Maupin, explain the nature of her import business. She showed us many samples of ladies' clothing which she imports from Mexico. We were also served refreshments in her offices in the Wholesale Merchants Building of Dallas. On Monday, December 17, Mr. Eddie D. Forbes of the Forbes Loss Adjustment Agency of Dallas was sponsored by the Deltasigs in a talk on loss adjustment from the insurance viewpoint.

The last professional meeting of the semester was held on Friday, January 11, 1952. Head master Lee Barr arranged for the group to see the sound film, "Fair Exchange," produced by the investment firm of Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Beane. At the conclusion, Brother Barr led a discussion period. He is well qualified to do this by reason of the fact that he is employed by an investment syndicate, Managed Funds, Inc., and is familiar with the investment problems covered in the film.

On the social side this semester, we again celebrated Founders' Day with the Dallas Alumni Club at the home of Floyd Garrett. We also were guests of the Dallas Alumni Club at its annual Christmas party which progressed from the home of Bill Merrick to Ken White's, and then wound up with the main course at the familiar and always friendly and gracious home of the Garretts. To conclude our semester's activities, we decided not to have our formal initiation banquet but to have an informal Mexican dinner at the El Fenix restaurant. This turned out to be a very delightful occasion.—L. LEON BARR

SAN FRANCISCO

GAMMA OMICRON CHAPTER finished the year 1951 with a mixture of social and professional events. On December 14, 1951, in a Christmas setting at the Mill Valley Golf Club, the annual "Rose of Deltasig" formal dance was held. Miss Leona Lazzareschi was selected as Gamma Omicron Chapter of Delta Sigma Pi's "Rose of Deltasig." Miss Lazzareschi was selected from six lovely contestants by the undergraduate members of the chapter.

Miss Allana Winters, "Rose of Deltasig" for 1951, presented Miss Lazzareschi with the queen's trophy and the traditional bouquet of red roses. Raymond Neal, head master of the chapter, gave Miss Lazzareschi the fraternity kiss and she led the first waltz with her escort, Mr. Dom Tarantino. Each of the princesses followed with their escorts: June Cosio with Al Baggiani, Ellen Cairns with John Giampaoli, Jean Kindy with Ed Dawson, Vivian Espindola with Roy Vallarino, and Beverly Luchetti with Walt Bernard.

Dancing was enjoyed from 9 to 1 to Howard Frederic's orchestra by fraternity brothers and their friends from the three Bay Area chapters, Rho at the University of California, Gamma Xi at the University of Santa Clara, and Gamma Omicron at the University of San Francisco.

The entire affair was a social and financial success and a fitting celebration for the beginning of the Christmas season. New Year's eve

GAMMA OMICRON CHAPTER'S "Rose," Miss Leona Lazzareschi dancing with her escort, Dom Tarantino, at the Annual "Rose" Formal of Gamma Omicron Chapter at the University of San Francisco. found the brothers celebrating the advent of 1952 at the Lion's Hall on Stanyan Street in San Francisco. Over 50 brothers and their dates attended as well as the alumni. Also in attendance were Dean and Mrs. Roy C. Hall and their son.

The University of San Francisco held its Tenth Annual Winter Carnival on January 5, 1952. Gamma Omicron Chapter was very pleased to have the "Tie and Scarf" booth at the affair. The chapter's carnival booth was a financial success and the profit was turned over to the University.

The last affair held before the final exams was a professional meeting and luncheon at the El Portal Restaurant in San Francisco. Guest speaker was Fran Bowen, office manager of the C & H Sugar Refining Company. Mr. Bowen has been with the C & H Sugar Refining Company for 21 years. The past 10 years, he has served in his present capacity. Mr. Bowen is also the president of the Office Managers Association in San Francisco. Also present at the professional meeting and luncheon was Kenneth Young, faculty advisor for Gamma Omicron Chapter. The affair was well attended by the brothers. The first professional meeting for the new year was very successful, and a step in the right direction for a banner year for Gamma Omicron Chapter.—RAYMOND P. NEAL

TEMPLE

THE DELTASIGS of Omega Chapter are enjoying another prosperous year. We have our eye set on the 100,000 point goal in the Chapter Efficiency Contest and we sincerely feel that we are not being too optimistic about it. At the time the last contest standings were issued, our chapter was rated sixteenth in the national standings and second in the Eastern Region. Although Omega Chapter very seldom has rated low in the final standings in previous Chapter Efficiency Contests, they have never shown such a will to succeed so early in the contest.

The first thing we accomplished this school year was to initiate a class of 18 new brothers and two new faculty brothers after just recently initiating a class of 22 members in the spring of 1951. With Temple being located in central Philadelphia and with very few of the male students living on campus or deciding to join a fraternity, we are at a disadvantage that affects few of our other chapters. Regardless of the odds, we are planning to initiate another large class this spring.

Secondly, we have tried to schedule more professional programs, movies, and lectures. Up to the present time we have had various professional activities at every other chapter business meeting and have plans to continue those activities throughout the remainder of the school year. Our alumni are showing more and more interest in the active chapter which is always indicative of a prosperous future. In addition, our chapter newsletter, The Omegazine, has yet to find its equal.

A chapter cannot function well without an efficient administration and a highly interested active membership. Omega Chapter has been blessed with both during the first semester of the 1951-52 school year. We fervently hope that both these ideals stay intact during this semester under our new officers. A vote of sincere appreciation is warranted to the Brothers that have just completed a very successful administration.

With the present plans which are being conducted by the new administration it looks as though our Dinner Dance on May 10 will be the biggest, best, and more lavish than ever before. It's up to the alumni to make it a complete success.—RICHARD E. HORLEY

ALABAMA POLY.

THE INITIATION of twenty new brothers and two Honorary Members, W. T. Ingram, business manager of Alabama Polytechnic Institute, and Scott Avery, treasurer of the West Point Manufacturing Company, will be climaxed with an address by our Grand President, Howard B. Johnson. His address will be given at the initiation banquet which will also feature the presentation of the 1952 "Rose of Deltasig" of Beta Lambda Chapter. Under the guidance of Beta Lambda Chapter, the professional committee has presented an outstanding series of professional programs. So far this year, we have enjoyed speakers in the fields of accounting, advertising and salesmanship. The program for the remainder of the year includes further professional talks and several field trips to some of the leading industrial areas in the state.

The Chapter Efficiency Contest is making headway under the capable hand of Brother Jim Williams. Every brother in Beta Lambda Chapter is determined to reach the 100,000 point goal, and we are all striving for the further improvement and growth of our chapter.

GRAND SECRETARY-TREASURER H. G. Wright speaks to members of Alpha Xi Chapter at the University of Virginia. Grand President Johnson was also in attendance at this banquet which was held in the Monticello Hotel in Charlottesville, Virginia.

ST. LOUIS

EACH YEAR during the Christmas holidays Beta Sigma Chapter plans at least one get-together to highlight the vacation. This main event, toward which each Deltasig looks forward, is none other than the annual Christmas Party, held at the Claridge Hotel this year. Actives as well as pledges really enjoyed themselves at the party, and the fun was touched-off by the presence of Brothers Larry Hild and Halpin Burke, past head master and junior warden, respectively. Both alumni of Beta Sigma Chapter are lieutenants in the Air Force and were fortunate in getting home for Christmas.

Other than arranging for a pre-lenten dance, the social committee has been kept busy preparing for the "Rose of Deltasig" Contest. As last year, a special committee was appointed to choose the "Rose of Deltasig" and her maids-of-honor from candidates selected by the active chapter. The members of this committee keep their selection a secret until the coronation ceremony at Beta Sigma Chapter's Spring Formal. This makes its annual dinner-dance quite an impressive and outstanding event.

The precedent was broken this year in the professional committee's successful scheduling of a series of luncheons during which outstanding speakers in the fields of business administration address the active chapter and guests. Besides luncheons several tours have been arranged, one being through the Scullen Steel Plant. Here the methods used in the processing of various parts of railroad cars, and the manufacture of certain products for the Government, made this tour interesting and educational to all who attended.

The 1951-52 pledgeship will be successfully completed with mock initiation on March 8, and formal initiation March 9. The annual pledge dance was held on January 12. On this occasion the neophytes were given an opportunity to display their talents in entertaining the alumni and actives present. Hats off to Senior Warden George Dreckshage and Junior Warden Bill Hooper who did a splendid job conducting the pledgeship.

Concerning intramural sports, the Deltasigs here at St. Louis University are faring very well, and are upholding their traditional high standing. Although the results in football and basketball were just fair, this was more than compensated by high placing in volleyball, bowling, handball, and table tennis.

Beta Sigma Chapter is now on the lookout for a chapter lodge where its meetings and various other activities may be held. Beta Sigma alumni, joint contributors to our building fund, have been consulted; and it was agreed upon to put these funds to use, with the Deltasig Lodge of Kappa Chapter as an ideal.

With the closing of the past semester, Beta Sigma Chapter lost one of its most active members, Jim Noble, graduating in January, was accepted into the Air Force as a result of St. Louis University's R.O.T.C. program. Brother Noble has served on many chapter committees for the past four years and was appointed Beta Sigma Chapter's Delegate to the Eighteenth Grand Chapter Congress. The active chapter will greatly miss his presence at their meetings, and wishes him good luck and a speedy return home. —EARL Q. SMITH

VIRGINIA

ALPHA XI CHAPTER here at the University of Virginia held its first regular initiation of the current school year on December 1 in St. Paul's Church. At this time, six new members were accepted by the brotherhood. These were: John Houser, Victor Holden, William Linkous, Harvey Sanford, Rodger Rohrbach, and Thomas Moffitt. The banquet was held on December 3 in the Monticello Hotel in order that Howard B. Johnson, Grand President, and H. G. Wright, Grand Secretary-Treasurer, might join us. The banquet this time was held in a better location and the entire affair proved even more enjoyable than previous ones. The members of the chapter were very pleased that several of our national officers were able to be present, and we look forward to having them with us again soon.

In addition to Mr. Roy Wheeler who spoke on real estate earlier in the semester, Mr. Charles McFee, state executive secretary of the Retail Merchants' Association, spoke to the brotherhood on retailing and answered many pertinent questions in the minds of the members of the fraternity.

At the last business meeting plans for the coming semester were laid out. Some of these include the "Rose of Deltasig" contest, and field trips to the Federal Reserve Bank in Richmond and the E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Company plant in Waynesboro, Virginia. Another speaker is scheduled to address the members in the very near future.

BOSTON

WITH FINALS OVER and forgotten, Gamma Chapter at Boston University has begun, what is perhaps, one of its busiest programs, both socially and professionally.

The initiation, held recently, proved to be one of the best Gamma Chapter has ever experienced. Our new Keeper is Brother Don Deary. Other new members include Dick Carlson, Russ Johnson, Bob DuLong, Ed Hartnett, Herb Nelson, and faculty member Carl B. Everberg, L.L.B., L.L.M., professor of law.

Professional meetings have included a stirring talk on the importance of human relations in business given by Mr. Christopher Murphy, of Johnson and Johnson. To this meeting we invited Phi Gamma Nu sorority. At this meeting, also, we were extremely honored in having as our guest, Grand Secretary-Treasurer "Gig" Wright. A group of pledges ended the meeting by rendering a heart breaking version of "Rose of Deltasig." Fortunately, they have improved a great deal since. On December 17, another professional meeting was held at the Hotel Kenmore. Our speaker, Mr. Arnold C. Daum, of the Burroughs Adding Machine Company, was introduced by Alumni Brother Jack Studer. Mr. Daum spoke upon "Demonstrations to Create Desire," in which he emphasized the different techniques used in good salesmanship.

Plans are being made for the annual Interfraternity Conference Ball to be held February 15, 1952 at the Hotel Statler. Gamma Chapter plans to take an active part in this affair which is one of the highlights of the social calendar at Boston University. Social Chairman Chuck Cowen reports that plans are in the making for numerous social activities to be held later during the semester.

A professional tour was held recently at the Ford Motor Assembly Plant in Somerville, Mass. The tour proved to be an extremely interesting one, and was attended by almost every brother.

Gamma Chapter took an active part in the recent Interfraternity Conference Seminar held at Boston University to discuss better fraternity relations on campus. The seminar proved to be so successful that plans are already being made for another seminar to be held next year.

Election of officers was held recently with Brother Dick Kania being elected head master; Nick Koutroulis, senior warden; Jack Pretty, junior warden; Doug McGregor, treasurer; Dick Muise, scribe; Johnny Luciano, historian; and John D'Alessandro, Chancellor.

May we, the brothers of Gamma Chapter, wish the best of luck to Past Head Master Leon Wroblewski, who recently received his orders from the U. S. Air Force.—L. ANDRE DUSSAULT

ARIZONA

GAMMA PSI CHAPTER'S industrial tour for December was made to the Infilco Corporation's main office here in Tucson. The Infilco Corporation designs and constructs filters, water softeners, industrial waste units, and water purifiers. Since each job requires a special unit, the company concerns itself with several individual types of equipment instead of mass produced items.

Infilco's modernistic building houses several small offices, a blueprint room, a central mail room, a drafting room, a central file room, two large office rooms, a print shop, and an experimental laboratory. Since the building was completed only last September, the laboratory has not been completely stocked and not all of the equipment has been transferred from the Chicago office.

The tour was very educational, because we saw the various steps in solving a company's sewage disposal problem, from the time their field representative sends in his first report to the time of the actual construction of the equipment.

On January 12, Gamma Psi Chapter held its first initiation at which the following men became Deltasigs: Vernon F. Dickerson, Glenn R. Frenzen, Charles N. Johnson, and Warren M. Lamb.

JOHNS HOPKINS

CHI CHAPTER held its formal initiation for the fall semester at the Deutches Haus in Baltimore on Saturday, December 1, 1951. This was an occasion long to be remembered by all those present for we had the pleasure of entertaining our Grand President Howard B. Johnson, Allen Fowler, and H. G. Wright; all of whom were here to attend an Executive Committee Meeting of the Grand Council. The Grand President's message served as an inspiration to all of us who seek closer association through our fraternity.

We recently held two very interesting professional meetings concerning problems of vital interest in these times. On November 20, 1951, Mr. Thomas M. Jacobs, representing the District Council, Maryland Office of Price Stabilization, spoke on the subject "Government Control—Friend or Foe of American Business," wherein the reasons for controls by government were outlined and defended. On December 18, 1951, J. K. Travers and R. French held a Freedom Forum seminar entitled, "This is Our Problem," in which the government's program was vigorously opposed.

Along the social lines, Chi Chapter celebrated its twenty-ninth Anniversary Birthday Party on Saturday, December 8, 1951, at Gunther's Brewery Tap Room. About 50 couples danced to the music of Marty Vestrik's orchestra from 8:00 until midnight.

Our alumni have a fine dance planned for Saturday, January 26, 1952; the proceeds of which will go towards a chapter house fund, a worthy project taken on by the alumni.—JOHN B. ENSOR

RIDER

BETA XI CHAPTER is proud to announce that once again the 100,000 points needed for a first place in the annual Chapter Efficiency Contest was reached. This marks the third consecutive year Beta Xi Chapter has won the honor.

We reopened our professional program, following the Thanksgiving recess, by having Mr. Alfred Losch, of the Household Finance Company, as guest speaker. Mr. Losch gave a brief picture of the operating procedure of small loan companies, as well as a description of the type of work involved and the opportunities available to those entering this field. Two groups of approximately 15 brothers each, are planning to tour the New Jersey State Prison on January 15 and 17, 1952. Arrangements are now being made to procure as guest speakers for future meetings, representatives of the Socony-Vacuum Oil Company and the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

On November 1, 1951, a House Corporation was formed to manage the chapter house. The trustees of this corporation were elected from alumni brothers. Due to an increased membership, our present house facilities are now inadequate. The House Corporation has been empowered to issue certificates of membership for the acquisition of a new house. We are hoping to accomplish this urgent end before the year elapses.

Alumni Committee Chairman, Art Edwards, announced that an effort is being made to contact all alumni in order to bring the alumni files up to date. The committee has been keeping all alumni brothers informed of social and professional events, as well as getting the drive for the House Corporation under way. Active participation by the alumni is the goal of the committee, and, up to the present time, the results have been very gratifying.

At present, plans are being made, by Brother Don Chandler and his Social Committee, for the annual Initiatory Dinner Dance to be held sometime in February. As in previous years, Beta Xi chapter will crown its entry for the annual "Rose of Deltasig" contest at the dance.

Beta Xi Chapter is proud to announce the successful termination of the past ten-week pledge season, at which time 36 pledges were initiated and accepted into the fraternity. We, of Beta Xi Chapter, are sure this new potential asset will be developed and integrated within the chapter successfully, thus guaranteeing a well organized, smooth functioning chapter—one that will be a credit to the fraternity.—HARRY T. GAMBLE

WASHINGTON U.

ALPHA CHI CHAPTER is conducting a persistent rush program, with parties at the Student Center and Dorsey's; alternating throughout the semester. Professors Reidenbach and Firth assist in giving the good word to worthy rushees.

The Founders' Day Banquet was a joint affair with Beta Sigma of St. Louis University, at which Mr. Nicholas Fillo gave an interesting talk on the service and operation of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

We are looking forward to a talk by Professor Wood of the department of marketing at Washington University at our professional meeting. Professor Wood is an authority on salesmanship and sales management, and came to the university from his position as sales manager of the John Hancock Life Insurance Company.

Kodachrome slides are scheduled, depicting Delta Sigma Pi history, and chapter and alumni activities. We are inviting individual students in the schools of business and retailing, and pre-business students to attend the meeting at the Hyde Park Rathskeller and to take a sample of the company's delicious product.

We want to take this opportunity to wish all of you the best for the coming year.—DONN DAILY, JR.

OHIO STATE

AFTER A CHRISTMAS VACATION reminiscent of the big snow of 1950, winter quarter is now underway at Ohio State. Nu Chapter got into the Christmas spirit with some beautiful house decorations. These were the results of Brother Jim Papai wanting a Christmas Tree "just like the one at home."

Our first social function of the quarter was a stag rushing party held at Tom's Steak House. It was a very successful party with actives, pledges, and guests entering into the singing and story-telling, etc.

Nu Chapter especially enjoyed Ohio State's basketball revenge over Indiana for the bitter defeat suffered during the football season. The Buckeyes knocked the Hoosiers out of the "unbeaten" ranks by sinking a basket in the last three seconds of the game. This thrilling storybook finish was supplied by Brother Dick Dawe, who scored the game-winning basket. There was understandable pandemonium in the chapter house as the Buckeyes were expected to display their losing streak in that game.

Brother Keightly had the professional program under way at the second meeting of the quarter. He presented Mr. John Irwin, secretary of the College of Commerce, as our first guest speaker. No doubt the speakers for the next three professional meetings will be just as interesting. This will provide an entertaining as well as educational series of meetings topped off with an industrial tour scheduled for the end of the quarter.

Recently, meetings have been held in the chapter house which will result in the formation of a local alumni chapter. The active chapter wishes to take this opportunity in wishing them every success in their venture.

Since the results from the intramural basketball scene are not in yet, we're keeping our fingers crossed in hopes the team manager, Brother Verdin, will bring home a victory!—EARNEST E. MITCHELL

ST. BONAVENTURE

GAMMA CHI CHAPTER finds itself with many vacant offices for the spring semester. The departing brothers are William Gallo, head master; Michael Palmisano, historian; Charles Schickler, chancellor; and Kenneth Bowersox. To those men we wish only the best that this world can offer. Our loss is indeed a great one, and without a doubt will be felt in our chapter. Good luck, fellows!

Many new honors and positions have been bestowed upon the members of Gamma Chi Chapter. Bill Gallo, Ken Hanabergh, Bob Mayer, Mike Palmisano, and Fran Roach have been selected for the 1951-52 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. Four other brothers were appointed to this year's junior prom committee. Don Denz and Don Dietrich are the business managers; while Bill Manning and Charles Iocca head the patrons and decorations committees.

Our professional and social activities are in full swing, with plant tours, speakers and socials planned for the whole semester. Our plans for tours include trips to Corning Glass, Emporium, Pennsylvania; Republic Steel, Buffalo, New York; and Clark Brothers, Olean, New York.

To all our brothers in the fraternity, we cordially extend our wishes for a very successful year.—DONALD A. DIETRICH

SOUTH DAKOTA

ALPHA ETA CHAPTER is looking forward to a very active and progressive second semester. Election of officers was held on January 11, and the following men were elected to key positions: head master, Paul Smith; scribe, Robert Bergman; treasurer, Don Mielke; historian, Sherman Wince; and senior warden, Ray Hyde. Nine new members were initiated into our chapter on November 29. Following the initiation ceremonies a banquet was held at Julian Hall. The main speaker for the evening was Lee Frank, branch manager of the Burroughs Adding Machine Company, Sioux City, Iowa.

Robert McDonough has been chosen as all-conference guard on the North Central Conference honorary football team. Bob was also elected captain of the University of South Dakota football team of 1951. The University of South Dakota won the North Central Conference football championship this year. Our basketball and bowling teams are participating in the intramural sports program. We have a good bowling team this year and have a good chance of winning the championship.

Alpha Eta Chapter is planning an extensive campaign for new members with a goal of doubling our present membership. Several members are growing mustaches. These mustaches are an indication that the man is a senior accounting major.

Two field trips have been planned for the second semester. The first trip will be taken February 7, and the other in May. Alpha Eta Chapter is also planning for its annual and well-known spring banquet and "Rose Formal."—JAMES N. JONES

TEXAS

ON JANUARY 7 the entire membership of Beta Kappa Chapter brought the fall semester of 1951 to an end with a march on Littlefield Fountain. Although the thermometers here in Austin were registering in the thirties, the chapter gingerly gave head master Troy Meredith the benefit of a very cool bath. Brother Meredith was not only celebrating his going out of office, but also his being pinned and engaged to Miss Pat Sefton. Elected the same evening to serve along with Brother Gene Myrick as head master for the spring semester were Brothers Gene Fleming, senior warden; George Baranowski, junior warden; Robert Henley, treasurer; Howell Arnold, Scribe, Jim Calaway, historian; and Walter Brown, chancellor. Brother Robert G. Jackson, instructor in marketing, will again hold the position as Faculty Advisor.

The third week of November brought Beta Kappa Chapter 15 new members. After a very informal initiation on November 16, a formal initiation was held the following Sunday at the Stephen F. Austin Hotel. Brother W. P. Boyd, professor of business writing, officiated at the banquet.

Captain Everett G. Smith gave the chapter his annual Christmas party and birthday celebration on December 16. This year marked the seventeenth Christmas "Cap" Smith has so honored the chapter. Toys, which were exchanged under the supervision of the head master, were later taken to an orphanage. "Cap" delighted his audience with several readings in dialect.

This coming semester will be an extremely active one for Beta Kappa Chapter. As part of our rushing program, Gene Fleming, varsity letterman in football, will narrate a movie of one of the Longhorns' football games of the past season. Our spring calendar calls for four professional speakers and three banquets, along with a picnic and a dance. Another industrial tour, similar to the one taken last year to Houston, is also being planned. The alumni contact committee will attempt to contact all alumni of this chapter in connection with an alumni directory. This directory will be available to the alumni or to anyone else interested.

Possibly the highlight of this semester will be the Regional Meeting to be held in Houston in the fabulous Shamrock Hotel. Many of the brothers who were unable to attend the Grand Chapter Congress in Dallas this past summer have already made their plans for the fun, the fellowship, and the Yellow Dog initiation.—GENE P. MYRICK

GEORGIA—Pi

PI CHAPTER here at the University of Georgia in Athens, once again finds itself busily engaged with the job of obtaining new pledges as the winter quarter gets underway. Pi Chapter started this business in motion by holding an informal house dance at their house on Friday evening, January 11. At the dance all of the prospective men met the actives and their dates and were introduced to our "Rose," Miss Betty Ann Ross. The Sunday after the dance, a smoker was held for all these prospective men at the Georgian Hotel in Athens. Both of these functions were well attended and much of the credit for this is due to the fine organization of the social committee, headed by Brother Ray Griner.

Just before finals of last quarter, a farewell party was held at the chapter house for Frank Mathews and Horace Mullis, who graduated and are now awaiting commissions in the Armed Forces. Brother Mathews is awaiting a commission in the Army, while Brother Mullis is awaiting a commission in the Navy. We were very sorry to see these brothers leave, for not only were they fine brothers, but they had done much to help advance the fraternity and we know we shall have a hard time replacing them.

Plans are now being made for the annual Pi Chapter Anniversary Dance which will be held in February. From all the information available at the present time, we are sure that this will be one of the best dances yet held at the Pi Chapter.

The brothers of Pi Chapter would like to take this time and space to thank all of the other chapters for the very nice Christmas cards that we received from them.—ROBERT K. CHARLES

OKLAHOMA A & M

GAMMA EPSILON CHAPTER at Oklahoma A & M College raised itself considerably in the Chapter Efficiency Contest this year due to the hard work of each and every member, and the unselfish allotment of their time and effort. We have initiated a drive to further increase our chapter strength and future possibilities, by scheduling more professional meetings and a more varied program for the remainder of this college year.

Our first professional tour this year was a tour of the central plant of the Continental Oil Refinery located at Ponca City, Oklahoma. We toured the processing plants for about three hours, in groups of fives, accompanied by very efficient and courteous guides. There were 16 of us that made the trip and we all thoroughly enjoyed it.—MICHAEL A. McQUERY

CALIFORNIA

ON NOVEMBER 27, the members of Rho Chapter had an enjoyable time going through the Owen-Illinois Glass Company in Oakland.

Seventeen rushees attended a rushing luncheon given at Larry Blake's Restaurant on December 13. Frank C. Brandes, our Western Regional Member of the Grand Council, gave an after-dinner speech about Delta Sigma Pi. About half of these fellows have pledged and will be initiated in February. The chapter feels that it will soon have its membership problem licked because the faculty is giving good support.

On December 14 some of the brothers were invited to a reception for Ambassador and Mrs. Henry F. Grady. Brother Grady was formerly the dean of School of Business Administration at the university.

Most of the brothers attended the "Rose of Deltasig" dance of Gamma Omicron Chapter of the University of San Francisco at the Mill Valley Golf Club. This dance was a big success and Rho Chapter is looking forward to more functions with Gamma Omicron and Gamma Xi Chapters.

We expect to make the Western Regional Convention a roaring success. It will be held in San Francisco on February 16. Martin Mollhausen, our past head master, will return to Oslo, Norway, after he graduates in February. Before long there will be enough Deltasigs in Norway and Sweden to start an alumni club there.—HILTON WATKINS

BUFFALO

THE EASTERN Regional Conference of the International Fraternity of Delta Sigma Pi will be held on April 4, 5, and 6, 1952, at the Hotel Touraine in Buffalo, New York. We at Buffalo will depend to a great extent on the cooperation and support of all chapters in the Eastern Region, and we are extending to them a most sincere and cordial invitation to join with us to make this a really outstanding affair.

Plans are now under way to obtain outstanding speakers and several interesting panel discussions are being formulated. A reception, luncheon, stag party and a sight-seeing tour of Niagara Falls will highlight this program. A special program for the ladies is also being arranged. Brother Clayton McLean is in charge of the entire program, and is, in the opinion of all, the most suited and most capable for an efficient handling of this affair. John Lang will be in charge of reservations. Checks for advance registration should be mailed to him at 200 Phylliss Avenue, Buffalo 15, New York.

The cost of this entire program has been held to fifteen dollars for brothers and ten dollars for wives and sweethearts. A ten per cent discount will be allowed for all registrations received before March 15, 1952. Should chapters require additional forms, please contact brother head master Franklin Tober, 123 Highgate Avenue, Buffalo 14, New York. We should like to stress the need and urgency for making hotel reservations as early as possible.

We have had, since our last professional meeting, our fall initiation which was held at the Buffalo Canoe Club, Point Abino, Ontario, on December 8, 1951. Guest speakers were brother Stuart Menzies Miller, Charter member of Alpha Kappa—May 1925, and Professor William Weyer, our most congenial Faculty Advisor. Charlie Barwell did a fine job on the pledge training program. Thirteen neophytes were initiated.

Congratulations to Charles Weimer who led the caravan of ladies across the Peace Bridge to join with us in the festivities. This dinner was attended by over 78 brothers, wives and sweethearts. Our ritual team under the careful guidance of head master Frank Tober performed a really outstanding, impressive, and never to be forgotten ceremony.

Special honors to J. Johannes, our treasurer, who in addition to his regular duties, is faithfully and generously giving his time and energy to bolster not only the work of each officer, but also to coordinate all phases of the coming Eastern Regional Conference. An industrial tour of the Republic Steel Corporation, as well as the new Ford Motor Plant, is planned for February and March.

A fellowship hour for the entertainment of prospective members will be held on March 8, 1952, at Hartman's Restaurant, 147 North Street, Buffalo, New York. Our opening initiation will take place on April 19, 1952, at the beautiful Buffalo Canoe Club overlooking the sandy shores of Lake Erie.

Further congratulations to Clyde Cadwallader, AK-I, who was recently elected president of the Buffalo Alumni Club. Brother Cadwallader has recently instituted a regular monthly luncheon held at the Buffalo Athletic Club.

PAUL M. GREEN, Miami U., recently assumed his duties as the new dean of the College of Commerce and Business Administration at the University of Illinois.

ILLINOIS

THE WINTER ACTIVITIES of Upsilon Chapter centered around the reception given on February 14 for Brother Paul M. Green, new dean of the College of Commerce and Business Administration at the University of Illinois. Brother Green served as faculty advisor to Upsilon Chapter after its reactivation in 1949 until he was called away from the University to work for the Federal government in Washington. The chapter is happy to have Brother Green back and feels certain that the College of Commerce will benefit greatly by his return.

In January, the semiannual election of officers was held. The new officers are: Bill Cullen, head master; George Kramer, senior warden; George Morpurgo, junior warden; Art Gray, treasurer; Dale Yung, scribe; Jim Skrna, chancellor; Carl Elshoff, master of festivities; Roy Jovien, master of ceremonies; and George Spinozzi, house manager. At the beginning of the second semester, ten new pledges were added, and on February 9, eight pledges were initiated in an impressive ceremony. Upsilon Chapter now has 38 undergraduate members.

The field trip on March 1 to the South Chicago mills of the United States Steel Corporation was a great success. Planned by the professional committee, under the leadership of Brother Jovien this interesting tour provided the group with a wealth of information about the operation of a large steel mill. After the tour, the group visited several of the alumni brothers residing in Chicago, and all reported having had a fine time.

The social program for the semester, as planned by Brother Elshoff, consists of record dances at the chapter house every other Saturday night, exchanges and "coke-dates" arranged with several of the sororities, and the semiannual pledge dance. Final preparations are being made for the "Rose of Deltasig" Dance to be held in the Garden Room of the Urbana-Lincoln Hotel on March 22. Brother Pearce, who is in charge, has announced that it is to be a dinner dance and that Johnny Bruce's orchestra has been engaged for the evening. As a result, the entire chapter is eagerly awaiting this grand social event.—FRANKLIN J. NIENSTEDT

LOYOLA

ON JANUARY 13, Gamma Pi Chapter heard its second annual Mass at the Madonna Della Strada Chapel on Loyola's Lakeshore Campus. Included in the intentions of that Mass were those for the success of Howard Wilson who left Loyola to teach at Seton Hall College and to study for his doctorate at Columbia University. Brother Wilson, our first faculty adviser, was primarily responsible for our installation here at Loyola University. We wish Brother Wilson continued success in his new teaching position at Seton Hall College. During the breakfast ceremonies following Mass, Brother Wilson was presented with a handsome ostrich skin wallet as a memento of his untiring work here with Gamma Pi Chapter. Dr. Sylvester M. Frizol, professor of finance, will take over his duties as new faculty advisor. We feel confident that Dr. Frizol will prove to be a worthy successor to our first moderator.

Last year Gamma Pi Chapter's candidate for the "Rose of Deltasig" contest placed second in the national competition. This year, committee chairman George Blake has promised us another beautiful contender. The photographs for this year's candidate have been submitted and are being carefully considered. On November 30, 1951, fifteen brothers drove to Madison, Wisconsin, and visited Psi Chapter at the University of Wisconsin. On the following day they toured the plant of the Ghisolt Machine Company and viewed, from start to finish, all the various processes in the manufacture of automatic lathes. The highlight of the trip was the hospitality we received at Psi Chapter. We would like to thank all those brothers at Wisconsin for the warm reception shown us. In December the Deltasigs' football team lost the intramural championship by a mere two points. This marked the first time in over a year that the Deltasigs have not led the University's intramural program. However, since then we have regained first place in the over-all point standings and have won the first basketball game of the season. Plans for the instruction of a pledge class to be initiated in the middle of the current semester are now under way. We hope that by the next publication of The DELTASIG we shall be able to announce the formal initiation of the prospective neophytes.—JOHN R. MCINTIRE

GEORGETOWN

MU CHAPTER has just about brought to a close a successful first semester. We concluded our pledging program on December 1 at the Washington Hotel with the formal initiation of 16 active members and one faculty member. The initiation was followed by a banquet and a formal dance at which Miss Annemarie McGowan was chosen by Mu Chapter as its "Rose of Deltasig" candidate.

Since November 15 Mu Chapter has held two professional meetings. At the first, on November 18, Mr. Robert B. Freeman, director of the Foreign Service Institute Officers' Training Program, spoke on the qualifications for Foreign Service Officers. On January 11, Thomas Butler of the North American Insurance Company spoke to Mu Chapter on the various types of insurance.

In November Mu Chapter sponsored a blood drive at Georgetown University that proved overwhelmingly successful. When the Red Cross Bloodmobile arrived at the university on November 15, it proved unable to handle the large number of students that volunteered to donate their blood. Most of the credit for this praiseworthy venture should go to Brother Hugh Hendrick.

Mu Chapter's social program has been moving along at a rapid clip. On the afternoon of November 10, Mu Chapter held its annual alumni-faculty reception. This was followed that night by the Founders' Day party. On December 15, Mu Chapter held a Christmas party for 31 underprivileged children that was a howling success. Most of the credit for this party is due to the unstinted work done by the wives of many of our alumni in the effort to assure the children a happy time. Mrs. James Michaux, wife of the Washington Alumni Club president, is to be especially congratulated. This party was followed that night by the chapter Christmas party. Gifts were exchanged and a good time was had by all.

In closing may I note that one of our former actives, Brother Bill Beanland, who was recalled to duty with the Air Force in February 1951, has been released from active duty and will be back with us at the beginning of the spring semester.—ROBERT F. MORGAN

TEXAS TECH

BETA UPSILON CHAPTER initiated 25 men into membership on January 12 at the Hilton Hotel. These men will add greatly to our chapter. Concluding the initiation was a banquet held in the Yucca room of the Hilton. The speaker for the occasion was Mr. A. B. Watkins, manager of a local department store. Mr. Watkins was recently elected as an honorary member.

Both the old and new members are looking forward to our annual formal "Rose" Presentation Dance on January 19. The social committee has completed all the plans. Of course, the highlight of the dance will be the presentation of Miss Charlyn Hannum, our "Rose of Deltasig." Miss Hannum, a freshman from Waco, will be attended by Miss Jone Osborne of Levelland and Miss Nancy Moran of Waco, who were the runnersup in the contest. Decorations will carry out club colors of royal purple and old gold. The "Rose" will be presented a bouquet of red roses. The dance will be held in the ballroom of the Lubbock Hotel, and it is the last big social function on the campus for the fall semester.

Beta Upsilon Chapter has had an outstanding fall semester, and we are ready for bigger things in the spring semester. We have taken several professional tours and have had outstanding business men of the area and state for speakers.—DONALD R. FURGESON

NORTH CAROLINA

ALPHA LAMBDA CHAPTER at the University of North Carolina ended 1951 by holding its annual Christmas party on December 7, 1951. Names had been drawn previously and all brothers brought some sort of toy or comical gift. After the party all presents were collected and given to the children in a local orphanage.

We plan to hold our initiation on Thursday night, January 17, 1952. The following men will become brothers: Fred Lee Gore, Bill Poindexter, Francis Trogden, Walter Fulp, Lawrence Holt, Robert Kirkland, Loftin Fouts, Roy Dickson, Jack Platt, Bob Daughtridge, and Garland Kirby. During "Help Week" these pledges have been painting various rooms in the house and doing other helpful services. Our doing away with "Hell Week" and adding "Help Week" has proven very successful indeed.

Our traditional Pledge Dance will be held Saturday night, January 19, 1952, in the women's gym of Wollen Gymnasium. Music will be furnished by Frank Wright and his "Bull City Night Hawks." Our Deltasig "Rose" will be presented during intermission and following the dance we will go to the house for a party.

We have a very good professional program planned for this winter. First we are to take a professional trip through the Erwin Cotton Mills, located in Durham, North Carolina. This trip will include an educational movie about textiles. Then we plan to sponsor a well-known speaker on the campus. This will be done with the cooperation of Mr. Joe Galloway, director of placement service at the university.

Next, will be our "regular" overnight trip for the quarter. On this trip we plan to visit and inspect the Inca Corporation, located near Asheville, North Carolina. This trip in particular should be interesting and educational from a professional standpoint. Also this quarter we hope to have a well-known local business man visit our house, and speak to us on some current business problem or topic.

We of Alpha Lambda Chapter again give thanks this quarter for a well-rounded professional program to Jim Collins, chairman of the professional committee.—FRED GARNER

SOUTH CAROLINA

BETA GAMMA CHAPTER at the University of South Carolina elected Charles Lindburgh Copeland as its head master. Brother Copeland, a native of Kershaw, South Carolina, is a senior majoring in business economics. He was one of the two brothers from our chapter who received the distinction of being named a Distinguished Military Student in his Air R.O.T.C. unit. Last semester, Brother Copeland was our scribe.

Assisting the new head master will be the following slate of officers: senior warden, H. C. Foster; junior warden, Cecil Lester; Treasurer, George Traylor; scribe, Boyd O'Neal; chancellor, Herb Williams; historian, Don Neumann; Senior Guide, Richard Culbreth; Junior Guide, Charles Stephenson; Correspondent, Don Neumann; master of festivities, Bob Thomas; master of ceremonies, Bob Thomas; librarian, Carthelle Courtney; and chapter advisor, Professor Frank Meeks.

Our retiring head master, William E. Houston, has completed a very successful term for Beta Gamma Chapter. Founders' Day was celebrated with an informal dance, at which our brothers from Columbia's Alumni Club were our guests. Informal get-togethers with undergraduates and alumni were held after every home football game. The alumni club also furnished us with several speakers for our professional meetings, and the chapter initiated several hard working brothers. In addition, we have added Professors A. C. Toler and C. M. Gittinger to the ranks of our faculty brothers.

Our "Rose of Deltasig" Contest is well under way, with complete cooperation being shown by the sororities on the South Carolina campus. Brothers Cecil Lester and Bob Thomas are carrying the brunt of the burden in lining up the candidates, and they have reported that we will be able to name our "Rose" by the first of February.

Beta Gamma Chapter will lose three men: William Houston, James Higgs, and Richard Wingard, to February graduation; and as usual we shall place the building of our chapter membership in the number one spot during the coming semester. Ours is a small but efficient chapter; our aim is to grow in size without losing our closely knit cooperation and efficiency.

We have been fortunate in seeing Columbia's Alumni Club establish itself firmly in this city, and in obtaining close working and social bonds with them. Also, we have welcomed the visits of Deltasigs now stationed at Fort Jackson or Shaw Field. Among these were Warren Reich from Alpha Chapter, William Burton of the Gamma Nu Chapter, and J. B. Harrison of Kappa Chapter. Visiting also was Bruce Futhey of Alpha Sigma Chapter. He was here to interview graduates for employment with the A.E.C. Savannah River Project, where work is being done on the hydrogen bomb.—DONALD E. NEUMANN

DE PAUL

ALPHA OMEGA CHAPTER at De Paul University is happy to announce its donation of all the proceeds to the annual Christmas basket collection for the poor. The musical comedy, "Joe College U. S. A." was a fine success and many thanks go to Phi Gamma Nu Sorority for furnishing talented, pretty girls for the play as cosponsors. The donation totaled $250, and our successful triumph as two elements of the student body, merged together with charity as its goal, should be an inspiration to the whole university.

The annual Fieldhouse Drive was a success, as the Deltasigs, after finishing first for the last two years, had our record broken and finished third in selling chance books. The brothers deserve a fine hand for their efforts. Brother Wally Kobylecky did a fine job as publicity chairman for the drive. Watch out for next year!

At our business meeting on November 9, Brother Frederick W. Mueller, dean of the College of Commerce at De Paul University, gave a very interesting talk on "Education and Business." Jim Hosmer, chairman of the professional program committee, obtained Mr. Lawrence V. Fairhalt, program director of the National Association of Manufacturers for a lecture which was open to the public in the Recital Hall of the university on December 18. He gave a very fine speech on "Your Money Is What You Make It." His lecture stressed the working of the American economic system and the problems of maintaining the value of the dollar. Jim Hosmer obtained Special Agent, William L. Ryan of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, for the business meeting at the Palmer House. His topic was "The FBI at Work." It was very interesting to all, especially those who are interested in the bureau as a career.

In the social field, the big highlight is the Jarabe which is to be held in the Grand Ballroom of the Sherman Hotel, January 18. The music is to be furnished by Dick Long and his orchestra. The brothers are working very hard to make the dance a very memorable one. Those in charge are Chairman Jerry Paneral, Ames Pajor, Ray Flodin, and Larry Turilli. The pledge party held December 15, at the Hamilton Hotel was a gay affair. Everyone had a fine time and Joe Cicero, pledge captain, and his assistants did a fine job. Keep up the good work pledges.

In the field of sports, the Deltasigs are really shining. In football competition the brothers rolled up victory after victory to get into the finals for the championship. However they met an inspired physical education team and we came out on the short end of a 13 to 6 score to land in second place in the university competition. Our bowling team led by Jerry Paneral is fighting to get back into first place. As of now, we are tied for second place but the brothers vow to bring home the championship. Ron Alitto, chairman of the sports committee, deserves special mention for the fine way he is organizing the brothers and inspiring them to victory.—HARRY SERANTONI

CREIGHTON

BETA THETA CHAPTER held its annual fall picnic on November 17 at the Wayside Inn. About 25 couples met around candle-lighted tables to chat, dance, and enjoy their favorite refreshments. The cheery atmosphere provided an evening of entertainment for everyone.

On November 28, the third professional meeting of the first semester was held at Johnny's Cafe. Guest speaker for the evening was Mr. Arthur Englund, deputy collector of Internal Revenue, who spoke and answered questions on current tax problems. This meeting was further honored by another guest, Grand Council Member Henry C. Lucas, who is Chairman of the National Committee on Alumni Placing Service.

In the recently completed intramural touch football season, Delta Sigma Pi's entry emerged as Interfraternity League champions. With a record of no defeats in nine games, the team swept aside all competition to merit the coveted traveling trophy.

The annual homecoming parade, held December 7 through downtown Omaha, saw floats from 23 campus groups competing for cash prizes. Judges stationed in front of the Douglas County Courthouse awarded first prize to Delta Sigma Pi, for a wind-torn but winning float which depicted spirited action between two battered forts.

On December 8, Beta Theta Chapter held its Christmas dinner-dance at the Birchwood Club. Cold weather and icy streets thinned the crowd somewhat, but about 40 couples braved the elements to participate in a tasty dinner and a fine dance. An amusing after-dinner talk was delivered by Mr. Bernard J. Conway, professor of marketing at Creighton University. The talk began an enjoyable evening for all.

Our final professional meeting took place at the "Sparetime" Cafe. About 40 actives heard a recording of an address by Mr. Ben H. Wooten, fifth Honorary Member-at-Large of Delta Sigma Pi.—JOSEPH M. LECHNER.

OHIO U.

ALPHA OMICRON CHAPTER began the year's professional activities by having Mr. T. W. Koch as its first speaker. Mr. Koch of the Shelmar Products Corporation of Mount Vernon, New York, came here through the courtesy of the National Association of Manufacturers. His address enlightened the brothers about the problems of marketing packaging materials.

On December 4, the chapter was treated to another speaker furnished by the National Association of Manufacturers. He was Mr. T. W. Collins, general personnel manager of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company. Mr. Collins went into detail in describing how a personnel man goes about hiring applicants. Brother Perkins, who made arrangements with the National Association of Manufacturers, is to be commended for procuring these speakers for us.

Our field trip to the Anchor Hocking Glass Company plant in Lancaster, Ohio, was an interesting experience. Everyone was amazed at the mechanical handling devices used there. No effort was spared to make the complicated glass-making processes clear to us.

On February 2, commencement will take from our midst Robert Hunter, George Klier, Leonard Lane, James Male, Wilbur Nestor, Donald Sneary, Paul Vogel, and Eberhard Fuhr.—EBERHARD E. FUHR

NEW MEXICO

GAMMA IOTA CHAPTER held its annual winter formal on November 30, 1951. This was an unusually successful event, as virtually all the brothers of the chapter and their dates or wives were in attendance. Following this event on December second we initiated our pledges from the fall pledge class. For professional activities, our schedule brought us on November 28, Mr. William Elliot, head of the Albuquerque Chamber of Commerce, who spoke to us on the subject of "The American Way of Business." This was indeed one of the most interesting speakers that we have had this year. In addition to these past activities, we of Gamma Iota Chapter are looking forward to the annual Commerce Day which is sponsored jointly by us and several other business administration organizations here on the University of New Mexico campus. Plans are well under way for this annual spring event, and we feel sure that it will be one of the best extra curricular functions of the campus year. Naturally all the Deltasigs plan to devote much effort and time to its being a success.

Under the leadership of our newly elected Head Master, Warren Armstrong, and his newly elected co-officers, and with the additional strength from our new initiates we cannot help feeling very optimistic concerning the ensuing semester. Without a doubt it should be one of our best.—DONALD LITCHFIELD

KENT STATE

THE BROTHERS of Beta Pi chapter were glad to learn that one of its alumni, Harding A. Wichert, was recently elected mayor of Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio. The chapter's annual Christmas party was held on December 19, 1951, just before the Christmas vacation. The party was held at the chapter house with a local band providing music for dancing. The highlights of the evening were a program of magic given by pledge Bill Thomas who is a professional magician, and a gift exchange between all members, guests and their dates. Among the guests attending the party were Mr. Bruce LeGrande, newly appointed Province Officer, and Mr. Harold Martin, faculty advisor. As the evening drew to a close, it was evident that everyone had had a wonderful time.

The chapter was honored by a visit from J. D. Thomson, Assistant Grand Secretary Treasurer, on December 4, 1951, at a regularly scheduled meeting. He gave the chapter much additional information on the program of the past Eighteenth Grand Chapter Congress, and urged Beta Pi Chapter to be well represented in the regional meeting to be held at the Allerton Hotel in Cleveland from May 9 until May 11, 1952. The brothers are planning to have a majority of members present at the Cleveland Regional meeting. Brother Thomson stressed the Chapter Efficiency Contest, and we are working hard toward obtaining our 100,000 points again this year.

The chapter house is being given an interior redecorating job this winter. Much work has already been done in this respect and the results are more than gratifying. The main floor of the house is being done as an over-all project, while the individual rooms of the members are being decorated and painted according to their occupant's personal taste.—FRANK L. SWAIM

DETROIT—Theta

ON SUNDAY, December 2, 1951, Theta Chapter accepted 11 new brothers into the fraternity at the initiation banquet held at Huck's Redford Inn. We had as our guest speakers Dean Fitzgerald, of the College of Commerce and Finance, and alumni Jack Collins and Mr. Emmett Dacey. Brother Robert Busse, Central Region and Grand Council Member, and our new faculty member, Brother Carmen Dellequadri were also speakers. A splendid turnout was present at the banquet with over 50 brothers there to greet the new brothers into the fraternity. After the brothers had consumed a large chicken dinner, an evening of good fellowship was enjoyed by all.

On December 15, 1951, Theta Chapter was host to our brothers of Gamma Theta Chapter of Wayne at a party after the University of Detroit-Wayne University basketball game. Although Wayne University was the victor, we did not let this deter us from our duties as hosts. Judging from the interest and good time enjoyed by the brothers and their dates more of these parties can be expected in the near future.

Intramural competition in basketball is under way at the University of Detroit. Theta Chapter has jumped off to a strong start by defeating Delta Sigma Phi in their first game of league competition. Ed Carroll stated very strongly that the squad has good prospects of bringing Delta Sigma Pi a championship. Although losing only one game during the intramural football league Theta Chapter placed second in the final standing.

Leo Padilla is continuing to arrange interesting professional activities for the chapter. The spring semester will assure us of an enlightening program. Dick Munerance has reported that Theta Chapter at the present time holds fifth place in the Chapter Efficiency Contest. Everyone was pleased to hear this as we are again making an all out effort to gain 100,000 points. With the cooperation of all brothers this goal can easily be attained.

Once again Theta Chapter held its annual New Year's Eve party at the Vet's Memorial Building. The evening was a great success with 50 brothers and their dates bringing in the New Year in good fashion. Credit is given to Paul Griffith for his work in making the party an enjoyable and a successful one.

At the present time Theta Chapter is preparing for the J-Prom Breakfast which follows the J-Prom. Heading the committee for this annual affair is Don Nelson who will be graduating in June. Volunteering to help Don are two of our new brothers, Bob Hinsberg and Bill Forrest. The Deltasigs are noted for the J-Prom Breakfast which has proven itself to be one of the finest social activities on the campus. Highlighting the morning festivities at the breakfast will be the crowning of the "Rose of Deltasig." Ray Mau who is heading the committee to choose the candidates for the "Rose," reports that it will be a difficult job to choose the winner. Judges will be selected by the members of Theta Chapter.—DONALD J. MURRAY

MICHIGAN

THE XI CHAPTER at the University of Michigan expects to triple its membership during the school year. Our first pledge class almost doubled the number of actives, and we have another group of neophytes getting ready for their initiation in February. Also, in February we plan to interest still more students in our chapter. That will be three pledge programs for the term, but it looks as though it is going to pay off.

The business machines exhibit, which we cosponsored with another fraternity, was quite successful. We had 27 exhibitors and over 1,000 attended during the two-day showing.

We feel that this annual affair is one of our most worthwhile activities.

However, our program of professional activities has also been extremely worthwhile. We have had Harry Hawkins talk to us on the advertising specialty business. Homer Martin, a past president of the United Auto Workers, spoke on the current state of the nation. We had an open meeting in December at which two executives from Owens-Illinois Glass Company gave talks, showed a movie and presented all those present with two free samples.

We haven't neglected the social side of our development either. The last pledge class had a Monte Carlo party. The present neophytes are planning their party and we are beginning to organize for our spring formal. We are looking forward to tripling our activities along with our membership.—JIM MILLER

FLORIDA STATE

TENTATIVE PLANS have been made for Gamma Lambda Chapter's "Rose of Deltasig Ball" with Wesley Logan as master of festivities. Although the date for our spring formal is a few months away, we plan to make this annual function the social highlight of the year.

Gamma Lambda Chapter holds great expectations for the next smoker to be held January 23, 1952, at the Student Alumni Building. We are combining this smoker with our monthly professional meeting in which we are privileged to have Mr. William Norwood, director of unemployment compensation division of Florida State Industrial Commission as guest speaker. We are expecting a large turnout of interested prospective members.

The entire chapter is very busy making plans for the Annual Business Machine Show to be demonstrated this spring. This is one of our biggest events of the year. In the past, Gamma Lambda Chapter held its first demonstration in the Student Union on West Campus. This was such a big success that it has now become an annual affair. Last year our second show was moved to the main campus. This spring plans have been made to go right down into the heart of Tallahassee for the Third Annual Business Machine Show. It has been suggested by the executive council that we use some of the cooperation of the great civic organizations of Tallahassee for this year's demonstration.

At present the brothers of Delta Sigma Pi are getting ready for the coming semester exams and are anticipating an eventful new semester.—E. LOWRY SHERMAN

TULANE

GAMMA MU CHAPTER is only two years old, but it has already gained both national and local prominence. The scoring of 100,000 points in the last Chapter Efficiency Contest; the sponsoring of the National "Rose of Deltasig" (our own Bobbie Webb); being recognized as the outstanding commerce organization at Tulane University; and the establishment of an active alumni club by the founders of Gamma Mu Chapter are but a few of our accomplishments.

In keeping with its already established tradition, Gamma Mu Chapter has enjoyed a full program of social and professional activities this past semester. The October 25 rush party at Bob Haskell's was a double-barrel event. The prospective pledges not only had their first official glimpse of the chapter, but also met the newly organized New Orleans Alumni Club of Delta Sigma Pi. The entertainment was varied (including an episode of "The Lone Ranger"), but Mrs. Haskell's punch stole the show.

Twelve short days later, the lowly neophytes were learning the true meaning of the word "Pledge." The occasion was the annual Founders' Day Cocktail Party.

Opening the year's professional activities on November 29, Dr. Gerald E. Warren, Province Officer of Gamma Mu Chapter and regional director of the Office of Price Stabilization, gave an inspiring and timely analysis of the "Operations of the O.P.S." The discussion covered the organization, purpose and functions of the O.P.S., and some of the problems of the first year's operations. Dr. Warren pointed out that, even though he opposes governmental control measures in normal times, price control is a necessity in times of national emergency. Another problem of current interest, "Government Interventionism" versus "Laissez Faire," was discussed by Dr. K. N. Silvert of the Tulane Political Science Department on December 5.

On December 18, Gamma Mu Chapter donned its sea legs and put out to sea (to river, that is) on the New Orleans Dockboard Yacht, "Good Neighbor." We inspected some 20 miles of port facilities in style. One of the interesting and novel features of the port is the "Free Trade Zone." Merchandise can be stored, processed or reshipped in this neutral zone with no duty charge unless it is taken into the United States. The voyage was topped off by the serving of refreshments by the personnel of the "Good Neighbor."

The Commerce Women's Club went all out in throwing a Christmas Party for Gamma Mu Chapter and the commerce Faculty. The girls furnished a full afternoon's entertainment and refreshments. All that was missing was snow to complete the atmosphere. Of course we were enjoying the usual temperate climate of New Orleans, and had to wait until we journeyed home for the "White Christmas." Many of the members were evidently thinking of the "Rose" Contest, for they seemed to be on the lookout for candidates.

Jim Thomson of The Central Office and Grand Council Member Bill Merrick of the Southwestern Region were guests at the initiation banquet held at the Roosevelt Hotel on January 13. Brother Kent Courtney, an alumnus, presided over the banquet. Dean Robert W. French welcomed the initiates to Gamma Mu Chapter. Our guest speaker, Brother Harold J. Heck, of the Tulane faculty, gave an interesting and educational analysis of "The Businessman and International Economics Thinking."—MAURICE BOURGEOIS

NORTHWESTERN—Zeta

THANKS TO THE GENEROSITY of our Mothers' Club, and the hard work of several of the brothers who stayed around during vacation, the front room of the chapter house has taken on the new look. The walls have been repainted a deep gray, and new curtains have been put up. A beautiful Victor television console was purchased, "at a price" of course, and we now have a room we can all be proud of. This Mothers' Club, by the way, has come up with some wonderful ideas about redecorating and general furnishing of the house, and will be a definite asset to the chapter in the years to come.

Several business meetings and tours have been planned. Professor Umbreit, our brother who is a business economics instructor in the School of Commerce, will lecture at one meeting. We have scheduled another meeting at which a judge from the Illinois Supreme Court will preside. Then we hope to make a tour of the Muntz automobile factory here in Evanston.

Socially, the annual "Rose" Formal rolls around soon, and we are all anxious to see the "queen" brother Dave Sharpe is bringing. He assures us she's a cinch to become the new "Rose of Deltasig." Not that we have any doubts, Dave, but we will just wait and see. There is also a party sponsored by the pledges, a costume affair, which will be entitled "The Big Top." We'll reserve judgment on that one.

Our sports accomplishments are all in the future. The Intramural track meet and the basketball tournament are coming up, and of course we expect the usual results from our teams. The basketball team, especially this year, looks to be a good bet to sweep all opposition. Last year we stood eleventh among all the organizations on campus in total intramural sports points. We're aiming even higher this time.—EARL BURGESS

WESTERN RESERVE

AT THE LAST BUSINESS MEETING of the winter semester, Beta Tau Chapter at Western Reserve University elected Brother Charles Lovell to the office of head master. Other officers elected for the spring semester were: senior warden, Richard Wrobbel; junior warden, William Burkett; scribe, Robert Cooke; treasurer, Raymond Gnzak; master of festivities, Alexander McQuillan; master of ceremonies, James Korda; historian, Clyde Lamb; and chapter advisor, Dwight Shepard.

After they had successfully completed their pledging activities, the following men were initiated: Carl Backstrom, Charles Clark, John Ondercin, Ralph Uransky and Joseph Waters. Accepted as faculty members were Albert C. James and Roger R. Clouse. With the addition of these men, our possibilities of attaining 100,000 points in the Chapter Efficiency Contest will be greatly strengthened.

As a climax of the semester's activities, the chapter held a semiformal dinner dance at the Allerton Hotel. Over 30 brothers and their dates attended. Everyone enjoyed the delicious food and excellent music arranged by Brother Beach and his social committee. Plans are now being formed by the chapter in anticipation of the forthcoming Central Regional Meeting to be held in Cleveland. We are looking forward to meeting all our brothers from neighboring chapters.—JAMES G. KORDA

MARYLAND

GAMMA SIGMA CHAPTER of the University of Maryland has recently pledged its largest class since its installation in 1950. The class of 17 pledges were initiated in conjunction with Mu Chapter of Georgetown in the Washington Hotel in downtown Washington, D.C. Following the initiation, 50 couples, including alumni, active, and newly initiated brothers, attended a formal dance. Among the alumni present were Gordon Anderson, Charles Gross and William Berry. Representing the newly initiated brothers were Rogar Odett, Larry Johnson, John Dyson, John Koch, Cornelius Booth, Lloyd Mitchell, William Raymond, and Eugene Karwacki.

During the band intermission brother Lloyd Mitchell entertained the group with good old fashion community singing. Toward the end of the dance Mu Chapter members extended a cordial invitation to the members of Gamma Sigma chapter to visit their chapter house as a fitting climax to the day's festivities. The hospitality shown by the brothers of Mu Chapter left such a lasting impression that we are sure there will be many such repeat functions.

Several activities were held during the past semester. One of the most thoroughly enjoyed by the brothers was a tour through the Gunther Brewery, in Baltimore, Maryland. At the end of the tour the brothers adjourned to the tap room—enough said.

Officers elected for the coming semester included William Cwiek, head master; John Doyle, senior warden; John Dyson, junior warden; and Eugene Karwacki, scribe. It is interesting to note that John Dyson and Eugene Karwacki were among the current group of chapter initiates.—EUGENE KARWACKI and JOHN DYSON

ARIZONA STATE

GAMMA OMEGA CHAPTER of Arizona State College at Tempe, Arizona, feels that its programming has at least been realistic, if not overpowering.

On November 21, 1951 the chapter gathered at the Phoenix Branch of Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Beane. We were given an excellent orientation into the mechanics of this large brokerage organization. January 9, saw us sponsoring a business seminar at the college.

Our plans for next semester include a speech by the local F.B.I. on February 27; a tour of the Arizona Brewing Company on April 11; a tour of the Goodyear Aircraft Corporation on May 2; possibly a tour of the First National Bank, Tempe Branch; and an open forum by the City Management of Tempe. We are also considering sponsoring a blood drive in March.

We will hold our initiations February 15 and May 9. Our pledges may be considered to be well up to the high standards of Delta Sigma Pi.

Socially, we are holding a dance following our February initiation, and of course are now in the midst of selecting a Rose of Deltasig. There are other social affairs being considered, but as yet they have not come to the planning stage.

We can announce with pride that Brother Harry Pappas was one of two Arizonans chosen to represent our state in New York as guests of the Education Department of the National Association of Manufacturers.

Gamma Omega Chapter is happy to be a member of Delta Sigma Pi, and we hope to grow and prove our worth as time goes on.

—DAVID L. DUNNE

NORTHWESTERN—Beta

BETA CHAPTER of Northwestern University celebrated Founders' Day with a dinner meeting at Armando's to honor the occasion. A professional meeting was held the latter part of November and the guest speaker was Mr. Nathan B. Harrison. He is a sales representative for the Formfit Company and to highlight his talk many of the foundation garments he sells were on display. Another professional meeting was held in December with the speaker being Mr. Jack Mulholland, a spot-salesman for National Broadcasting Company television. He gave the assembled brothers and pledges an interesting insight into this dynamic industry. A discussion period followed and many of the present day television programs were elaborated from a technical standpoint by the speaker.

The chapter had a gay time during one of Beta Chapter open houses with the sisters of Chi Delta Alpha Sorority. In return the Chi Deltas had the Deltasigs over for a tree-trimming party and despite the cold weather, that kept some of the brothers from coming, the rest had a good time that evening. The chapter participated in its annual Christmas donation to two needy families by gathering food and toys together for two large Christmas baskets.

To further highlight this festive season, a tree-trimming party was held at the house with a grab bag providing many unusual gifts for those attending. Bob Lilly opened his fabulously decorated apartment to members and guests in another Christmas get-together. To enter the New Year with a bang, a costume party was given on that date with the unusual in attire being the rule. A three-piece band provided the musical background and a buffet supper served by caterers offered a rich repast.

The chapter would like to extend its congratulations to Head Master Bob Mocella on his being given the Commerce Club Award for being the outstanding graduating senior of his class. This should boost the chapter's scholarship rating in the Chapter Efficiency Contest and should set a good example for the rest of the brothers to follow. All brothers and pledges are eagerly looking forward to the formal and informal initiations to be held early in February. Members of the pledge class have been repeatedly tested on their knowledge of the fraternity and have also been closely observed in the relationship existing between them and the active brothers. Through the efforts of Junior Warden Shaner they should come through in fine shape.

Many plans have been made for professional and social activities for the spring semester and with the help of all brothers, Beta Chapter will again fulfill its role as an indispensable link in the chain of chapters of Delta Sigma Pi.—WAYNE P. HANSEN

WAYNE

GAMMA THETA CHAPTER at Wayne University took eight new members into the fold Saturday, January 5, 1952. We held our banquet at the Stockholm Restaurant in Detroit. The full active chapter plus 15 alumni were present. Also present were three professors of the university, who are alumni of Delta Sigma Pi.

The Gamma Theta Chapter and the Theta Chapter of the University of Detroit had a joint party. Theta Chapter gave the party and Gamma Theta Chapter has made arrangements to return the favor. The first party was a tremendous success and the second one is expected to be also.

Gamma Theta Chapter has held its "Rose" contest. We had many applicants for the contest and it was difficult to choose between them. The girl picked to be our "Rose" is a second semester freshman by the name of Gloria Binder. Her court has two girls, one a junior named Shirley Turner, the other a sophomore named Sue Gannon. All very pretty young ladies.

Two of the Deltasigs from Gamma Theta Chapter are vying for offices on the Student Council. Head Master John Karr is running for secretary and Chancellor Brad Brown is running for president. The last president of the Student Council was Robert L. Brown, past head master of our chapter.

The Deltasigs of the Gamma Theta Chapter are quite active in sports. In basketball we beat our arch rivals, another business fraternity, by a score of 34 to 25.

High Scorer was Brother Bob Peacock, who dumped in 17 points. We are also quite active in bowling. Each year we bowl the other fraternities on campus. Between one business fraternity and ourselves we have a trophy to bowl for. Since the trophy was initiated, Delta Sigma Pi has won it.

In the Chapter Efficiency Contest we are in third place. We intend to make this our fourth 100,000 point year since our chapter was founded.—DONALD R. CURTIN

PLEDGE SCHOLARSHIP AWARD of Psi Chapter at the University of Wisconsin is being presented to Richard Kwapil by the Dean of Men, T. W. Zillman, while Head Master Wojciechowski looks on. This award is given each semester to the outstanding pledge on the basis of scholarship and chapter activities.

mittee which did a fine job of face lifting on the house. All the members and many alumni attended the dance at which Janice Reukema was crowned "Rose of Deltasig." Everyone agreed that this was one of the social highlights of the year.

On January 7, 1952 in connection with a professional program T. W. Zillman, dean of men at the University of Wisconsin, presented Brother Kwapil with our pledge scholarship award. This award is made each semester to the outstanding pledge who was initiated the previous semester. A grade point average of better than two is required to be eligible, but all the men over two point are judged on the bases of service to the fraternity. Brother Kwapil qualified for the award with a two point three six grade point average, plus a fine record of activities in sports and social functions while a pledge. Now he is carrying on the fine work in the capacity of scribe after having served as publicity chairman for last semester.

Six new members were recently initiated into Psi Chapter thus bringing our active membership up to forty. The new men are: Brothers Johanning, Kircher, Ottusch, Schwartz, Vargulich and Woodruff. All was not play at the initiation, since the men painted the entrance hall to match the newly decorated living-room. This is one more step in the redecorating program here at the chapter house. Any gifts, of either furnishings or money to buy furnishings, from the alumni will be greatly appreciated by the chapter.

New officers who will carry on the work of the chapter next semester are: Brother Kells, head master; Brother Simkowski, senior warden; Brother Stoedefalke, junior warden; and Brother Kwapil, scribe. We know these men will do a fine job of carrying on the tradition of leadership here at Psi Chapter. To the retiring officers we say thanks for a job well done.

Mid-semester graduation here at the University of Wisconsin will claim five of our brothers: Borchardt, Navin, Perlwitz, Schneider and Vezina. These men have long been active in Psi Chapter and their counsel and experience have been valuable in getting through these last difficult years. As they leave the chapter to become, "Men of Commerce," we wish them success and good fortune, 132 Breese Terrace will always be open to them to return and share old times again.—

PAUL J. STROTENKE

MISSISSIPPI STATE

GAMMA DELTA CHAPTER held its first meeting of the year in its new chapter room on January 3. The room is still in the same building but is located on the north side of the ground floor. It is newly decorated which is an improvement on the old room.

On December 7, the chapter had a big barbecue for its Christmas party. The pledges and members both came and brought their dates. Frank Street, the social chairman, had everything planned out to a fine point. It was a real old-time barbecue with plenty of music for dancing, food to eat, and fellowship with each and every one. The chapter agreed that it was the best barbecue that any had ever had.

The past semester Gamma Delta Chapter had eight pledges finish their study of the history and organization of the Delta Sigma Pi just before the Christmas Holidays. These pledges, including Mr. W. W. Littlejohn, who is head of the accounting department at Mississippi State College, were initiated January 4 and 5.

Their initiation consisted of an informal on January 4 in the new chapter room. Then their formal initiation in the accounting laboratory in the Business Education Building on January 5. Then their initiation ended with a banquet in their honor, at the Mid-Way Tea Room with James D. Thomson, Assistant Grand Secretary-Treasurer of The Central Office, as guest of honor. The chapter was honored with 12 brothers from the Alpha Phi Chapter of the University of Mississippi, who enjoyed the filet mignon which was served at the banquet. The new members got off with a running start and have become valuable members of the chapter in this short length of time.

In the sports line, the chapter is planning to start teams in tennis, baseball, and volleyball which we are sure will be a success.—
FRANK McMURTRAY

IOWA

EPSILON CHAPTER held its winter formal dinner-dance in the Rose Room of the Hotel Jefferson, December 7. It was at this time that our "Rose of Deltasig," Joanne Vogt, was presented. Joanne is a junior from Springfield, Illinois, and is a member of Alpha Xi Delta sorority. Her attendants were Jan Haberly from New Hampton, Iowa, and Arden Cummings of Clinton, Iowa.

The night before their initiation the pledges gave a party for the actives at the Amvets Club. Thirty couples attended and a good time was had by all. The next morning, December 2, the 11 pledges were initiated into the fraternity. The ceremony was held in the Senate Chamber of Old Capitol. Following the initiation, a dinner was held in the Pine Room of Reich's Cafe. Plans are already under way for the beginning of another pledge class.

At a recent business meeting it was decided that the chapter would endorse the Red Cross blood campaign, and that as many of the brothers as possible should give blood. Brother Dick Stevens wrote an open letter to other organizations on campus, which was published on the front page of The Daily Iowan. We have been able to get a very large percentage of our membership to pledge to this very worthy cause, and it is our hope that similar groups will follow suit.

The "Unaccounted Four," a quartet composed of Brothers Kelley, Snyder, Hopewell, and Gift have been making quite a name for themselves on the local musical scene. They have performed at both our parties and those of other organizations, not to mention their professional appearances. Unfortunately, however, Brother Snyder is graduating next month, so they will be minus a tenor. I understand that applications are being accepted, and each is given careful consideration.

Led by that athletic virtuoso, Marv Strang, our heavyweight division basketball team is doing very well. They won their section and are now in the professional playoffs. The team has been minus the able assistance of Bob Newman who was injured in an early game. Brothers Dawson and Christy have been named players of the month. The lightweight team has not done quite so well, but then the season is still young.

We were pleased to find the chapter eighth highest in the current Chapter Efficiency Contest national standings. We ranked third in our Midwestern Region. With the several professional tours and numerous activities planned for the coming semester we should be able to go over the top.—JIM LAHEY

MARQUETTE

DELTA CHAPTER on the night of December 8, 1951, initiated 23 new active members into Delta Sigma Pi. The occasion was also memorable because Robert Busse, Regional Member of the Grand Council, came from Kalamazoo, Michigan, to be present. Brother Busse attended the formal banquet held at the Ambassador Hotel. Brother Busse also announced at the dinner that Delta Sigma Pi was now the largest professional fraternity in the country.

December 18, 1951, Delta Chapter held its second annual Christmas party for 40 orphans from St. Amelia's Orphanage in Milwaukee. They were treated with gifts from the members along with all the hot dogs, candy and cake they could eat. To top it off, Head Master Jerry Heller played Santa Claus. I sometimes wonder if some of the actives do not have more fun at a party of this nature than the orphans.

Delta Chapter, as of the latest standings, ranks second in the Chapter Efficiency Contest. Just a warning for the chapter in first place: "It will be Delta Chapter in '52." Also during the month of December, the alumni held a Christmas party at the VFW Post. True to form every one had a very enjoyable time. The professional activities during the last semester were very educational. In the near future Mr. John Petersen, an attorney, will speak on "How to Think About Politics and Politicians." Truly a fine subject during an election year.

Now a quick look at the sports picture. Delta Chapter, after a fast start in football, was stalled due to the large amount of snow. This forced the team into inactivity. Bowling and volley-ball are still in progress with chances of our coming out on top. Basketball is the next on the agenda and Delta Chapter will have one of its best teams in years.—
ROBERT J. MILLER.

RUTGERS—Beta Omicron

ON SEPTEMBER 11, 1951, Beta Omicron Chapter at the Rutgers University School of Business Administration vacated its quarters at Saybrook Place and subsequently moved to the St. Regis Building where it is better able to pursue its varied activities. We, the actives of the chapter, feel that the transfer was made to the best of our interests insofar as our actions do not conflict with or in any way hinder those of our neighbor tenants.

In recognition of the birthright of Delta Sigma Pi, our chapter again celebrated Founders' Day on November 11. The Formal's highlight was the selecting of the "Rose." After much deliberation the judges, consisting of faculty members, chose Mrs. Virginia Hart, wife of Alfred Hart, as our entry to the national contest. To facilitate a furtherance of better relations among the several fraternities represented at the School, we invited Sigma Beta Chi to our Inter-Fraternity Party which we held on November 28, 1951. Our interest in inter-fraternity activities is becoming increasingly evident through the attainment of the presidency and treasurer's position in the Inter-Fraternity Council by Frank Oliver and Donald Guerin. Our participation in inter-fraternity sports has won for us the circulating trophy for the outstanding athlete.

THE CROWNING OF THE 1951 "Rose of Deltasig," Miss Bobbie Webb by Sam Cobb, Head Master of Gamma Mu Chapter of Tulane University at that time.

Opening the new year of 1952 was the staging of the mock initiation on January 11 in the Green Room of the new chapter house and the Formal Initiation held in the Rutgers Room at the Military Park Hotel on January 19.

An event of great concern to us was the leaving of seven actives who will work as interns during their accounting dropout programs. Their going has greatly reduced our number in the chapter but with the influx of the newly initiated it is hoped that their temporary absence will not be detrimental to the proper functioning and perpetuation of our chapter.—LOTHAR JACOBSEN

MIAMI U.

ALPHA UPSILON CHAPTER of Miami University was highly honored by a visit from H. C. Wright, Grand Secretary-Treasurer, on November 28, 1951. Brother Wright addressed the fraternity at a luncheon given in his honor at the College Inn in Oxford, Ohio. In his address Brother Wright emphasized the distinction between a professional fraternity and general and honorary fraternities and dwelt at length on the activities and position of Delta Sigma Pi as a professional fraternity.

On the evening of December 3, the fraternity held a field trip to the Fisher Body Plant of General Motors in Hamilton, Ohio. In this plant the fraternity saw the largest body stamping machine in the world and were fortunate to see a preview of the 1952 Chevrolet and Pontiac bodies. On December 11, the fraternity held a field trip to the Joseph Seagrams Distilleries in Lawrenceberg, Indiana. The brothers were taken throughout the plant and shown the various processes involved in distilled whiskey. The Department of Internal Revenue even permitted them to visit and inspect the warehouses. The trip concluded at the bottling plant where the brothers had the pleasure of having two Miami graduates escort them on a tour of the bottling works.

The fall initiation was held at Harrison Hall on the campus of Miami University on December 13 at 5:30 P.M. Later that evening, the initiation banquet was held in the Zebra Room of Mac N'Joes in Oxford, Ohio. The new initiates were introduced and the keeper of the Parchment roll was elected during the proceedings. Professor Joseph Mayer, head of the economics department at Miami and a faculty initiate of the chapter, gave the principal address of the evening. In his address, Dr. Mayer stated that, "Honesty and fair play are the keynote of success and respect in the business world."

The fraternity is concluding its semester activities with a luncheon January 17, and as the highlight of this meeting, they will hear the recording of Brother Ben Wooten's inspiring speech in Dallas.—WILLIAM E. ROMAN

MISSISSIPPI

TWENTY MEN in the University of Mississippi School of Commerce and Business Administration were initiated January 6, 1952, into Alpha Phi Chapter of Delta Sigma Pi. The new initiates were pledged to the fraternity last October.

Alpha Phi Chapter was very happy to have as our guest for the initiation, Assistant Grand Secretary-Treasurer Jim Thomson of Chicago, who helped us welcome the new initiates into the fraternity. Brother Thomson was given a small Confederate flag "to make his travel about the South easier." Delegations from Gamma Zeta Chapter at Memphis State, Gamma Delta Chapter at Mississippi State and the Memphis Alumni Club also attended the initiation ceremonies. The initiation banquet was attended by about 65 brothers—one of the largest crowds ever to attend an Alpha Phi Chapter initiation banquet.

Members of Alpha Phi Chapter have been bragging lately about our new "Rose of Deltasig," attractive Jo Ann Turner, a sophomore from Yazoo City, Mississippi. Jo Ann was chosen from among three candidates, who were selected from 15 girls recommended to the chapter by a special committee. The announcement of the name of the new "Rose" was kept secret until the night of our annual "Rose" ball, held January 11 at the Community House at Oxford. Our new "Rose" is also "Miss Hospitality" for the state of Mississippi; and during the past months has made several good-will tours around the nation. The chapter has received much publicity in newspapers all over the state concerning our new "Rose."

The 1952 "Rose of Deltasig" was presented an engraved gold loving-cup and a bouquet of one dozen American beauty roses by head master Mike Isom. Each of the two "Buds" were given a bouquet of six red roses and a leather Delta Sigma Pi address book, complete with the name and address of each member of the chapter.

At this writing Alpha Phi Chapter is making definite plans for the annual Commerce Day, sponsored jointly by the School of Commerce and Business Administration and Alpha Phi Chapter. Billy Berry is chairman of the Commerce Day committee. Commerce Day, during which all classes are suspended in the School of Commerce and Business Administration, will most likely be held during March or the first of April. If past experience and advance planning are any indication, Commerce Day 1952 should be another outstanding success.—ABE M. TAHIR, JR.

MICHIGAN STATE

ON JANUARY 12, 13 men were initiated into Gamma Kappa Chapter at the union building on the campus. After "help week" and an evening of good fun on the eve of initiation day, the pledges fared well thru the ordeals of final initiation and immediately became an active integrated part of our chapter. Speaking of "help week," Delta Sigma Pi was the first fraternity on this campus to instigate such a diversion from the previously traditional hell week. Other fraternities have followed suit and soon we hope that all fraternities will put this purposeful cause into effect. Included in the 13 men initiated was Dean H. J. Wyngarden, dean of the School of Business and Public Service. Dean R. A. Stevenson, who is dean of the same school at the University of Michigan and also a brother of some 32 years, was the principal speaker. Bob Busse, Grand Council Member, was also in attendance and told us of the tremendous advance and progress that Delta Sigma Pi is making. He reported that we are now the largest professional fraternity in the world. It was good to see Bob and his wife Dottie again and also we were honored that Dean Stevenson could be in attendance as Dean Wyngarden became a brother of Delta Sigma Pi.

There has been little activity other than our initiation since the last issue of THE DELTASIG came out for it has been vacation time and the boys were home for almost a month. However we are now back in the swing of things and our professional and social activities are being planned. The main event of the term is the "Rose of Deltasig" dance next month. Social Chairman Dick Bartlett says this year's dance will be the biggest ever.—LEROY REID

MISSISSIPPI SOUTHERN

THE PAST FEW WEEKS have been memorable ones for Gamma Tau Chapter here at Mississippi Southern College. On November 19, 1951, we initiated 18 pledges into Delta Sigma Pi. This was our second initiation since our installation in December, 1950. Those being initiated were Damon Ball, Bill Bass, Joseph Boardeman, Elmer Brewer, Lamar Britton, Philip Brown, Wesley Gray, Bob Hicks, William Hill, Conway Jackson, Francis Lundy, James Madison, H. L. Maxey, Tommy Munroe, Don Simmons, Jake Thrash, Jack Vollmer, and Roddy Woods. The traditional initiation banquet was held that night and delicious steaks were enjoyed by all. The new members were welcomed by Head Master Al Harkins, W. B. Harlan our faculty advisor, and J. A. Green and C. R. Crites other faculty members. Francis Lundy was then elected Keeper of the Parchment roll.

We wish to extend our congratulations to Brother Murphy Trahan, our Head Master. In November he became the proud father of a son, Murphy, Jr.

Our first meeting of the new year featured the recorded speech of Brother Ben H. Wooten made at the Convention in Dallas. The speech was very inspiring, and was enjoyed by all those present. Another event of great importance to our chapter was the visit made on January 11, 1952, by Assistant Grand Secretary-Treasurer J. D. Thomson. A banquet was held in his honor with Mr. Henry Holfeld, purchasing agent for Fowler Butane Gas Company, as the guest speaker.

We are now entering the season of intramural basketball. We are expecting a good season for our team. Plans are now being made for a field trip to New Orleans in the near future. We are planning to tour the Gulf Oil Refinery there. We are looking forward to the year 1952 as a really great year for Gamma Tau Chapter, and hope it will be the best for Delta Sigma Pi.—WYNDELL A. VARNER

OMAHA

GAMMA ETA CHAPTER'S Christmas party and dance on December 15 was well attended by chapter members and alumni despite the cold and stormy winter weather Omaha was experiencing at that time. We were forced, however, to postpone our industrial tour scheduled for December 14 in the afternoon because of the sudden and deep snow that came the night before.

Our professional program is progressing very nicely thus far. Our speakers have been most interesting and educational. On December 12, Mr. John Henry, manager of the Omaha Better Business Bureau gave us some idea of the adverse business practices that are being attempted by some business men. In November, our guest speaker was Mr. R. S. Johnston, manager of The Credit Bureau of Omaha, Inc. Mr. Johnston gave a highly informative talk on the operation of a credit bureau and credit extension. Mr. Ray Gilbreath, manager of the Omaha office of the New York Life Insurance Co., was our January speaker. He spoke of the personal qualities that are helpful to college graduates who are entering the business world.

We are expecting to initiate ten new brothers at a formal initiation at the Fontenelle Hotel on Sunday, February 24. The informal initiation will take place Saturday evening, February 23, followed by a "Be Kind to Actives Week." Our new members should turn out to be intelligent and alert young men due to the training given them by Avery Hiddleston and Clayton Christensen.—CHARLES A. GOTTULA

LOUISIANA STATE

SHORTLY AFTER NOON on Wednesday, January 9, J. D. Thomson, our Assistant Grand Secretary-Treasurer, arrived in Baton Rouge to visit Beta Zeta Chapter. We were very happy to have him with us on the day of our initiation, as his pleasing personality and able guidance are always appreciated. At four that afternoon we held our initiation in the Panhellenic Building on the campus, initiating the following men: Jack Bartlett, Paul Brown, Ed Jolly, Jack Markey, Homer McBride, Henry McMahon, Al Peralta, Nick Velchhoff, and Carl Walker.

At 7:30 we held our initiation banquet at La Tropicana with Dean James B. Trant of the College of Commerce as our guest speaker. He spoke on "The Place of a Professional Fraternity on the Campus," emphasizing the importance of the fraternity and the dean working in unison to aid the entire college. He also mentioned how important it is to make lasting friends during your college career. The dean's excellent wit and humor fill his speeches and put him in constant demand as a speaker. We always feel very fortunate to have him address us. Brother Thomson made a brief talk which was an inspiration to us all.

At our next meeting we are to choose our "Rose." This is always a heated contest here at Louisiana State University; and with all these southern belles to choose from it will be interesting to see who is the winner.

Beta Zeta Chapter took an active part in the campus Community Chest Drive, with several of our brothers making an excellent attempt to raise funds for a worthy cause. At present we are trying to locate all our alumni who live in Washington, D.C., so that they may become affiliated with the active alumni club there.—H. B. CONNER, JR.
